

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

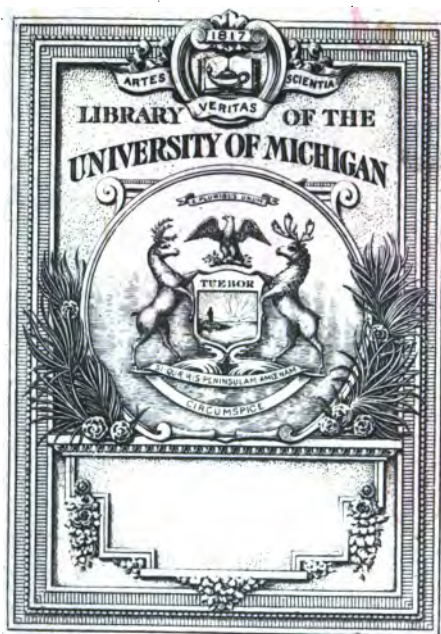

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

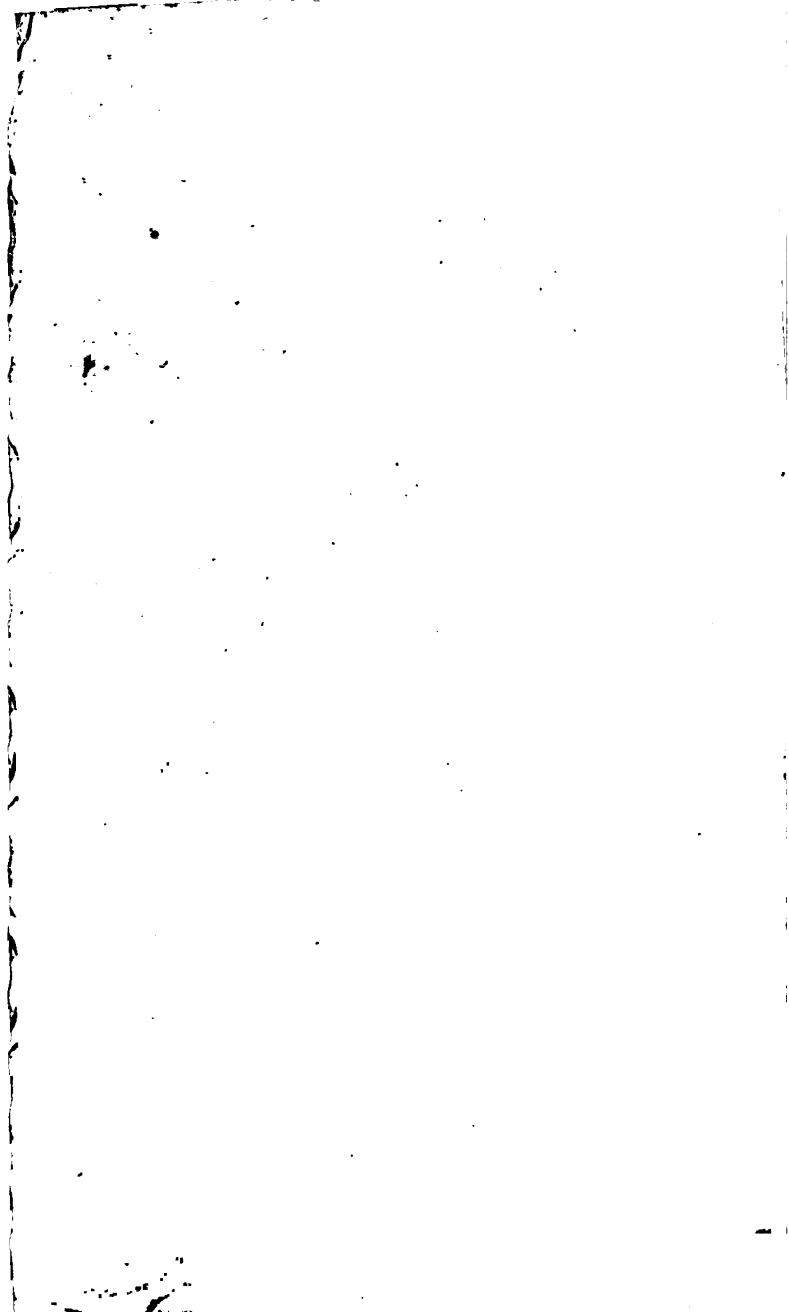

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE OXFORD TEN-YEAR BOOK is the complement of the OXFORD UNIVERSITY CALENDAR in its present form; but it is also something more. Besides the Class Lists, and the several catalogues of University Officers, Heads of Houses, Professors, Prize-Men, and others whose academical distinctions have hitherto been recorded in the Calendar, it contains an Index, which brings together into one view all such distinctions of every person whose name occurs in the book.

This Index extends to 150 pages, and comprises nearly 15,000 items; so that, even if the time required for its arrangement were compatible with an annual publication, its bulk must have prevented it from being added to the Calendar.

The increase in the number of Schools renders this Index each year more necessary. It is impossible with any degree of satisfaction, even after much expenditure of time, to discover whether a man has distinguished himself in the Schools or not. The year of his degree is given in the Calendar, but this gives no further clue than it is probably in one or other of the Class Lists of that year, or of the previous year, that his name occurs. Even then the information is only partial: to ascertain the Scholarships, Prizes, &c., which he may have taken, many long lists have to be examined; all this is by the Index obviated.

THE OXFORD UNIVERSITY CALENDAR was first published in 1810, without the names of the undergraduates, and bore upon its title-page the names of J. Cooke, J. Parker, and J. Munday. During the years 1811 and 1812 its publication was discontinued, but it reappeared in 1813, since which time it has continued to be issued regularly by Mr. Parker and Mr. Munday, and their successors respectively, to 1871, a period of fifty-nine years. In 1872 the control over the work passed into the hands of the Delegates of the University Press, and the Calendar is therefore now published officially.

In the first issue of the TEN-YEAR BOOK, the Class Lists, as they had appeared in successive Calendars, were from the commencement collated with the authentic Registers of the Schools; and a vast number of errors, some of which were very serious, which had from time to time crept in, were carefully corrected. Much care was also given to the revision of all the other lists. But in so large a multitude of names, with dates ranging over little less than five centuries, it is not to be supposed that no mistake has been made.

The information, however, in the TEN-YEAR BOOK, as will be seen, extends much farther back than the earliest Calendar issued, and contains matter which has never appeared in any of the series.

OXFORD,
October, 1872.

The Oxford Ten-year Book.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD.

THE University of Oxford is a corporate body, known for ages by the style or title of The Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford; a title confirmed by the Legislature itself in the reign of Elizabeth^a. Its ancient privileges have been recognised and augmented by a long succession of Royal Charters from the earliest period; and these Charters themselves have been sanctioned by Parliament^b; for in an Act, intituled "An Act for the Incorporation of the two Universities," it is expressly declared, that all Letters Patent of preceding Sovereigns granted to the University of Oxford "shall be good, effectual, and available in law, according to the form, words, sentences, and true meaning of every of the same Letters Patent, as amply, fully, and largely, as if the same Letters Patent were recited verbatim" in the Act itself.

With the exception of rare interventions on the part of the Crown, and of one recent interference on a large scale by Act of Parliament^c, the University has always been governed by statutes of its own making. In the course of centuries, such statutes, made from time to time, as occasions seemed to call for them, without sufficient reference to previous enactments, grew into a confused mass without order or arrangement, with which many of the usages of the University were at variance. Many attempts were made to ^a "Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this present Parliament, that the Right Honourable Robert Earl of Leicester, now Chancellor of the said University of Oxford, and his successors for ever, and the Masters and Scholars of the same University of Oxford for the time being, shall be incorporate and have a perpetual succession in fact, deed, and name, in the name of The Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford; and that the same Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the same University for the time being from henceforth by the name of The Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, and by none other name or names, shall be called and named for evermore." Stat. 13 Eliz. c. 20.

^b Ibid.

^c The Oxford University Act, 1854; stat. 17 and 18 Vict., c. 81.

remedy this evil, and at length in the Chancellorship of Archbishop Laud a digested code of laws, compiled by special delegates, was ratified by Convocation under the title of Corpus Statutorum Universitatis Oxoniensis, which is the basis of the present Statute-book.

From the completion of the Laudian code in 1636 to the passing of the Act for reforming the University in 1854, and even before that period, the University effected its legislation, and transacted the whole of its business as a corporation, in two distinct assemblies, the HOUSES OF CONGREGATION and OF CONVOCATION.

The HOUSE OF CONGREGATION consists wholly of Regents, whether "necessario regentes" or "regentes ad placitum." All Doctors of every faculty, and all Masters of Arts, are necessary regents for the space of two years after their admission to regency, that is, for two years from the end of the Term in which they are admitted to their respective degrees, Easter and Act Terms being counted as one. Persons of the following descriptions, being members of Convocation, are regents ad placitum: all Professors; all Doctors of every faculty resident in the University; all Heads of Colleges and Halls, or, in their absence, their deputies; the Masters of the Schools; and the Deans or Censors of Colleges. The term regent imports government or superintendence in the Public Schools of the University over the disputations and other academical exercises which in ancient times were performed there. Necessary regents were bound in rotation, regents ad placitum were at liberty when they pleased, to superintend those exercises, and to examine candidates for degrees. The House of Congregation therefore comprises all those persons who in ancient times were specially charged with the education and discipline of the University, whether in public, or within the several Colleges and Halls.

The HOUSE OF CONVOCATION consists both of Regents and Non-Regents, that is, of all persons who have been admitted to regency, provided that, from the time of their admission to the degree which made them regents, their names have been constantly kept on the books of some College or Hall, and that they have borne all burdens and paid all fees required of them by the Statutes. Masters of Arts and Doctors, who, having ceased to be members of the University, have had their names again placed upon the books of some College or Hall, or who have been incorporated from Cambridge or Dublin, may, after the performance of certain conditions, claim to be admitted to the House; but no such person is entitled to vote in Convocation before the expiration of one hundred and eighty days from the time of his admission. The same rule applies to those who have been admitted to the degree of Master of Arts or Doctor in any of the three faculties by Diploma or by Decree of Convocation; but a degree merely honorary, being conferred "honoris causa" only, conveys no right of voting.

The Chancellor, or the Vice-Chancellor, or one of his four deputies, and the two Proctors, or their respective deputies, preside in both Houses; and their presence in them on all occasions is indispensably requisite. The number of regents required to make a Congregation is nine at the least, besides the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors: for a Convocation no particular number of members is required. In both Houses the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor singly, and the two Proctors jointly, have the right to stop all matters, except elections, by an absolute negative: otherwise every question is decided by the majority of votes.

For the better government of the University, a sort of Council, devised probably by Archbishop Laud, was instituted in 1631 by King Charles I. It consisted of the Heads of Houses and the Proctors, and, from being appointed to hold a weekly meeting every Monday, became known by the name of the HEBDOMADAL BOARD; but it was convened by the Vice-Chancellor on other days also, as occasion required. The business of this Board was to deliberate on all matters relating to the maintenance of the privileges and liberties of the University, or to the due observance of its statutes and customs, and generally to consider and discuss every measure tending to the improvement or benefit of the University before such measure should be submitted for the approval of the whole academical body in Convocation assembled. It thus had the initiative in all the legislation of the University, and in fact no question of any sort could be submitted to the votes of Convocation without the sanction of this Board.

In this constitution of the University the Act of Parliament of 1854 made a considerable change. It left indeed, at least it has been interpreted as having left, the two ancient assemblies of Congregation and Convocation: but it added a third, which is now called, in the terms of the Act, the CONGREGATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD; and it transferred all the "powers, privileges, and functions" of the old Hebdomadal Board to another body of persons, called the HEBDOMADAL COUNCIL.

A Register of the persons of whom this new CONGREGATION consists is made and published by the Vice-Chancellor every year before the 25th day of September. It comprises certain official persons, and all those members of Convocation who resided within one mile and a-half of Carfax for twenty weeks during the year which ended on the first day of September last. The Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor, with the Proctors, preside at its meetings, as in the two ancient Houses. No particular number of members is requisite to make a meeting.

The HEBDOMADAL COUNCIL consists of some official and some elected members. The official members are the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, the late Vice-Chancellor, and the two Proctors. The elected members are six Heads of Colleges or Halls, six Professors, and six other members of Convocation, who however may be Heads of Houses or Professors, and the six Professors may be Heads of Houses. These persons are elected by the Congregation of the University of Oxford for six years, in such a manner that one-half of each of the three classes vacate their seats every three years, being, however, capable of re-election. To this Council, as has been stated above, "all powers, privileges, and functions possessed or exercised by the Hebdomadal Board" have been transferred, and therefore it has the initiative in all the legislation of the University.

The ancient HOUSE OF CONGREGATION has now nothing to do with legislation in any form, and its business is confined almost exclusively to the granting of degrees, a matter upon which in ancient times the persons of whom the House is composed were necessarily the fittest judges⁴. When a student has passed all the Examinations, kept all the Terms, and reached the Standing required by the statutes, and has obtained the grace, or permission, of his own College or Hall, it is still necessary for him to supplicate the grace of this House in order to his admission to any degree. And, when a supplicat (as it is called) is read out, every member of the House has the power to suspend the granting of the grace three times, in three distinct Congregations, without giving any reason for his negative; but after the third refusal he is required to state privately to the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors the ground and proof of his objection, which are to be submitted to the judgment of the whole House at the next Congregation without any publication of the objector's name, and the question is then decided by a majority of votes, unless the Vice-Chancellor singly, or the two Proctors jointly, should interpose the negative which is allowed to them officially on every matter proposed in Congregation. Should the grace be thus refused the fourth time, a full year must pass before the candidate may apply for it again. The actual suspension of a grace, however, is a thing now almost unknown, but the threat of it is said to be sometimes employed in order to compel payment of debts.

⁴ The framers of the Act of 1854 certainly intended that the old Congregation should be superseded by the new, which, as the Bill was first drawn, was to consist of those persons only who in these days are engaged in the discipline and education of the University, just as the ancient House is composed of those only who in ancient times were charged with that discipline and education. But in the House of Commons an outcry was raised against this restriction as illiberal, and the minister who had charge of the Bill consented to admit into the new assembly all resident Members of Convocation. And, shortly after the passing of the Act, a legal opinion was given by a lawyer of great eminence, that it did not abolish the old House of Congregation.

The business of the new CONGREGATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD, on the other hand, is confined almost exclusively to matters of legislation. When the Hebdomadal Council has framed any new Statute, it must first be promulgated, after due notice, in this assembly, and the question that the principle of the Statute as stated in the Preamble be approved must then be submitted to Congregation. Any members of Congregation may propose amendments at the time of promulgation; and such amendments, provided that they have been seconded by another member of Congregation, and that they are not in the judgment of the Chancellor or his Deputy inconsistent with or irrelevant to the principle of the Statute as stated in the Preamble, must be printed and taken into consideration at a subsequent meeting of Congregation. The Council may at the same time and on the same paper print any amendments which they may think fit to propose. If any such amendments, whether proposed by the Council or by individual members of Congregation, are adopted by Congregation, it is in the power of either the Council or any twelve members of Congregation to propose further amendments. If no amendment be proposed, or when all the proposed amendments and further amendments, if any, have been considered in Congregation, the question that the Statute do pass is submitted to Congregation on a subsequent day, of which not less than three clear days' notice must be given. Whenever it may seem expedient to the Council, resolutions containing the chief points of a proposed Statute may be submitted to Congregation before the Statute itself is framed: and in event of such Resolutions being approved, Congregation may refer them to a select Committee for the purpose of drawing up a Statute. No right of negative is allowed to the Vice-Chancellor or the Proctors in this assembly, but every question is decided by the majority of votes. A Statute approved by Congregation is to be submitted to Convocation after an interval of seven entire days for final adoption or rejection.

In the HOUSE OF CONVOCATION, consisting (as may be said) of all Masters of Arts and all Doctors of the three superior faculties who have their names upon the books of some College or Hall, every formal act of the University, and all its business as a corporate body, except only what relates to the granting of ordinary degrees, is done and concluded. Statutes, which have passed Congregation, do not become binding enactments until they have had the assent of this assembly. Matters of special or individual concern, and such as require immediate provision, are settled by Decree of Convocation. Honorary Degrees are given by consent of Convocation, and it is in this House also that eminent persons occasionally receive degrees conferred out of the ordinary course either by Decree or by Diploma. Petitions to Parliament, and other documents which require the common seal of the University for their validity, here receive the sanction of the academical body. No proposition, however, whether general or special, can originate in Convocation itself, either as a substantive measure, or as an amendment to such a measure: nothing is brought forward here but what has been devised and approved by the Hebdomadal Council; and Convocation has only to accept it in the very terms in which it is proposed, or to reject it altogether.

It is in Convocation also that nearly all elections to offices in the gift of the University take place. Elections of Burgesses are conducted according to the provisions of Acts of Parliament; of which one, passed in 1853, limits the time for polling to the period of five days at the most, and the latest, in 1861, allows members of Convocation to vote by means of voting-papers without being personally present at the poll. All other elections also, of Professors, Officers of the University, Clerks for presentation to Benefices, or other persons, are made by means of voting-papers, but each voter must deliver his own paper at the table. At these elections the Vice-Chancellor presides, and the two Proctors are scrutators. First, the Act 31 Eliz. c. 6, and the Statute of the University concerning elections are first read; and then the voters hand in their papers. When the poll begins to slacken, three proclamations are made at short intervals; and at length, when no more voters come forward, the votes are cast up by the Proctors, and the election is pronounced.

For the better management of certain matters, chiefly matters of administration or detail, Convocation often delegates its authority, or some limited portion of it, to a committee chosen from itself; and the persons selected for such committee are called Delegates. Thus there are standing Delegacies of Accounts, of the Press, of Privileges; and others are appointed occasionally to carry up addresses to the Throne, or for the transaction of business away from Oxford. These Delegates are either elected or approved by Convocation, or are at least nominated by the Proctors in Convocation. But of late years Delegacies have been constituted with whose election or approval Convocation has nothing to do. There is a Delegacy of the Museum, of which two-thirds are elected by the Congregation of the University, the other third being the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors; and a Delegacy of Local Examinations, of which (besides the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors) one-third is nominated by the Hebdomadal Council from itself, one-third by the Congregation of the University, and one-third by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors privately. And it has been provided by statute, that, of extraordinary Delegates appointed for the conduct of business within the precinct of the University, one-third is to be elected by the Hebdomadal Council from its own body, the Council itself having been elected by the Congregation of the University.

OFFICERS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

THE CHANCELLOR.

The CHANCELLOR of the University of Oxford is elected by the Members of Convocation, and (unless he resigns in the meantime) holds the office until death. Anciently this office was holden for very short periods, seldom for more than four years, and for the most part by some resident member of the University, until the Chancellorship of John Russell, Bishop of Lincoln, who was elected in 1483, and retained it till his death in 1494. No stipend is assigned to it: on the contrary, the custom of many years has entailed expenses on its holder.

HIGH STEWARD.

The Seneschallus, or HIGH STEWARD, is appointed by the Chancellor, and approved by Convocation. His special duty is to hear and determine criminal causes of the gravest kind, such as treason and felony, at the mandate of the Chancellor, and according to the laws of the land and the privileges of the University, whenever the prisoner is a scholar or privileged person resident within the precinct of the University. The office is holden for life. There is also a Deputy Steward, appointed in like manner. The ancient stipend of the High Steward is £5 a-year; the Deputy Steward has £2.

The privilege of having such criminal causes tried by an Officer of the University was first granted by Henry IV in 1406; and, although the language of his charter is quite consistent with the supposition that the office of High Steward was in existence previously, there is no record to shew that it really did exist before that time. Indeed the Registers of the University supply no name of any High Steward for nearly fifty years afterwards; and the years in which five of the persons in the following list entered upon the office are not ascertained.

High Stewards.

- 1453 John Norrys, Esquire of the Body to King Henry VI.

 1859 HENRY HOWARD MOLYNEUX HERBERT, EARL OF CARNARVON, B.A. of Ch. Ch.; D.C.L.

VICE-CHANCELLOR.

THE Chancellors from the earliest times, even when they were still resident in the University, were assisted in the administration of justice and in the discharge of other business by Deputies, whose number varied, and who perhaps were often appointed for special purposes rather than for definite periods of time. These Officers were for the most part called Commissaries; till in the middle of the sixteenth century the title Pro-Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor began to be employed, the latter of which, from the year 1574, has quite superseded the ancient name. The Commissaries appear to have been always nominated by the Chancellors, except for the few years during which the Edwardine Statutes, given by the King's Visitors in 1549, were in full force. In 1568 the Earl of Leicester set aside the right of free election, which those statutes had vested in the House of Congregation, and resumed the ancient practice. The office seems to have become annual in the earlier part of the sixteenth century.

Under the Laudian Statutes the VICE-CHANCELLOR is annually nominated by the Chancellor from the Heads of Colleges. The Letters of nomination are read in Convocation, shortly before the beginning of Michaelmas Term, by the Senior Proctor, and the new Vice-Chancellor then immediately makes the requisite declarations, and enters upon his office. The Vice-Chancellor appoints four deputies, or Pro-Vice-Chancellors, from the Heads of Colleges, who are to exercise his power in case of his illness or necessary absence from the University. The office of late has been generally holden for four years.

A small portion of the annual benefaction of £200, bequeathed to the University by Nathaniel Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham, who died in 1772, and also a small benefaction from Sir Henry Saville, was assigned to the Vice-Chancellor; and a bequest of John Wills, D.D., Warden of Wadham College, who died in 1806, produced the sum of £6400 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for the endowment of the office. Under a Statute, which was passed in 1855, the annual income is made up to £600 from the University Chest.

PROCTORS.

The two PROCTORS of the University were elected anciently in Convocation; but, the elections having become very tumultuous, the method was changed by an ordinance of King Charles I., and from the year 1629 the choice was made within the several Colleges according to a cycle of twenty-three years, which lasted through ten revolutions. In 1859 a new cycle of thirty years began, adapted to the existing condition of the Colleges, and comprising with them the Halls jointly. The electors now are all those members of the several Societies who, being Members of Convocation, are also, or have at any time been, Members of the Congregation of the University, and all those Fellows and Scholars of a College who are Members of Convocation. Any such elector may be elected to the office, provided he has completed four and has not completed fifteen years from his admission to Regency in Arts. The election is made on the Wednesday after the first Sunday in Lent; and on the second (or occasionally on the first) Wednesday after Easter the new Proctors are admitted to their offices in Convocation, and take their seats. They nominate each two Masters of Arts, of three years' standing at the least, to be their respective deputies or Pro-Proctors. Each Proctor receives an annual stipend of £350, each Pro-Proctor £80.

ASSESSOR OF THE CHANCELLOR'S COURT.

The Chancellor has jurisdiction in almost all causes, whether civil, spiritual, or criminal, in which scholars or privileged persons resident within the precinct of the University are parties. For the exercise of it a Court is holden every Friday during Term in the Apodyterium of the Convocation House, in which the Vice-Chancellor is the presiding Judge, and the two Proctors of the University may, if they please, sit as assessors. But for the better despatch of business the Vice-Chancellor appoints some Doctor or Bachelor of Civil Law to sit with him as Assessor and to act as Judge for him in his absence. The annual stipend of such Assessor is £40. The practice of the Court in all cases used to be nearly the same as the practice of the Court of Admiralty: but by new Rules, made in pursuance of the Act 25 and 26 Vict. c. 26, s. 12, the form of procedure in civil cases, since March 1, 1865, very much resembles the form in County Courts. Appeals from it may be made, first to the House of Congregation, then to the House of Convocation, (for which purpose Delegates to hear appeals are annually appointed in each House,) and finally, if the three judgments differ, to the Queen in Chancery.

The Registrar of the Court is appointed by the Chancellor. He must be a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law. Besides the duty of registering the several Acts and Orders of the Court, it is part of his office to attend at and to record the admissions of Principals to the several Halls, and to perform all manner of business, whether of contentious or voluntary jurisdiction, arising from the authority of the Chancellor.

Proctors ad lites, three in number at the least, who must be Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law, or else either Barristers or Attorneys at Law, are appointed and admitted by the Vice-Chancellor to practise in the Court.

Assessors from the year 1766.

- 1766 Robert Chambers, B.C.L., Fellow of University and Vinerian Professor of Common Law; Principal of New Inn Hall; afterwards Chief Justice of Bengal
 1773 John Cox, B.C.L., St. Mary Hall
 1798 George Lethicullier Schoen, D.C.L., St. John's
 1801 James Blackstone, D.C.L., Fellow of All Souls; Principal of New Inn Hall
 1812 John David Macbride, D.C.L., sometime Fellow of Exeter; Principal of Magdalen Hall, and the Lord Almoner's Professor of Arabic
 1840 John Robert Kenyon, D.C.L., Fellow of All Souls; Vinerian Professor of Common Law
 1859 MOUNTAGUE BERNARD, B.C.L., All Souls, Chichele Professor of International Law and Diplomacy; afterwards Member of Her Majesty's Most Hon. Privy Council, and D.C.L.

PUBLIC ORATOR.

The office of Public Orator was first permanently established in 1564, the previous custom being that the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor selected some fit person on each occasion to perform the duties attached to it. It is his business to write letters and addresses and to make orations in the name of the University upon public occasions, to present those on whom the honorary degree of Master of Arts is to be conferred, and to deliver the annual Creweian Oration alternately with the Professor of Poetry. He is one of those appointed to adjudge several of the University Prizes. He must be a Member of Convocation, and is elected by that body. The stipend originally assigned to the office was a yearly pension of twenty nobles, £6 13s. 4d., from the University Chest; which was increased in 1811 by a grant of £70, and again in 1866 by a still further grant of £60, making a total of £130 from the same source, and by £20 from Lord Crewe's benefaction.

In 1635 King Charles I. annexed a Canonry of Christ Church to this office: but the grant, never having been confirmed by Act of Parliament, was disregarded in 1660, when Robert South was elected Orator ; and, although he was made a Canon ten years afterwards, that dignity has not been conferred on any of his successors.

CLERKS OF THE MARKET.

Control of the Market, in order to secure fair dealing in provisions of all kinds, was granted to the Chancellor by King Edward III. in 1355. In the days when prices were fixed by authority it was the Chancellor who fixed them in Oxford; and whatever jurisdiction in such matters can now be exercised by magistrates anywhere is exercised by the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor here. Two Clerks of the Market are annually appointed, one by the Chancellor, the other by the Vice-Chancellor. They must be either Principals of Halls, Masters of Arts, or Bachelors of Divinity, Medicine, or Law. There is also a Deputy Clerk.

KEEPER OF THE ARCHIVES.

This office was instituted in 1634. It is the Keeper's duty to take charge of and to arrange all the muniments and papers concerning either the Estates, Possessions, Rights, and Privileges of the University, or the Endowments of Professorships, and all the Registers and Records of the University. He is a Delegate of Privileges ex officio. He is elected by Convocation. The yearly stipend of the office, originally £40, was raised in 1828 to £100.

Mary Hall
- 1857 JOHN GRIFFITHS, M.A., sometime Fellow of Wadham.

PUBLIC EXAMINERS.

The office of PUBLIC EXAMINER was instituted at the beginning of the present century, when the great change was made in the system of examination for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts. The number of Examiners has varied considerably, and their duties have not been uniform. Until Michaelmas Term 1807 there were six Examiners: then to the end of the year 1824 there were four: and during the whole of this period each Examiner was appointed to examine in Mathematics as well as in Classics. In 1825 the number was increased to nine, and they were divided between two Schools, six for Classics only, and three for Mathematics only. With the beginning of 1831 came another change. The number was reduced to seven, four in Classics, three in Mathematics; all the seven were required to take part in the examination of those Candidates who did not aim at Honours in Classics; and then the Candidates for Honours were examined in separate Schools by the two sets of Examiners respectively. This arrangement lasted until the year 1853, since which time other changes have occurred, which are described further on, in the article upon "Examinations and Exercises for Degrees."

The names of the Examiners from the year 1807 onwards are printed at the foot of the several Class Lists. The names for the first six years are given in the following list.

MASTERS OF THE SCHOOLS.

There have been MASTERS OF THE SCHOOLS from a very remote antiquity, in early times to supervise the Schools of the Grammarians, afterwards to preside at the Disputations of Bachelors of Arts. But the office was placed upon its present footing, at least on all material points, in the year 1809, when the examination called "Responsions" was first established. An account of it is given further on, in the article upon "Examinations and Exercises for Degrees." The number of the Masters of the Schools was three until the year 1854, when it was increased to four in order to expedite the business of Responsions.

MODERATORS.

The office of the MODERATORS dates from 1852, in which year the examination for which they were appointed was first held. Their number and the mode of their nomination are stated further on, in the article upon "Examinations and Exercises for Degrees." The names of all who have held the office are printed at the foot of the Honour Lists which they have issued.

REGISTRAR.

The Registrar of the University is elected by Convocation. He must be a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law, and a Notary Public. He attends all meetings of the Hebdomadal Council, of both Congregations, and of Convocation, and registers all acts, such as Graces, Admissions to Degrees, Elections, Decrees, Statutes, Letters, Addresses, Leases, and other documents to which the common seal of the University is affixed. The emoluments of the office formerly varied, depending on the number of persons admitted to degrees and on other circumstances: the annual stipend is now fixed at £600.

COLLEGES.

THE Colleges are distinct corporate bodies, founded at various times for the purpose of study, and nearly (if not quite) all of them for the purpose of education also; within the University, but independent of it; governed, as to their own concerns, by their respective Statutes; each having a mansion for the residence of Members of the Foundation and for the reception of academical students; and holding property of various kinds through the munificence of Founders and Benefactors. In common use the word "College" signifies the mansion of each Society as well as the Society itself.

Colleges are an institution peculiar to this country. There are none in foreign Universities, nor even in Scotland. In Oxford there are twenty now existing. The history of their relation to the University is too large a subject to be treated here. It may be sufficient to say, that for more than four hundred years previous to 1855 no person could be a Member of the University who had not his name upon the books of some College, or of one of the Academical Halls which are described further on. In the year 1855 a Statute was made, by which Members of Convocation were permitted, under certain conditions, to open Private Halls for the reception of students: but very few have hitherto availed themselves of the permission. Another Statute, made in 1868, has removed the old restriction, and has enabled persons to become Students and Members of the University without belonging to any College or Hall. These Students are commonly called "Unattached" (in Latin, Non ascripti).

The corporation of every College, except three, comprises a Head, Fellows and Scholars in various numbers, and a few other Members, whose numbers, offices, and titles differ in different Societies. All these are Members of the Foundation, and receive stipends from the corporate revenues. The three exceptions are All Souls, Christ Church, and Keble. At All Souls there are no Scholars: at Christ Church, which is a cathedral establishment as well as an academical institution, there is, besides the Dean, a capitular body of Canons, while those who answer in some respects to Fellows and Scholars are called Senior and Junior Students: at Keble there are neither Fellows nor Scholars. At Merton the Scholars are called Postmasters, at Magdalen Demies (in Latin Semi-Socii).

The Heads of Colleges have not all the same title. The title is "Master" at University, Balliol, and Pembroke Colleges; "Warden" at Merton, New College, All Souls, Wadham, and Keble; "Rector" at Exeter and Lincoln; "Provost" at Oriel, Queen's, and Worcester; "President" at Magdalen, Corpus Christi, Trinity, and St John's; "Principal" at Brasenose and Jesus; and "Dean" at Christ Church.

In Christ Church the Dean and Canons and the Senior Students are the governing body, in Keble the Warden and Council, in every other College the Head and Fellows. Discipline over the Junior Members of each Society is exercised by the Head, his Vicegerent, and certain Officers of the College, who are commonly appointed from the Fellows.

In almost every College the Head is elected by the Fellows. But the Dean of Christ Church is appointed by the Crown, the Provost of Worcester by the Chancellor of the University, and the Warden of Keble by the Council of that College. Headships are tenable for life.

Fellows and Scholars are mostly elected by the Head and Fellows, or by the Head and certain Fellows, after a competitive examination. Fellowships, with very few exceptions, are vacated by marriage and by ecclesiastical preferment or accession to property of a certain amount. Otherwise they are tenable for life. Scholarships, since the Oxford University Act of 1854 (17 and 18 Vict., c. 81), are generally tenable for five years only.

In the following pages the several Colleges are placed in the reputed order of their foundation.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded by William of Durham*, said to have been Archdeacon of Durham ; but respecting whom little authentic information has been preserved, except that he was Rector of Wearmouth, in that county, and that he died in 1249, bequeathing a sum of money to provide a permanent endowment for the maintenance of a certain number of "Masters."

The first purchase with this bequest was made in 1253, and the first Statutes are dated 1280.

The chief Benefactors since that period are King Henry IV. ; Walter Skirlaw, Bishop of Durham ; Henry Percy, Earl of Northumberland ; Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester ; John Freestone, Esq. ; Sir Simon Bennet, Bart. ; Rev. Charles Greenwood ; Dr. John Radcliffe ; and Dr. John Browne.

The present Foundation consists of a Master, twelve Fellows, with one Bye Fellow, and twelve Scholars, with certain Exhibitioners. Of the Fellowships two were founded by William of Durham. Three were founded in 1403, by King Henry IV., at the request of Walter Skirlaw, Bishop of Durham. Three were founded in 1442, by Henry Percy, Earl of Northumberland. And four were added in 1631, by Sir Simon Bennet. In 1837, a Civil Law Fellowship was founded in this College by Mary Anne, Viscountess Sidmouth, in honour of her father, the late Lord Stowell, sometime Fellow of this Society.

Of the Scholarships, one was founded in 1586, by the Rev. Thomas Browne ; one in 1590, by the Rev. Otho Hunt ;

* There is a tradition that the College was founded in 872 by King Alfred, and only restored by William of Durham. No record, however, of the tradition is found earlier than the close of the fourteenth or the beginning of the fifteenth century.

four in 1631, by Sir Simon Bennet ; two in 1764, by Dr. John Browne, sometime Master of the College ; one in 1849, by Dr. George Shepherd, sometime Fellow ; and three have been established by the College, two of which, called the Radcliffe Scholarships, are for proficiency in Mathematics.

Of the Exhibitions, Three of the value of £50 a-year, during residence, were founded in 1595, by John Freeston, Esq., for persons educated in the Grammar-schools of Wakefield, Pontefract, and Normanton in the county of York. Four, of £45 a-year during residence, founded in 1618, by the Rev. Robert Gunsley, are limited to persons educated in the Grammar-schools of Rochester and Maidstone, two to be elected from each. There are also other small Exhibitions. One, founded in 1580, by Mr. Heron. Two, founded in 1587, by Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester, the nomination to which is vested in his heirs. Two, founded by Lady Holford, in augmentation of Exhibitions from the Charterhouse. Two, on the foundation of Mr. Lodge, are for deserving persons who are in need of assistance at the University.

II. BALLIOL COLLEGE.

FOUNDED by John Balliol, of Barnard Castle in the county of Durham, and Dervorgilla his wife (parents of John Balliol, King of Scotland,) some time between the years 1263 and 1268, the exact date not being known. Its revenues were augmented by the munificence of succeeding Benefactors, particularly of Sir William Felton and Sir Philip Somervyle.

There are now eleven Fellowships, and ten Scholarships, on the old foundation; also five Scholarships (of £60 a-year), for persons educated at Blundell's School, Tiverton, on the foundation of Mr. Peter Blundell; one of which is to be filled up annually by examination at the School. And three Scholarships, of £70 a-year for three years, "for the encouragement of the study of Law and "History, and of the study of Natural Science, in order to "qualify Students for the professions of Law and Medicine "respectively," founded by Hannah, daughter of the late Francis Brakenbury, as a grateful memorial of her deceased brothers, James B. Brakenbury and Ralph Brakenbury, and in recognition of an ancient connection between the families of Balliol and Brakenbury.

This College has also an Exhibition for natives, or those whose fathers were natives, of Scotland; founded in 1667 by John Warner, Bishop of Rochester.

Other Exhibitions (ten in number at present) were subsequently added in 1677 by John Snell, Esq.; the nomination to which is vested in the Principal and Professors of Glasgow University, and the election in the Master and Fellows of this College.

Two Exhibitions (of £100 a-year), tenable for four years, have been founded under the will of Richard Jenkyns, D.D., who died Master of the College in 1854; to be filled up by competition among those members of the College who have not exceeded sixteen terms of academical standing.

Two Exhibitions (of £60 a-year during residence, tenable for five years) are annually offered by the College for open competition among all Candidates who have not completed the eighth term from their matriculation. And others are offered from time to time according to circumstances.

There are also Exhibitions connected (Newte) with Tiverton and (Greaves) Ludlow Schools.

III. MERTON COLLEGE.

THIS College was first founded at Maldon in Surrey, in 1264, and removed to Oxford before 1274, by Walter de Merton, Bishop of Rochester, and Lord High Chancellor of England.

The earliest statutes extant with royal charter are dated 1264. In 1270 a second body of Statutes were given, and the whole ratified in 1274, after the settlement in Oxford. The founder died in 1277, after having left, by a codicil to his will, the residue of his property to the College.

In 1380, John Wyllyott, D.D. Chancellor of Exeter, invested his Estates in the College for 'the maintenance of Portionists, since called Post-Masters. In 1604, John Chamber, Fellow of Eton, Canon of Windsor, left monies for the maintenance of two Post-Masters and one Fellow, to be elected from Foundationers of Eton. In 1753, Henry Jackson, sometime M.A. of this College, and afterwards Minor Canon of St. Paul's, founded four Exhibitions, with a preference for Natives of the City or County of Oxford educated at the Schools of Eton, Westminster, and Winchester.

Under the Ordinance framed by the Commissioners appointed for the purposes of the Statute 17th and 18th Vict. c. 81, the following changes have been made:—All the Fellowships are now open, without any preference in respect of place of birth or education. In default of any Foundationer of Eton approved for admission by the Warden and Fellows, the two Post-Masterships of the foundation of John Chamber are thrown open for that turn to all persons educated for not less than two years at Eton College, and ultimately to general competition. The Scholarships of the Foundation of Henry Jackson are now open, without preference in respect of place of birth or education.

The Foundation consists of a Warden, twenty-four Fellows, sixteen Post-Masters, four Scholars, and two Chaplains.

IV. EXETER COLLEGE.

THIS College was originally founded in 1314, by Walter de Stapledon, Bishop of Exeter, sometime Lord High Treasurer of England, and was then called Stapledon Hall. The Bishop removed hither his Scholars from Hart Hall, and made a foundation for a Rector and twelve Fellows. Of these thirteen, he directed that eight should be elected from the Archdeaconries of Exeter, Totness, and Barnstaple; four from the Archdeaconry of Cornwall: and that one, in Priest's Orders, should be nominated by the Dean and Chapter of Exeter.

In 1404, Edmund Stafford, Bishop of Exeter, added two Fellowships for the diocese of Salisbury, and obtained leave to give the College its present name.

In 1565, Sir William Petre, Knight, Secretary of State, and Privy Counsellor to Henry VIII., Edward VI., Queen Mary, and Queen Elizabeth, added eight Fellowships for the counties of Devon, Somerset, Dorset, Oxford, Essex, Surrey, and any others in England in which he or his heirs might have lands or possessions.

Charles I. in 1636 annexed one Fellowship for the islands of Jersey and Guernsey.

Lastly, Mrs. Shiers, who died in 1770, left certain rents, out of which two Fellowships were founded, for the counties of Hertford and Surrey.

These arrangements were amended in the year 1855, under powers granted by the Act 17 and 18 Vict., c. 81. The Fellowships are reduced from twenty-five to fifteen, and are now open without any preference in respect of birth. Candidates must be members of the Church of England, or of some Church in communion with it, and must have passed all the examinations required by the University for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, or have been admitted ad eundem gradum of the University, or have become in any way members of Convocation. The day of election is the 30th of June, or such other day in the month of June as may appear to the College convenient. The nomination to the Chaplain Fellowship remains with the Dean and Chapter of Exeter.

From the revenues of eight suppressed Fellowships, twenty-two Scholarships are founded. Of these, ten are open, ten (called Stapledon Scholarships) are limited to persons born or educated in the Diocese of Exeter, and two to persons born in any of the Channel Islands, or educated at Victoria College, Jersey, or Elizabeth College, Guernsey. The funds are occasionally sufficient for the establishment of a third Channel Islands Scholarship.

If no duly qualified candidates present themselves for any of the limited Scholarships, these also may for the time be thrown open.

The following Exhibitions are attached to the College.

1. The Michell Exhibition, open to all members of the College, being members of the Church of England, and applying themselves to the study of Divinity.

2. The Symes Exhibition, open to persons born or educated in the counties of Somerset or Dorset, and intending to take Holy Orders.

3, 4. The How Exhibitions, founded for sons of Clergymen resident in the counties of Devon and Somerset, with preference to the kindred of the Founder, the Rev. Thomas How; and on failure of such candidates, open to all sons of Clergymen.

5, 6. The Gifford Exhibitions, founded by W. Gifford, Esq., M.A., in the first instance for candidates from Ashburton School, and on failure of such, open to all persons born or educated in the county of Devon, if duly qualified.

7. The Richards Exhibition, founded by subscription in 1854, in memory of the late Rector, Dr. J. L. Richards, and open without preference in respect of place of birth or education.

The Candidates for these Exhibitions must produce satisfactory certificates of their need of assistance at the University.

8, 9. Open, supported by the College.

The following Exhibitions are also attached to the College, though not in its immediate gift.

10. The Darrell Exhibition, in the gift of the Archdeacon of Nottingham and Master of Retford Hospital, for persons within the Archdeaconries of Nottingham and Lincoln alternately.

11, 12, 13. The Reynolds Exhibitions, to be held by Eton Collegers, appointed by the Provost and Fellows of Eton.

14, 15, 16. The Reynolds Exhibitions, to be held by Scholars of Exeter School, appointed alternately by the Dean and Chapter and Chamber of Exeter.

17. The Acland Exhibition to be held by Scholars of Exeter School.

18, 19. The Eliot Exhibitions, to be held by Scholars of Truro School, appointed by the Trustees of the School.

V. ORIEL COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded by Edward II. in 1326, on the suggestion of Adam de Brome, his almoner, for a Provost and ten Fellows. The number of Fellowships has been since increased to eighteen by various benefactions. Four were founded, for the counties of Somerset, Dorset, Wilts, and Devon, by John Frank, Master of the Rolls, who died A.D. 1441; one, for the old diocese of Worcester, by John Carpenter, Bishop of Worcester, about the year 1476; one, for the old diocese of Lincoln, by William Smyth, Bishop of Lincoln, 1507; and two by Richard Dudley, Chancellor of the Church of Salisbury, 1529. Queen Anne annexed a Canonry of Rochester to the Provostship for ever.

Several Exhibitions and Scholarships have been founded in this College by different Benefactors; viz. six, of considerable value, by Richard Dudley, above mentioned; three by Dr. Robinson, Bishop of London, 1718 (tenable for three years, and of the value of about £38 a-year); four under the Will of Henry, Duke of Beaufort, 1744 (tenable for seven years, of the annual value of £25); two under that of Mrs. Ludwell, 1761 (also tenable for seven years, value £40 a-year); one, (the Rutland Exhibition,) by the Rev. Richard Twopeny, 1838 (of the annual value of £21); two under the Will of Dr. Ireland, Dean of Westminster, 1842 (of the annual value of £30); and eight open Scholarships were established by the Society in 1838, 1839, 1840, and 1853.

By an Ordinance framed by the Commissioners under the Statute 17 and 18 Victoria, c. 81, the Scholars are placed on the Foundation of the College; the preferences above mentioned in the case of certain Fellowships are removed; and the election to two Fellowships is at present suspended, for the purpose of maintaining four Exhibitions within the College, and of augmenting the salary of the Regius Professor of Modern History.

Under this Ordinance there are ten Scholarships, tenable for five years; and four Exhibitions, called the Exhibitions of Adam de Brome, tenable till the end of the twentieth Term from Matriculation; the value of each of these Scholarships and Exhibitions (during residence) being £80 per annum. Candidates for these Exhibitions must be deserving persons in need of support at the University; to a Scholarship no one is eligible who has attained the age of twenty years, or who, being a member of the University, has exceeded two years from his matriculation.

Two Fellowships being now suspended, the Foundation at present consists of a Provost, sixteen Fellows, (besides the present Regius Professor of Modern History,) and ten Scholars. There are also twenty-two Exhibitioners and three Bible Clerks.

VI. THE QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

FOUNDED in 1340, by Robert Eglesfield, Chaplain to Philippa, Queen of Edward III., from whom it is called the Queen's College.

Under the New Statutes (1858) the foundation of Robert Eglesfield, that of John Michel, and those of Sir Francis Bridgman, and Lady Margaret Hungerford, are consolidated. The College now consists of a Provost, nineteen Fellows, fifteen Scholars, two Bible-Clerks, and four Eglesfield Exhibitioners. The election of Fellows and Scholars is without regard to place of birth, and takes place after an open competitive Examination. The Sedleian Professorship of Natural Philosophy is partly endowed from the funds of the College; and the Professor is bound to act as assessor in examinations for Fellowships and Scholarships, if called on to do so.

The Scholarships are tenable for five years from the day of election, and are of the annual value of not less than 75%.

The Bible-Clerkships are in the appointment of the Provost, are tenable for the same period, and are of the same annual value as the Scholarships.

The Eglesfield Exhibitions are tenable for four years, and are of the same annual value as the Scholarships and Bible-Clerkships.

In 1866 a Scholarship was founded by the Rev. Sir E. R. Jodrell, Bart., M.A., of this College, in memory of his father, Sir R. P. Jodrell, Bart., M.A., of Magdalen College, of the yearly value (at present) of £100, tenable for four years.

The following Exhibitions are also attached to the College.

1 to 15. Fifteen Exhibitions, of the yearly value of 90%.

founded by Lady Elizabeth Hastings, open to persons educated at the Schools of Carlisle, Penrith or St. Bees in Cumberland, Appleby or Heversham in Westmoreland, Bradford, Doncaster, Giggleswick, Hipperholme, Leeds, Pontefract, Richmond, Sedbergh, Wakefield or York in Yorkshire. One Candidate may be sent from each School for each vacancy.

16. One of about 65*l.* per annum, founded by Keane Fitzgerald, Esq., M.A. of this College, and a Bencher of the Inner Temple, for natives of Middlesex.

17. One of 40*l.*, founded by Thomas, Earl of Thanet, for persons educated at Appleby School.

18, 19. Two of 45*l.* per annum, founded by the Rev. George Holme, D.D., for natives of Cumberland and Westmoreland.

20. One of 30*l.* per annum, founded by the Rev. John Fox, D.D., late Provost, for natives of Cumberland or Westmoreland, educated at the School of St. Bees.

23, 24. One of 20*l.*, founded by Henry Wilson, Esq., for persons educated at Kirkby Lonsdale School; and one of 15*l.*, by the same, for persons educated at Kendal School.

The following Exhibitions are also attached to the College, though not in its immediate gift.

25. One of 40*l.* per annum, founded by Frederick Tylney, Esq., to which the possessor of Tylney Hall (at present, Charles Edward Harris, Esq.) appoints.

26, 27. Two of about 65*l.* per annum, founded by Dr. John Thomas, Bishop of Rochester, for sons of Clergymen of the diocese of Carlisle, educated at the Schools of Carlisle or St. Bees, or in default thereof, for sons of Clergymen who shall have been three years resident in the diocese of Carlisle. These Exhibitions are in the appointment of the Bishop of Carlisle, the Dean of Carlisle, and the Provost of the College.

Other Exhibitions, under 10*l.* per annum, have been founded by the Rev. Gabriel Thistlethwaite, James Rigge, Esq., Dr. Edmund Grindal, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Thomas Sandys, Esq.

All are tenable for five years from the day of election.

VII. NEW COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded, in 1386, by William of Wykeham, Bishop of Winchester, and sometime Lord High Chancellor of England, for a Warden, seventy Fellows and Scholars, ten Chaplains, three Clerks, and Sixteen Choristers.

By Ordinances made in 1857, and amended in 1866, the Fellowships will hereafter be in number forty, and the Scholarships thirty. But the College has power to suspend not more than five Fellowships, for the purpose of endowing ten additional Scholarships.

Twenty of the Fellowships are open to such candidates only as have received education at the school of Winchester College for at least two years, or have been for at least twelve terms members of New College.

The other twenty Fellowships are without any such limitation. The suspended Fellowships must be taken out of this class, and the ten additional Scholarships must likewise be open.

Six of the thirty original Scholarships are filled up annually, at an Election held at Winchester College, of boys receiving education in the School of that College. Any Scholarship for which there is no duly qualified candidate, is thrown open for that turn to general competition.

All the Scholarships are tenable for five years, and are at present £100 a-year in value.

By a Statute passed in 1864, the Choir will henceforth consist of not less than 1. Three Chaplains; 2. Eight Lay-Clerks; and 3. Sixteen Choristers.

VIII. LINCOLN COLLEGE.

FOUNDED by Richard Fleming, Bishop of Lincoln, in 1427, for a Rector and seven Fellows; and greatly augmented by Thomas Rotherham, Bishop of Lincoln, and afterwards Archbishop of York, and Lord High Chancellor of England, who added five Fellowships, and gave a new body of Statutes in 1479, in which he limited the election of the Fellows to the (old) dioceses of Lincoln and York, with the exception of one to the diocese of Wells.

The above limitations were abolished by authority of Parliament (17 and 18 Vict.)

The Scholarships have been given by different Benefactors, the chief of whom were Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham, Richard Hutchins, D.D., and John Radford, D.D., Rectors.

One Scholarship for persons born or educated in the county of Buckingham was founded in 1847 by Mrs. Tatham, widow of Edward Tatham, D.D., Rector; and in 1857 the Rev. Henry Usher Matthews, M.A., left by will certain monies for the foundation of an open Scholarship, and also of an Exhibition from Shrewsbury School, each tenable for three years.

The Foundation at present consists of a Rector, twelve Fellows, and eighteen Scholars.

FOUNDED in 1437, by Henry Chichele, sometime Fellow of New College, and successively Bishop of St. David's and Archbishop of Canterbury, for a Warden, forty Fellows, two Chaplains, and Clerks.

Under the Ordinance, framed by the Commissioners appointed for the purposes of the Statute 17th and 18th of Victoria, cap. 81, the following changes have been made :—

I. Ten Fellowships have been suppressed for the endowment of two Professorships, to be called respectively "The Chichele Professorship of International Law and Diplomacy," and "The Chichele Professorship of Modern History."

II. All preferences and disqualifications in election to Fellowships connected with kinship to the Founder, place and legitimacy of birth, amount of property, age, faculty, and profession have been abolished : and it is provided that "no person shall be eligible, who shall not have passed all the Examinations required by the University for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and shall not either have been placed in the First Class in one at least of the Public Examinations of the University, or have obtained some Prize or Scholarship within the University unattached to any College or Hall and open to general competition among the Members of the University."

III. Candidates for Fellowships are to be examined "in such subjects recognised in the School of Jurisprudence and Modern History within the University as the Warden and Fellows shall determine."

X. ST. MARY MAGDALEN COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded in 1458, by William of Waynflete, successively Head Master of Winchester and Eton Colleges, and Provost of Eton, Bishop of Winchester, and at the same time Lord High Chancellor of England, for a President, forty Fellows, thirty Scholars called Demies, a Schoolmaster, an Usher, four Chaplains, a Steward, an Organist, eight Clerks, and sixteen Choristers.

By an ordinance framed for the College under powers granted by the Act 17th and 18th Vict. c. 81, the statutable restriction of Fellowships to certain counties and dioceses is abolished, and ten Fellowships are to be suspended, and ten Demyships to be added to the statutable number. Demyships hereafter to be filled up, are to be tenable without reference to place of birth, for five years and no longer. Twenty Exhibitions are to be established for deserving persons in need of support at the University: and four Professorships (to be called Waynflete Professorships) are to be founded and maintained within the College in lieu of the Lectureships mentioned in the existing statutes.

XI. THE KING'S HALL AND COLLEGE OF BRASENOSE.

FOUNDED in 1509, by the joint benefaction of William Smith, Bishop of Lincoln, and Sir Richard Sutton, Knt. of Prestbury, in Cheshire, for a Principal and twelve Fellows, natives of the old diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, so that they who are born in the county of Chester, and such parts of Lancashire as were then in that diocese, and particularly in the parishes of Prescot and Prestbury in the said counties, be preferred. If it should happen that none of the said counties or diocese be eligible, then, in defect of such, the Society is to choose out of the diocese of Lincoln; and if none there born be eligible, then the most fit and learned that can be found in the University of Oxford.

Eight Fellowships were afterwards added; viz. two by the Will of John Williamson, Rector of St. George's, Canterbury, in 1522, which are confined to the kindred of the said John Williamson, or of John Port, Serjeant-at-Law, born in the city or county palatine of Chester. One by John Elton, alias Baker, Canon of Salisbury, in 1528, with a preference to his kindred, born in the diocese of Hereford or Worcester; in defect of which, the Society is to elect from the diocese of Salisbury; and in defect of such again, the most deserving person born in any other place. One by William Porter, Clerk, in 1541, for the county or diocese of Hereford, or in defect of a person so qualified, then for one born in any diocese next adjacent towards Oxford. One, in 1538, by Edward Darbie, Archdeacon of Stow, in the county of Lincoln, for a graduate born in the said Archdeaconry; or if there be no such person, then one born in the county of Leicester ; or in defect of such, one born in the county of Northampton ; or in defect of such, one born in Oxfordshire ; or in defect of such, one born in the diocese of Lincoln ; and if no such graduate be found, then an undergraduate, subject to the same limitation, is to be elected. One, in 1538, by William Clyfton, Sub-Dean of York, for a priest and graduate of Yorkshire and Lincolnshire alternately ; or in defect of such person, of the county of Nottingham ; or in defect thereof, any proper priest of the University of Oxford. One, in 1549, by Brian Higden, Dean of York, for Yorkshire and Lincolnshire, alternately. One, in 1586, by Joyce Frankland, of London, widow, for her own kindred, especially the kindred of the Trapps and Saxies ; or in defect of such, for any county in England.

By an Ordinance of the Commissioners under the Act 17 and 18 Vict., cap. 81, all the Fellowships are now open.

Scholarships and Exhibitions were added at different times by various Benefactors ; the chief of whom are, John Claymond, D.D., President of Corpus Christi College ; John, Lord Mordaunt ; Alexander Nowell, Dean of St. Paul's ; Samuel Radcliffe, D.D. Principal of the College ; Thomas Yate, D.D. Principal of the College ; William Grimbaldson, M.D. ; and Sarah, Duchess Dowager of Somerset, whose Scholarships are six of the annual value of £52 each, for the Schools of Manchester, Marlborough, and Hereford ; four of £36 8s. each, for Manchester School ; and twelve, of similar value, for the above-mentioned Schools, all tenable for five years, unless vacated by other preferment. In failure of candidates properly qualified from the above Schools, these Scholarships are now opened to general competition. Some open Scholarships of the value of at least £60 per annum, and tenable for five years, have recently been established.

William Hulme, Esq., of Kearsley, in the county of Lancaster, founded, in 1691, four Exhibitions, now increased to seventeen, to which Members of Brasenose College who have entered upon the thirteenth term from their matriculation are capable of being nominated. The nominators are the Dean of Manchester and the Rectors of Prestwich and Bury in the county of Lancaster. The Exhibitions can be held, by residence only, for four years, to be accounted from the commencement of the thirteenth term.

In 1842, three Exhibitions, to be called the Colquitt

Clerical Exhibitions, were founded by the three Misses Colquitt, of Green Bank, in the county of Lancaster.

These Exhibitions are intended to assist in the education for the Ministry in the Church of England, according to its Articles and Liturgy, of the sons of indigent or deceased Clergymen, or of such Laymen as cannot, unaided, support the expenses of a College education.

XII. CORPUS CHRISTI COLLEGE.

FOUNDED in the year 1516, by Richard Fox, Bishop of Winchester, and Lord Privy Seal, for a President, twenty Fellows, and twenty Scholars, all to be elected from natives of certain specified Dioceses and Counties, and two Chaplains.

By the present Statutes, which have been amended under the powers given by Parliament, it is provided that both Fellows and Scholars, which latter are increased to twenty-four by the addition of the four formerly called Exhibitors, shall be elected without any restriction as to place of birth. Two of the Fellowships are permanently annexed to two Professorships, the Professors occupying the position of Honorary Fellows, and being elected by boards appointed by University Statute.

XIII. CHRIST CHURCH.

THIS Society, founded originally by Cardinal Wolsey, Cardinal of St. Cecilia, and Archbishop of York, on the site of the Priory of St. Frideswide, was to have consisted of a Dean, Sub-Dean, one hundred Canons, ten Public Readers, thirteen Chaplains, an Organist, twelve Clerks, and thirteen Choristers.

This imperfect Foundation continued only from 1526 to 1529, when, before its completion, the Cardinal having fallen into disgrace, King Henry VIII. suspended the Foundation, which he re-established in 1532, under the name of Henry the Eighth's College, for a Dean and twelve Canons. This was again suppressed in 1545; and in the year following the Episcopal See was removed from Osney to this College, and the Church of St. Frideswide was constituted a Cathedral, by the name of the Cathedral Church of Christ in Oxford, for the maintenance of a Dean, eight Canons, eight Chaplains, a Schoolmaster, an Organist, eight Clerks, and eight Choristers; together with one hundred Students; to which number one more was added in 1664, in consequence of a Benefaction from William Thurstone, Esq.

By an Act of Parliament passed 30 and 31 Vict. cap. 76, the number of Canons is reduced to six, of Students to eighty, of which number twenty-eight are Senior Students (with permanent tenure), and fifty-two Junior Students. Of these fifty-two, twenty-one are to be elected from Westminster School (three each year on the Wednesday before Ascension-Day), and hold their places for seven years. The election to the remaining thirty-one open Junior Studentships, which are tenable for five years, is held on the second Saturday in Lent. The subjects of examination for at least one in every three are alternately Mathematics and Physical Science.

XIV. TRINITY COLLEGE.

THIS College was originally founded and endowed by Edward the Third, Richard the Second, and the Priors and Bishops of Durham. As it was under the patronage of the latter, it obtained the name of Durham College; though dedicated from the beginning to the Holy Trinity, St. Mary, and St. Cuthbert.

Being merged with Religious Houses at the Reformation, it was suppressed; and Sir Thomas Pope, Knt., of Tittenhanger in Hertfordshire, having purchased the site and buildings, began and endowed a new Foundation, in 1554, for a President, twelve Fellows, and twelve Scholars. The Fellowships and Scholarships are now entirely open.

There is also a Scholarship, nearly coeval with Sir Thomas Pope's foundation, founded by Richard Blount, Esq., of the city of London, who was connected by marriage with the Founder. The Henniker Scholarship was founded in the year 1867, by Aldborough Henniker, Esq., of Calcote, Somerset.

An Exhibition, called the Unton Pension, was given by Thomas Unton, Clerk, of Drayton, in Shropshire, in 1693; a second, called the Tylney Exhibition, by Frederick Tylney, Esq., of the county of Hants, in the year 1720; and a third by the Rev. Edward Cobden, D.D., Archdeacon of London, in 1784. This Exhibition has been augmented from time to time by the liberality of the Warden and Fellows of Winchester College, and is in their gift.

XV. ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded in 1555, by Sir Thomas White, Knt., Alderman of London. The original foundation consisted of a President, fifty Fellows and Scholars, one Chaplain, an Organist, six Singing Men, eight Choristers, and two Sextons.

Under an Ordinance of the University Commissioners, amended by a Committee of the Privy Council, the foundation is hereafter to consist of eighteen open Fellowships tenable for life, five open Scholarships and twenty-eight appropriated Scholarships tenable for seven or five years, by persons elected from Merchant Taylors' School who shall not have attained the age of nineteen, and from the other schools who shall not have attained the age of twenty at the time of their election, viz. twenty-one to Merchant Taylors' School, two to Coventry, two to Bristol, two to Reading, and one to Tunbridge. There is also one open Scholarship, called the Holmes Scholarship, tenable for four years.

In 1854, four Fellowships were established in this College in pursuance of the will of Dudley Fereday, Esq. of Ettingshall Park, Staffordshire. They are open, with certain limitations and under certain conditions in respect of literary proficiency, first, to the kindred of the Founder; secondly, to natives of Staffordshire; and in case of a Founder's kin or Staffordshire candidate not satisfying the conditions, then to any other person whatsoever, being a member of the Church of England. The tenure of the Fellowships is for fourteen years.

Under the will of the Rev. John Thomas Casberd, D.C.L., Prebendary of Llandaff, four Scholarships have been founded, each of the value of £90 per annum, tenable for four years. Candidates to be Undergraduates not on any foundation, of at least one year's standing in the College.

XVI. JESUS COLLEGE.

FOUNDED by Queen Elizabeth, in 1571, on the petition of Hugh Price, LL.D., Treasurer of St. David's, who left lands for the maintenance of a Principal, eight Fellows, and eight Scholars: it was increased by different Benefactors, so that the Society consisted of a Principal, nineteen Fellows, and eighteen Scholars.

But by the Ordinance of the University Commissioners, the number of the Fellowships is reduced to thirteen, divided into two moieties, one of which is to be filled up by persons born in Wales or Monmouthshire. For the other moiety, no person shall be either entitled to preference, or ineligible, by reason of his place of birth.

The Fellowship founded by King Charles I. will on its next avoidance be applied to the maintenance of Scholars, natives of Guernsey or Jersey, or of one of the islands adjacent to them; or educated, for the two years last preceding their election or matriculation, at Elizabeth College, Guernsey, or at Victoria College, Jersey.

One Fellowship is devoted to the purposes of the Professoriate of the University; and the emoluments of four other suppressed Fellowships are applied to augment the number and the value of the Scholarships. Twenty of these are to be termed Welsh Scholarships, and to be filled by persons born in Wales or Monmouthshire; or educated, for the four years last preceding their election or matriculation, at one of the Free Grammar Schools of Abergavenny, Bangor, Beaumaris, Bottwinnog, and Cowbridge. Two continue to be Open Scholarships.

There are nearly thirty Exhibitions of £40 per annum, tenable for five years from matriculation; the final number is not yet fixed.

XVII. WADHAM COLLEGE.

FOUNDED by Nicholas Wadham, of Merifield, in Somersetshire, Esq., and Dorothy his wife, in 1613, for a Warden, fifteen Fellows, fifteen Scholars, two Chaplains, and two Clerks.

The Fellowships and Scholarships are open, without any preference as to kindred or place of birth, and vacancies are filled up after a competitive examination. Candidates for a Fellowship must be members of the Church of England, and have passed all the examinations required by the University for the degree of B.A. The Scholarships are open to Candidates who have not exceeded their twentieth year, and are tenable for five years.

One Fellowship has been suspended, and a sum in lieu of it is paid, under the provisions of the Ordinance of the University Commissioners, to the Professor of Experimental Philosophy.

There are ten Exhibitions founded by Dr. Hody ; four for the study of Hebrew, and six for the study of Greek. The present value of each is £45 per annum. The Exhibitioners are examined once in every Term by the Regius Professors of those languages. There are also other small Exhibitions given by Bishop Lisle, and Mr. Goodridge, together with one for the study of Botany, bequeathed by Richard Warner, Esq. But the greatest Benefactor to the College was the Rev. John Wills, D.D. Warden, who died in 1806, and left by his Will, £90 a-year for a Law Exhibition to a Fellow ; £18 a-year for a Law Exhibition to a Scholar ; £90 a-year for a Medical Exhibition to a Fellow ; £18 a-year for a Medical Exhibition to a Scholar ; besides bequests to a fund for the purchase of livings.

XVIII. PEMBROKE COLLEGE.

THIS College, originally Broadgates Hall, was founded in the year 1624, by King James the First, at the costs and charges of Thomas Tesdale, Esquire, of Glympton in Oxfordshire, and Richard Wightwick, B.D. Rector of Ilsley, Berks., for a Master, ten Fellows, and ten Scholars, or more or fewer; and obtained its name from William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke, who was Chancellor of the University when it was founded.

Ten Fellowships and six Scholarships have been since ingrafted by different Benefactors; namely, King Charles I., Sir John Benet, afterwards Lord Ossulstone, Sir John Phillips, Bart., Francis Wightwick, Esq., and Mrs. Sophia Sheppard.

Several unincorporated Scholarships or Exhibitions have been added by other Benefactors; namely, Dame Juliana Stafford, the Reverend Wm. Oades, George Townsend, Esq., the Right Reverend George Morley, sometime Lord Bishop of Winchester, Francis Rous, Esq., sometime Provost of Eton College, Edmund Boulter, Esq., Dame Elizabeth Holford, Dr. Radcliffe, sometime Master of the College, and one by subscription in 1861, in grateful commemoration of the Rev. Thomas F. Henney, M.A., for many years Vice-Gerent and Tutor of the College. In the year 1763 the Rev. William Phipps, M.A., sometime Scholar of the College, bequeathed land and stock for the purchase of advowsons and other purposes. In the year 1863 the Rev. Christopher Cleoburey, sometime Fellow, left a reversionary interest to the College in certain sums of Bank Stock for the foundation of a Scholarship and other objects.

The constitution of the College, as altered by an ordinance of the Commissioners acting under the Statute 17 and 18 Vict. c. 81, is now as follows:—

The College is to consist of a Master, of not less than ten Fellows, and of not less than twelve Scholars.

The Master must be a Master of Arts, or a Graduate in one of the superior Faculties, thirty years of age, and a Member of the Church of England. In other respects the choice of the Fellows is unrestricted.

The Fellowships are to be open to all who shall have passed the Examinations required by the University for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and are not disqualified by the possession of property to the amount of £500 per annum, or of an ecclesiastical benefice of £300 per annum net. The Fellowships are also to be vacated by the possessor of property of the amount above specified, or by institution to a benefice with cure of souls yielding £300 per annum clear of deductions.

If there are not four Fellows in Holy Orders, the whole number being ten; or five, the whole number being above ten, but below twelve; or six, the whole number being above eleven, but below fifteen—no person shall be capable of being elected to a Fellowship who shall not then be in Holy Orders.

Two of the Fellows are to be called Sheppard Fellows. Of these, one is to be called to the Bar, and the other is to proceed to the degree of D.M.

Of the incorporated Scholarships, five at least are to be called Abingdon Scholarships, to be filled up by persons educated at Abingdon School for the two years last preceding the day of election; two are to be called King Charles the First's Scholarships, and are to be filled by persons born in Jersey, Guernsey, or the adjacent islands, or educated for the two years last preceding the election in Victoria College or Elizabeth College. The other incorporated Scholarships are to be perfectly open.

The incorporated Scholars are to receive not less than £50 a-year, and to enjoy rooms rent free—the junior King Charles' Scholar excepted, who has to pay room-rent.

The unincorporated Scholarships are as follows:—

One to be called Bishop Morley's Scholarship, limited like King Charles's Scholarships, of the value of £60 a-year, with rooms rent free.

One to be called the Holford Scholarship, to be filled from candidates on the foundation of Sutton at the Charterhouse; or if two candidates are not sent up, then out of the whole school.

Two to be called the Boulter and Radcliffe Scholarships, of the value of £52 a-year each, perfectly open.

One to be called the Rous Scholarship, limited to scholars educated in Eton College for the two years last preceding the election, and nominated by the Head Master.

Four to be called the Townsend Scholarships, limited to persons brought up for the two years last preceding the election in the schools of Gloucester, Cheltenham, North-leach, and Chipping-Campden respectively. These will be not less than £70 a-year in value.

One to be called the Henney Scholarship, of the value of about £90 a-year, perfectly open.

Two Exhibitions endowed by Mr. Oades and Mrs. Juliana Stafford, for Students requiring assistance, but otherwise perfectly open.

All the Scholarships are to be tenable for five years, with the exception of the Townsend Scholarships, which are to be tenable for eight years; the holders, however, sharing in the emoluments during four years only.

Queen Anne annexed a Canonry of Gloucester to the Mastership for ever.

XIX. WORCESTER COLLEGE.

THIS College, originally Gloucester Hall*, was founded in 1714, by Sir Thomas Cookes, of Bentley, in Worcestershire, Bart., for a Provost, six Fellows, and six Scholars. Fellowships and Scholarships were subsequently added by James Finney, D.D., Prebendary of Durham; by Sarah Eaton, daughter of Byrom Eaton, D.D., formerly Principal of Gloucester Hall; by George Clarke, D.C.L., Fellow of All Souls College, and one of the Representatives in Parliament for the University; and by Robert Barnes, Esq.

Under powers granted by the Act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 81, the Fellowships will be ultimately reduced to the number of thirteen, and will be open without any preference, except that candidates for Fellowships on the Foundation of Mrs. Sarah Eaton must not be possessed of any property, or income, exceeding £150 per annum, and must be sons of Clergymen of the United Church of England and Ireland.

There are sixteen Scholarships of the value of about £75, tenable for five years from matriculation: six on the Foundation of Sir Thomas Cookes, for persons educated at Bromsgrove School; one on the Foundation of Dr. Finney, for natives of Staffordshire; five on the Foundation of Mrs. Sarah Eaton, for sons of Clergymen of the Church of England, who want assistance to support them in the University; three on the Foundation of Dr. Clarke, which are entirely open; and one on the foundation of Robert Barnes, Esq., of the value of £120, for the encouragement of Biblical studies, also entirely open.

* Gloucester Hall was founded in the year 1288, for the use of the Benedictine Monks of the Monastery of St. Peter in Gloucester. Several additional Buildings were afterwards added by the Monks of that order, in different parts of England, for the edification of those of their own Societies. After the dissolution of Monasteries, in the time of Henry VIII., on making Oxford a see, it was converted into the Episcopal Palace; but in the year 1559, it was purchased by Sir Thomas White, the Founder of St. John's, who gave it the name of "St. John Baptist Hall," though it was more generally called "Gloucester Hall."

There will be likewise four Exhibitions on the Foundation of Sir Thomas Cookes, of the value of £42, for persons educated at Bromsgrove School.

There are also two Exhibitions left by Lady Holford, in aid of Exhibitions from the Charterhouse; and one by Mr. Kay for a native of Yorkshire.

HERTFORD COLLEGE.

Was first called Hert Hall, from Elias de Hertford, who lived in the tenth year of the reign of Edward I. In the year 1312 it came, together with another messuage adjoining, into the possession of Walter Stapledon, Bishop of Exeter, who, proceeding in an intention which he previously entertained of founding a house for students in Oxford, obtained the King's Licence May 10, 1314, to grant the said two messuages to twelve scholars studying in the University of Oxford; but about a year after, the founder, having purchased other lands and tenements, transferred the scholars to St. Stephen's Hall, upon the site of which Exeter College now stands.

In 1739 Richard Newton, D.D., sometime Principal of this Hall, having made an endowment to the College, and having also erected a chapel and other buildings, and compiled rules and statutes, obtained, August 27, 1740, from King George II. a Royal Charter for raising this Hall into a perpetual College, consisting of a Principal, and four Senior Fellows or Tutors, and eight Junior Fellows or Assistants, by the name of Hertford College, the said Richard Newton being the first Principal.

In 1805, upon the death of Bernard Hodgson the then Principal, the College was dissolved.

KEBLE COLLEGE.

THE College was built by subscription as a memorial to the late Rev. John Keble, Vicar of Hursley, near Winchester, sometime Fellow and Tutor of Oriel College, and Professor of Poetry in the University of Oxford. The College was incorporated by Royal Charter bearing date June 6, 1870, and by this Charter it is declared to be "founded and constituted with the especial object and intent of providing persons desirous of academical education, and willing to live economically, with a College wherein sober living and high culture of the mind may be combined with Christian training based upon the principles of the Church of England." The College is governed by a Warden and a Council of not less than nine, nor more than twelve, members. The whole charge and superintendence of the discipline and internal administration is lodged by the Charter in the hands of the Warden.

By a decree of Convocation passed June 16, 1870, the Vice-Chancellor was empowered to matriculate Students from Keble College pending the consideration of the question under what, if any, statutory provisions new Foundations should be recognised within the University^b.

WARDEN.

1870 EDWARD STUART TALBOT.

^b By a decree of Convocation passed April 18, 1871, this College was admitted to the privileges mentioned in Statt. Tit. II. Sect. vi., On New Foundations for Academical Study and Education.

HALLS.

THE Academical Halls now existing in Oxford are mansions for the reception of students, who live in them under discipline and instruction, and pass through the course of study to their several degrees, precisely in the same way as other students who reside in Colleges. But the term "Hall" implies also the society of students belonging to each; and in this sense there is a very important difference between Halls and Colleges, inasmuch as Halls are not corporate bodies, and have no endowments for Fellows, and all the property which they own is held in trust for them by the University. In two Halls some provision for the Principals has been made by Benefactors; and there are three in which a few Exhibitions or Scholarships have been founded.

In early times students resorting to Oxford took up their abode in lodging-houses, generally called Halls, under the charge of a Master or Principal chosen by themselves; and they removed from one Hall to another at their pleasure. The number of such Halls on record is so great, that we must suppose that very many of them were very small. Brian Twyne, at the end of his Apologia, has given the names of more than 180; and Sir John Peshall, from Wood's MSS., enumerates as many as 200. But Colleges gradually took the place of all the smallest, partly by the actual occupation of their sites, principally by offering better instruction and other advantages to students; so that when the Earl of Leicester was Chancellor, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, there were but eight remaining open; and three of these were subsequently converted into Colleges.

Among the many steps taken by Lord Leicester for the restoration of good order and discipline in the University there are two which have tended to assimilate Halls to Colleges in most things concerning the residence of students within them. He secured for himself and his successors the right of appointing Principals to all Halls, except one in the gift of Queen's College; and he caused an ancient Statute to be put in force, which required that every student should belong to, and should reside within the walls of, some College or Hall. The modification of that Statute in 1855 by the institution of Private Halls, and the removal of its restrictions in 1868, have been already mentioned at page 50, and will be further spoken of at page 104.

The Heads of Halls are styled "Principals." In four of the five which still remain the Principal is appointed by the Chancellor of the University; in the fifth, St. Edmund Hall, the appointment is made by the Provost and Fellows of Queen's College. The Chancellor is the Visitor of all. Halls are governed by the Statuta Aularia, a code of regulations printed in the Statute Book, which were made originally by the University, and have been amended from time to time by Convocation. The Principal of each Hall is assisted in the exercise of discipline and in his other duties by a Vice-Principal and other Officers (when necessary), who are appointed by himself.

ST. MARY HALL.

THIS Hall was originally a tenement on the present site, given by Henry Kelpe, a citizen of Oxford, in 1239, to the Rector of St. Mary's Church, and his successors. It continued to be the Parsonage-house of the Rectors, till Edward II., in 1325, gave the Church with all its appurtenances to Oriel College. It was converted by that Society, in 1333, into a separate place of education, and subsequently became an independent Academical Hall, receiving successive enlargement and improvements in its buildings, principally at the expense of the late Principals, King, Nowell, and Dean, and the late Bishop of Hereford. It enjoys the following Benefactions:

Thomas Dyke, M.D. granted by deed, in 1667, a moiety of the great tythes of the Parsonages of King's Brompton and Winsford, in the county of Somerset, towards the support of four Scholars at this Hall, born and resident in that county. The original foundation having been found inconvenient, a new scheme was sanctioned by the Court of Chancery in 1840, according to which, aided by the liberality of Sir Thomas Dyke Acland, Bart., the foundation was to extend to six Scholarships. That scheme has in turn been superseded by regulations framed by the University Commissioners in 1858.

The Scholarships are now four in number, tenable for four years from the day of appointment. The stipend of each is at present £50 per annum (with a prospect of gradual increase to £75), Sir T. D. Acland's benefaction being continued. The preference to Candidates of the name or kindred of the Founder is abolished.

Thomas Nowell, D.D., formerly Principal of the Hall, left, by Will, certain shares in the Oxford Canal Navigation, for founding an Exhibition at the Hall, and for other purposes therein mentioned. The Exhibition is now of the value of £30 per annum, and tenable for four years from Matriculation; preference being given first to kin of the Founder or of his Wife, then to the lawful descendants of the Rev. John Rawbone (sometime Vice-Principal of St. Mary Hall) by Jane Mary his wife.

ST. MARY MAGDALEN HALL.

THE School with the Refectory and Chambers, erected by Bishop Waynflete for Students previous to admission into his College, obtained the appellation of St. Mary Magdalen Hall as early as 1487, and was governed by one of the Fellows till 1602, when it became an independent Hall. The President and Fellows of Magdalen College, desirous of recovering this site, obtained in 1816 an Act of Parliament, which authorized them to prepare, for the reception of this Society, Hertford College, which had lapsed to the Crown; and the Principal and other Members removed there on its completion in 1822.

This Hall is possessed of the following Scholarships and Exhibitions.

Four Scholarships (present value £40 per annum each) of the foundation of the Rev. John Meeke, for persons educated at the Worcester Cathedral School; three open Scholarships (present value £50 per annum each) founded by Henry Lusby, Esq.; one open Scholarship (present value £50 per annum) founded in honour of Dr. Macbride; two Exhibitions founded by the Rev. William Lucy, for persons educated at the Hampton Lucy School; and two Exhibitions, founded by Dr. Thomas White and Dr. Henry Brunsell respectively, in the appointment of the Principal. If the Candidates from the above-mentioned Schools shall not, in the judgment of the Principal, be of sufficient merit, the Scholarships and Exhibitions are to be thrown open to general competition.

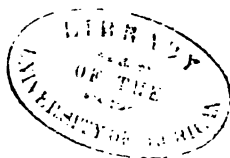

All the Scholarships and Exhibitions are tenable for three years.

NEW INN HALL.

THIS Hall, situate on the west side of the North Bailey, was formerly known by the name of Trilleck's Inn, from the circumstance of its belonging to John Trilleck, Bishop of Hereford. Trilleck dying intestate in 1360, it became, together with two other tenements adjoining, the property of his brother Thomas, who six years after (he being then Bishop of Rochester) conveyed them to Mr. Hugh Pembridge, Mr. Roger Otterey, and Walter Brown, Rector of the Church of St. Magnus, in London; and they to William of Wykeham, Bishop of Winchester. William of Wykeham gave them, with three gardens, adjoining on the west side, also a messuage called Rose Hall, and a garden adjoining, to the Warden and Fellows of New College, in 1392. The first Principal on record occurs in 1438.

In the time of the civil war, from 1642 to 1646, this Hall was used as a mint for Charles I., to which the different Colleges and Halls sent their plate to be melted down for His Majesty's use.

It was restored to the purposes of Academical instruction by the late Principal, Dr. Cramer, afterwards Dean of Carlisle; who erected, at his own expense, a handsome building, with suitable offices, for the reception of students.

ST. ALBAN HALL.

THIS Hall took its name from Robert de St. Alban, a citizen of Oxford, who conveyed the tenement to the nuns at Littlemore, near Oxford, in 1230. On the dissolution of Littlemore nunnery, it was given by Henry VIII. to George Owen, D.M. Physician to the King, and Fellow of Merton College, who conveyed it to Sir John Williams, (afterwards Lord Williams of Thame.) and Sir John Gresham. By permission of Edward VI. they assigned it over to John Pollard, and Robert Perrot, Esqrs. in 1547, by whom it was finally transferred to the Warden and Fellows of Merton College, and was some time after established as an Aca-demical Hall.

ST. EDMUND HALL.

ST. EDMUND HALL is sometimes said to derive its name from St. Edmund, Archbishop of Canterbury in the reign of Henry III.

It appears to have been purchased in the year 1269 by the Canons of Osney, and soon afterwards devoted by them to the purposes of academical instruction. The earliest Principals on record are William Boys and John de Cornubia; the latter of whom was Principal in the year 1317. After the dissolution of religious houses, it was granted by Henry VIII. to two citizens of Oxford, through whom it came, by purchase, into the possession of William Denyse, (sometimes written Devenysh, or Dennyson,) Provost of Queen's College. It was by him devised, in 1557, to Queen's College; which Society procured, A.D. 1559, an Act of Congregation, confirmed by the Chancellor, which vested in them the perpetual right of nominating the Principal.

In 1763, George Holme, D.D. sometime Fellow of Queen's College, and Rector of Hedleigh, Hants, bequeathed the sum of £1,000 to the University, in trust to apply it, with accumulated interest, to the purchase of the Advowson of a Living, to which the Principal of St. Edmund Hall should be presented. In 1821, the Advowson of Gatcombe was purchased, to which the University first presented in 1844.

PRIVATE HALLS.

IN pursuance of the Oxford University Act of the year 1854, 17 and 18 Vict., c. 81, §§ 25—27, a Statute was made in 1855, (Tit. XVIII., Sect. ii, De Aulis Privatis,) which enacts, that any Member of Convocation, above the age of 28, may, under certain conditions, obtain from the Vice-Chancellor a licence to open a suitable building as a Private Hall for the reception of academical students with the title of "Licensed Master," and makes provision for the proper government of the students under his charge. They are of course subject to all other Statutes of the University; and they partake in its privileges, and are admissible to its degrees, in the same way as other students.

STUDENTS NOT ATTACHED TO ANY COLLEGE OR HALL.

IN the year 1868 the restrictions of an ancient Statute, which has been already mentioned, were removed; and persons are now permitted, under certain conditions prescribed in Statt. Tit. III. Sect. I., to become Students and Members of the University without being attached to any College or Hall. Such persons keep their statutable residence in houses or lodgings in the town, with the same rights of profiting by Professors' lectures, of competing for University Prizes, of attaining distinction in the Public Examinations, and of being admitted to degrees and to all the consequent privileges, as are enjoyed by other students.

The reception of students into the University under the prescribed conditions, and the general direction and superintendence of them during their residence in Oxford, are committed to a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor and four Members of Convocation nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors, two of whom are styled Censors, under the title of "Delegates of Students not attached to any College or Hall."

The Students are under the supervision of the Censors, who are charged with the care of their conduct and studies.

PROFESSORS.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIPS OF DIVINITY, CIVIL LAW, MEDICINE, HEBREW, AND GREEK.

THESE five Professorships, founded by King Henry VIII., were settled and confirmed by him in 1546. To each of them he assigned a yearly stipend of £40, to be paid by the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, then newly founded; but they relieved themselves of the charge by making over to the King certain estates with which he had partly endowed them; and the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church were then charged by the King with the payment of the stipends of the Professors of Divinity, Hebrew, and Greek, the Professors of Civil Law and Medicine receiving theirs from the Royal Exchequer. King James I. augmented the endowment of three of these Professorships, by annexing to the Chair of Divinity in 1605 a Canonry of Christ Church and the Rectory of Ewelme in Oxfordshire, to the Chair of Law in 1617 a Lay Prebend in the Cathedral Church of Salisbury, since commuted for an annual payment, and to the Chair of Medicine in 1617 the Mastership of the Hospital at Ewelme; and in 1630 King Charles I. annexed a Canonry of Christ Church to the Professorship of Hebrew. To the Professorship of Medicine was also annexed in 1624 the Tomlins Prælectorship of Anatomy, and in 1803 the Aldrichian Professorship of Anatomy; but these were severed from it in 1858 by a new Statute then approved by the Queen in Council, and the Aldrichian Professorship of the Practice of Medicine was annexed to this Chair. In 1865 the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church increased the stipend of the Professor of Greek to the sum of £500.

MARGARET PROFESSORSHIP OF DIVINITY.

This Professorship, the oldest existing in the University, was founded in 1502 by Margaret, Countess of Richmond, mother of Henry VII, and endowed with an annual pension of twenty marks. In 1627 King Charles I annexed to it a Prebend in Worcester Cathedral, which was commuted by Act of Parliament in 1840 for a Canonry of Christ Church. Originally the election was vested in the Graduates in Divinity, and the office became vacant every two years, but was continued by re-election for life. Now, from 1858, not only the Graduates in Divinity, but all those Members of the Congregation of the University who are at least in Deacon's Orders, are electors, and the election is for life. The Professor must be either a Graduate in Divinity or a Master of Arts of seven years' standing and in Priest's Orders.

SAVILIAN PROFESSORSHIPS OF GEOMETRY AND ASTRONOMY.

In the year 1619 Sir Henry Savile, Knight, Warden of Merton College, founded and endowed two Professorships, one in Geometry, and the other in Astronomy. The Professors may be chosen from any part of Christendom, provided they are persons of good character and repute, well skilled in mathematics, and twenty-six years of age: if Englishmen, they must be M.A. at the least. The electors are the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, the Chancellor of the University, the Bishop of London, the Secretary of State for the Home Department, the two Chief Justices, the Chief Baron of the Exchequer, the Dean of the Arches, and the Warden of New College, taking into their counsel the Vice-Chancellor of the University. The endowment of each Chair amounts now to about £300 a-year, and is to be augmented hereafter by the like sum from the revenues of New College under an ordinance of the University Commissioners. For the present the endowment of each Professorship is increased to £400 a-year from the University Chest.

Professors of Geometry.

- 1619 Henry Briggs, M.A., Merton, sometime Fellow of St. John's Cambridge
 1631 Peter Turner, M.A., Fellow of Merton; D.M.

 1810 Abram Robertson, D.D., Ch. Ch., Professor of Geometry
 1827 Stephen Peter Rigaud, M.A., sometime Fellow of Exeter, Professor of Geometry
 1839 George Henry Saxeversell Johnson, M.A., Fellow of Queen's 1842 William Fishburn Donkin, M.A., Fellow of University
 1870 CHARLES PRITCHARD, M.A. F.R.S., F.R.A.S., Fellow of New Coll.; M.A., and sometime Fellow of St. John's, Cambridge.

SEDLIAN PROFESSORSHIP OF NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

This Professorship was founded by Sir William Sedley, of Aylesford in Kent, Bart., who by his will, dated October 29, 1618, bequeathed the sum of £2,000 to the University, to be laid out in the purchase of lands, for its endowment; and his bequest took effect in 1621. The stipend arising from the original endowment is augmented to £300 from the University Chest, and further by an annual payment of £270 from the revenues of Queen's College under an ordinance of the University Commissioners. The electors are the Vice-Chancellor, the Provost of Queen's College, the President of the Royal Society of London, the Astronomer Royal, and alternately the President of Magdalen and the Warden of All Souls.

Professors.

- 1853 BARTHOLOMEW PRICE, M.A., Fellow of Pembroke, F.R.S.

WHYTE'S PROFESSORSHIP OF MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

This Professorship was founded in the year 1621 by Thomas Whyte, D.D., Canon of Christ Church, who charged an estate in Essex, which he then conveyed to the University, with an annual stipend of £100 for the Professor and with other payments. He made the Chair tenable for five years only, or at the most for ten, and appointed the Vice-Chancellor, the Dean of Christ Church, the Presidents of Magdalen and St. John's, and the two Proctors, to be the electors.

In 1673 a practice began of electing one of the Proctors, usually the Senior, to the office; in course of time the Lectures were entirely dropped; and at length the Professorship was so forgotten, that it was never mentioned in the Oxford Calendar before the year 1831, the abuse having continued, with one exception only, till February 1829.

Under a new Statute, which was approved by the Queen in Council in 1858, the Professor is now elected for life, and the electors are the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Dean of Christ Church, the Presidents of Magdalen and St. John's, the Margaret Professor, the Vinerian Professor, and the Professors of Modern History and of Logic. The stipend is augmented to £400 out of the University Chest.

CAMDEN PROFESSORSHIP OF ANCIENT HISTORY.

The Professorship of Ancient History was founded in the year 1622 by William Camden, Esq., Clarencieux King at Arms, who endowed it with an annual stipend of £140, charged upon the manor of Bexley in Kent, which he gave to the University. The stipend is now augmented to £600 out of the University Chest. The Professor is elected by Convocation.

TOMLINS PROFESSORSHIP OF ANATOMY.

A Lecture in Anatomy was founded in 1624 by Richard Tomlins, Esq., of Westminster, who assigned it to the Regius Professor of Medicine for the time being; and to this was annexed in 1803 the Professorship of Anatomy founded by Dr. Aldrich. By a new Statute, approved by the Queen in Council in 1858, both are now annexed to the Linacre Professorship of Physiology.

PROFESSORSHIP OF MUSIC, WITH OFFICES OF CHORAGUS AND PRÆCENTOR.

William Heather, Doctor in Music, founded this Professorship in the year 1626, making the office annual, and vesting the appointment in the Proctors. He also made provision for a Choragus, or Master of Musical Praxis, to be elected by the Vice-Chancellor, the Dean of Christ Church, the Warden of New College, and the Presidents of Magdalen and St. John's. He assigned to his Professor a stipend of £3, to which the University at once added £2 5s. (a sum previously received by the ancient Reader in Moral Philosophy), and to which Nathaniel, Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham, afterwards added £30. The stipend of the Choragus was £13 6s. 8d.

By a new Statute, approved by the Queen in Council in 1857, the Professor is elected for life by the Vice-Chancellor, the Warden of New College, the President of Magdalen, the Dean of Christ Church, the President of St. John's, the two Proctors, the two Savilian Professors, and the Professor of Poetry; and the Choragus is elected by the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Professor of Music, and the Public Orator; each election being subject to the approval of Convocation. And it was enacted that there shall be a Præcentor or Coryphæus, nominated by the Professor of Music, subject to the approval of Convocation, who is to assist the Choragus. The stipend of the Professor is augmented to £100 out of the University Chest, besides the benefaction of Lord Crewe. The stipend of the Choragus is the same as Dr. Heather left it, but he shares with the Præcentor in the fees paid by Students.

Professors, holding also the office of Choragus.

- 1626 Richard Nicholson, B. Mus., Organist of Magdalen
- 1639 Arthur Philipps, B. Mus., Organist of Magdalen

LAUDIAN PROFESSORSHIP OF ARABIC.

Founded in 1636 by William Laud, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Chancellor of the University, who endowed it with lands in the parish of Bray, in Berkshire, which gave but a small stipend. The income is now augmented to £300 out of the University Chest.

By a new Statute, approved by the Queen in Council in 1858, the Professor is elected by the Presidents of St. John's and Magdalen, the Wardens of New College and All Souls, the Regius Professor of Hebrew, the Professor of Sanskrit, the Regius Professor of Greek, and the Professor of Latin. In case of an equality, the Vice-Chancellor decides.

Professors.

- 1636 Edward Pococke, B.D., Fellow of Corpus; afterwards Regius Professor of Hebrew, D.D.
 1691 Thomas Hyde, D.D., Queen's, Bodley's Librarian; afterwards Regius Professor of Hebrew

 1840 Stephen Reay, M.A., St. Alban Hall; B.D.; Sub-Librarian of the Bodleian
 1861 ROBERT GANDELL, M.A., Magdalen Hall.

PROFESSORSHIP OF BOTANY.

In compliance with the Will of Henry Danvers, Earl of Danby, by whose munificence during the period 1622—1633 the Botanic Garden was founded, the impropriate Rectory of Kirkdale in Yorkshire was conveyed to the University for the purpose, 1. of paying £40 a-year to a Gardener; 2. of building a house for the Gardener; 3. of defraying the necessary expences of the Garden, and then (if possible) establishing a Professor. This bequest took effect in 1659; and in 1669, although the revenue was very small, the University then elected a Professor, assigning him a stipend of £40 a-year. But that Professor, Dr. Morison, stands alone; no immediate successor was elected by Convocation.

In 1728 William Sherard, D.C.L., sometime Fellow of St. John's College, bequeathed to the University his library and very valuable Herbarium, and £3,000 for the endowment of a Professorship, vesting the nomination in the College of Physicians. Dr. Sherard's bequest took effect in 1734, and, in compliance with a condition in his Will, the University then charged its rents and revenues with an annual payment of £150 for the maintenance of the Garden.

In 1793 King George III. granted the sum of £200 yearly, which was reduced by fees of office to £182, half to augment the stipend of the Professor, and half towards the maintenance of the Garden; which sum, since the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, is paid from the University Chest.

To this foundation the late Dr. Sibthorp attached a Professorship of Rural Economy, with a stipend of £200 a-year, which commenced in the year 1840, upon the completion of the Flora Græca.

Professors.

- 1669 Robert Morison, D.M., University

PROFESSORSHIP OF POETRY.

Founded by Henry Birkhead, sometime of Trinity, afterwards Fellow of All Souls, a Barrister of the Inner Temple, and D.C.L., who bequeathed for the endowment an estate which he held by lease from the Dean and Chapter of Durham. His bequest took effect in 1708. The fee-simple of the estate has since been purchased by the University. The yearly stipend of the Professorship consists of £80 from the rent of the estate, and is increased by £20 from the benefaction of Nathaniel Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham. The Professor is elected by the Members of Convocation for five years, on the expiration of which he may be re-elected for five years more. He must be at the least a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law.

THE LORD ALMONER'S PROFESSORSHIP OF ARABIC.

The origin of this Professorship cannot be ascertained, for the records of the Almonry Office anterior to the year 1724 perished in a fire which took place many years ago in St. James's Palace. But it is probable that the first appointment was made in the reign of George I., and that no person held it before the eminent Orientalist, John Gagnier, whose name is now the first on record, and who in 1717 was appointed by the Vice-Chancellor to give public Lectures in Arabic in the absence of the Laudian Professor.

The Professor is appointed by the Lord High Almoner. The yearly stipend, which at first was only £25, was raised to £50 in 1770; but this sum is considerably reduced by fees of office in the Exchequer.

Professors.

- 1724 John Gagnier, M.A., of Cambridge
- 1741 Thomas Hunt, M.A., Fellow of Hertford, and Laudian Professor of Arabic; D.D.; afterwards Regius Professor of Hebrew
- 1748 Richard Browne, B.D., Fellow of Trinity; D.D.; afterwards Regius Professor of Hebrew

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIP OF MODERN HISTORY.

This Professorship was founded by King George I. in 1724 with an annual stipend of £400, reduced by fees of office to £371, to be paid from the Exchequer. This stipend, since the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, is paid from the University Chest. Under an ordinance of the University Commissioners the endowment has been augmented by the annual sum of £250 from the revenues of Oriel College.

Regulations concerning the duties of the Professor were made by Letters Patent under the Great Seal in 1859. The original Regulations comprised a scheme for instruction in modern languages, which is now provided by Sir Robert Taylor's bequest.

Professors.

- 1724 David Gregory, M.A., Student, afterwards Dean, of Ch. Ch.
- 1736 William Holmes, D.D., President of St. John's
- 1742 Joseph Spence, M.A., Fellow of New College, sometime Professor of Poetry
- 1768 John Vivian, M.A., Fellow of Balliol
- 1771 Thomas Nowell, D.D., Principal of St. Mary Hall
- 1801 Henry Beeke, D.D., sometime Fellow of Oriel
- 1813 Edward Nares, M.A., sometime Fellow of Merton; D.D.
- 1841 Thomas Arnold, D.D., sometime Fellow of Oriel
- 1842 John Antony Cramer, D.D., Principal of New Inn Hall, and Public Orator
- 1848 Henry Alford Vaughan, M.A., sometime Fellow of Oriel
- 1858 Goldwin Smith, M.A., Fellow of University
- 1866 WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., sometime Fellow of Trinity, Fellow of Oriel.

PROFESSORSHIP OF EXPERIMENTAL PHILOSOPHY.

This Professorship is due to the bounty of Nathaniel Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham 1674—1722, who desired that £30 out of the annual benefaction of £200 which he bequeathed to the University should be paid to “a Reader of Experimental Philosophy.” It began in 1749, when his bequest was first received; but Public Lectures on the subject were previously given. To this small stipend King George IV., while Prince Regent, added a grant of £100 a-year from the revenues of the Crown; which sum, since the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, is paid from the University Chest. The University has further augmented the stipend to £300 a-year; and, under an ordinance of the University Commissioners, the Professor also receives the annual sum of £200 from the revenues of Wadham College. The Professor was appointed by the Vice-Chancellor alone until the year 1863, but is now elected by a board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Warden of Wadham, the Savilian Professor of Astronomy, the Sedleian Professor of Natural Philosophy, and the Waynflete Professor of Chemistry.

Readers or Professors.

- 1749 James Bradley, D.D., Balliol, Savilian Professor of Astronomy
 1763 Thomas Horsby, M.A., Fellow of Corpus, and Professor of Astronomy; afterwards Professor of Nat. Phil.; D.D.
 1810 Stephen Peter Rigaud, M.A., Fellow of Exeter, and Professor of Geometry; afterwards Professor of Astronomy
 1839 Robert Walker, M.A., Wadham
 1865 ROBERT BELLAMY CLIFTON, (M.A., and formerly Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge), M.A., Hon. Fellow of Wadham; Fellow of Merton; F.R.S., F.R.A.S.

Demonstrator.

ARNOLD W. REINOLD, M.A., Senior Student of Ch. Ch.

VINERIAN PROFESSORSHIP OF COMMON LAW.

Charles Viner, Esq., by his will, dated December 20, 1755, left about £12,000 to the University, to establish a Professorship, and to endow such Fellowships and Scholarships of the Common Law as the produce of his legacy might be thought capable of supporting. His bequest took effect in 1758, and the stipend of the Professorship was then fixed at £200 a-year, and the Professor was to be elected by Convocation.

By a new Statute, approved by the Queen in Council in 1867, the Professor is to be elected by a board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Principal of Jesus College, the Regius Professor of Civil Law, the Chichele Professor of International Law, the Regius Professor of Modern History, and Whyte's Professor of Moral Philosophy, together with the holder of any other Professorship of Law which may hereafter be founded. The yearly stipend, increased by an annual payment of £250 out of the revenues of Jesus College under an ordinance of the University Commissioners, is to be augmented to £600 from the University Chest. The Professor, at the time of his admission, is to be at the least a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law.

By the same Statute, until there shall be a vacancy in the Professorship, a Reader is to be appointed from time to time for three years, who is to give instruction in Civil Law as well as English Law, and is to receive the £250 paid by Jesus College together with the overplus of the Vinerian Fund. The first Reader was appointed February 25, 1868.

Professors.

- 1758 William Blackstone, D.C.L., Fellow of All Souls; afterwards one of the Judges in the Court of Common Pleas
 1762 Robert Chambers, B.C.L., Fellow of University; afterwards Principal of New Inn Hall, and Chief Justice of Bengal
 1777 Richard Wooddeson, D.C.L., Fellow of Magdalen
 1793 James Blackstone, D.C.L., Fellow of All Souls; afterwards Principal of New Inn Hall
 1824 Philip Williams, B.C.L., sometime Fellow of New College; D.C.L.
 1843 JOHN ROBERT KENYON, D.C.L., Fellow of All Souls.

Reader.

- 1868 KENELM EDWARD DIGBY, M.A., Fellow of Corpus.

CLINICAL PROFESSORSHIP.

This Professorship, founded for the reading of Clinical Lectures in the Radcliffe Infirmary to the Students in Medicine of the University, is due to the bounty of George Henry Lee, third Earl of Lichfield of that name, Chancellor of the University; who bequeathed for its endowment some property in London, which in 1780, when his bequest took effect, produced a capital sum exceeding £7,000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities. The Professor is chosen by Convocation. He must be a Doctor of Medicine of five years' standing.

Professors.

- 1780 John Parsons, D.M., Student of Ch. Ch.
- 1785 Martin Wall, D.M., Fellow of New College
- 1824 Robert Bourne, D.M., sometime Fellow of Worcester
- 1830 James Adey Ogle, D.M., Trinity; Regius Professor of Medicine
- 1857 HENRY WENTWORTH ACLAND, D.M., Ch. Ch., sometime Fellow of All Souls, Regius Professor of Medicine.

RAWLINSONIAN PROFESSORSHIP OF ANGLO-SAXON.

Founded by Richard Rawlinson, D.C.L., of St. John's College, who endowed it with some annual or fee-farm rents, payable out of certain lands in Lancashire. He directed that the Professorship should be tenable for five years only, that the several Colleges in the University should enjoy it one after another, but that St. John's College should have every fifth turn. The endowment took effect in 1795, forty years after his death, according to his desire.

By a new Statute, sanctioned by the Queen in Council in 1858, the Professorship is tenable for life, any Member of Convocation is eligible, and the range of the Professor's lectures is no longer confined to the language of the Anglo-Saxons, but takes in also the history of that people, the old Low-German dialects, and the antiquities of Northern Europe. The election is made by the Congregation of the University. The stipend is augmented to £300 a-year from the University Chest.

Professors.

- 1795 Charles Mayo, M.A., Fellow of St. John's
- 1800 Thomas Hardcastle, M.A., Fellow of Merton
- 1803 James Ingram, M.A., Fellow, afterwards President, of Trinity
- 1808 John Josias Conybeare, M.A., Student of Ch. Ch., Prebendary of York; afterwards Professor of Poetry
- 1812 Charles Dyson, M.A., Scholar, afterwards Fellow, of Corpus
- 1817 Thomas Silver, D.C.L., Fellow of St. John's
- 1822 Charles John Ridley, M.A., Fellow of University
- 1827 Arthur Johnson, M.A., Fellow of Wadham
- 1829 Francis Pearson Walesby, B.C.L., Fellow of Lincoln
- 1834 Robert Meadows White, B.D., Fellow of Magdalen
- 1839 Henry Bristow Wilson, B.D., Fellow of St. John's

- 1844 William Edward Buckley, M.A., Fellow of Brasenose
 1849 John Earle, M.A., Fellow of Oriel
 1854—1858 Vacant
 1858 JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D.D., Ch. Ch., incorporated from Trinity College, Cambridge.

ALDRICHIAN PROFESSORSHIPS OF ANATOMY, THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE, AND CHEMISTRY.

These three Professorships were founded by George Aldrich, D.M., sometime of Merton College, who by his will, proved Jan. 26, 1798, bequeathed the residue of his property for their endowment in equal portions. This fund in 1803, when his bequest took effect, amounted to £12,950 in £3 per cent. Government Annuities.

The Professorship of Anatomy, which was annexed by the founder himself to the Tomlins Prælectorship, and so to the Regius Professorship of Medicine, is now annexed, under a Statute sanctioned by the Queen in Council in 1858, to the Linacre Professorship of Physiology.

The Professorship of the Practice of Medicine, which at first was in the gift of Convocation, and was held from 1803 to 1824 by Dr. Bourne, afterwards Clinical Professor, and from 1824 to 1857 by Dr. Ogle, Clinical Professor, is now annexed, under a similar Statute, to the Regius Professorship of Medicine.

The Professorship of Chemistry was in the gift of Convocation. The stipend was augmented by King George IV., while Prince Regent, by a grant of £100 from the revenues of the Crown; which sum, after the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, was paid from the University Chest: and the whole is now, since the suppression of the Professorship in 1866, applied to the payment of the salary of a Demonstrator and to the purchase of chemical apparatus or other means towards the promotion of the study of Chemistry in the University.

Professors of Chemistry.

- 1803 John Kidd, D.M., Student of Ch.Ch.
 1822 Charles Giles Bridle Daubeny, D.M., Fellow of Magdalen
 1855 BENJAMIN COLLINS BRODIE, B.A., Balliol; now Sir B. C. Brodie, Bart., M.A.

Demonstrator.

- T. H. G. WYNDHAM, M.A., Fellow of Merton.

PROFESSORSHIPS OF MINERALOGY AND GEOLOGY.

Lectures in Mineralogy and in Geology having been delivered before the University by permission of the Vice-Chancellor, King George IV., while Prince Regent, was pleased to endow two Chairs for those subjects by a grant of £100 a-year for each from the revenues of the Crown, the former in 1813, the latter in 1818. These stipends, since the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, are paid from the University Chest. And the University has augmented them by the further annual payment of £150 to the Professor of Mineralogy and of £300 to the Professor of Geology, subject to certain conditions, whereof residence is one. The Professors are appointed by the Vice-Chancellor.

Professors of Mineralogy.

- 1813 William Buckland, B.D., Fellow of Corpus; afterwards Canon of Ch. Ch., D.D., and Dean of Westminster
 1856 MERVIN HERBERT NEVIL STORY-MASKELYNE, M.A., Wadham.

Professors of Geology.

- 1818 William Buckland, B.D., Fellow of Corpus; afterwards Canon of Ch. Ch., D.D., and Dean of Westminster
 1856 JOHN PHILLIPS, M.A., Magdalen; afterwards Hon. Fellow of Magdalen, and Hon. D.C.L.

PROFESSORSHIP OF POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Founded in the year 1825 by Henry Drummond, Esq., of Albury Park, in the county of Surrey, and formerly of Christ Church, who charged his estate with a yearly rent of £100 for the endowment. The Professor is elected by Convocation. He must be at the least a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law, and must have graduated regularly in this University. The Professorship is not tenable for more than five years together, and at first no one could be re-elected to it until after an interval of two years, but this latter restriction has been abolished by a Statute made in December, 1867.

Professors.

- 1825 Nassau William Senior, M.A., sometime Fellow of Magdalen
 1830 Richard Whately, D.D., Principal of Alban Hall; afterwards Archbishop of Dublin
 1832 William Forster Lloyd, M.A., Student of Ch. Ch.

- 1837 Herman Merivale, M.A., sometime Fellow of Balliol
 1842 Travers Twiss, D.C.L., Fellow of University; afterwards
 Regius Professor of Civil Law, and Chancellor of the Dioceses of London, Lincoln, Hereford, and St. David's; F.R.S.
 1847 Nassau William Senior, again
 1852 George Kettilby Rickards, M.A., sometime Michel Fellow of Queen's
 1857 Charles Neate, M.A., Fellow of Oriel
 1862 James E. T. Rogers, M.A., Magdalen Hall
 1868 BONAMY PRICE, M.A., Worcester.

BODEN PROFESSORSHIP OF SANSKRIT.

The late John Boden, Esq., Colonel in the East India Company's service, bequeathed the whole of his property to the University, for the purpose of promoting the study of Sanskrit literature, "being of opinion that a more general and critical knowledge of the Sanskrit language will be a means of enabling his Countrymen to proceed in the conversion of the Natives of India to the Christian Religion, by disseminating a knowledge of the Sacred Scriptures amongst them, more effectually than all other means whatsoever." Regulations for carrying his purpose into effect by establishing a Professorship and Scholarships have been made by Decrees of the Court of Chancery in 1830 and 1860.

The Professor is elected by Convocation. He must be twenty-five years of age; and at the time of his admission to the office he must be, and must continue to be, a member of some College or Hall. The yearly stipend, which now is not much less than £900, may be increased by accumulations of the fund to £1,000, which sum it is never to exceed.

Professors.

- 1832 Horace Hayman Wilson, M.A., Exeter
 1860 MONIER WILLIAMS, M.A., University.

PROFESSORSHIP OF LOGIC.

Anciently it was the duty of every Regent M.A. to give instruction in the Arts in which he had graduated; afterwards the University provided that in four of them, for which no Chair had been endowed, namely, Grammar, Rhetoric, Logic, and Metaphysics, Lectures should be regularly given by Readers appointed for the purpose, who received stipends from a small tax levied upon the Inceptors of each year and upon the Students who were bound to attend the Lectures. After the introduction of the Procuratorial Cycle in 1629, these Readers were chosen according to that Cycle, and held office for two years. At length these Lectures, like the Lectures on Moral Philosophy, fell into disuse, and even the form of electing Readers was dropped, although the tax for their maintenance was still collected. This continued till the year 1839, when a Statute was passed, which, omitting the subjects of Grammar, Rhetoric, and Metaphysics, directed that there should be a regular Prælector of Logic, elected by Convocation for a period of ten years, but capable of re-election, who should receive as his stipend the produce of a small tax levied upon all Members of the University below the degree of Master of Arts. By subsequent Statutes the stipend has been raised to £400 a-year, and the Professorship is tenable for life. The Professor must be a Master of Arts or a Doctor in one of the three superior faculties.

Professors.

- 1839 Richard Michell, B.D., Fellow of Lincoln ; afterwards Public Orator, and Principal of Magdalen Hall 1849 HENRY WALL, M.A., Fellow of Balliol.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIPS OF PASTORAL THEOLOGY AND ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY.

An Act of Parliament of the year 1840, Stat. 3 & 4 Vict. c. 113, directed that two Canonries of Christ Church, when next vacant, should be annexed to two new Professorships, which Her Majesty was intending to found in this University ; and in 1842 these two Chairs were established by Letters Patent under the Great Seal, the University having undertaken to pay a yearly stipend of £300 to each Professor until he should succeed to his Canonry. The first Canonry fell vacant in 1849, the second in 1858.

Regius Professor of Pastoral Theology.

- 1842 CHARLES ATMORE OGILVIE, D.D., sometime Fellow of Balliol ; afterwards Canon of Ch. Ch.

Regius Professors of Ecclesiastical History.

- 1842 Robert Hussey, B.D., Student of Ch. Ch.
 1856 Arthur Penrhyn Stanley, M.A., sometime Fellow of University, D.D. ; afterwards Dean of Westminster

- 1864 Walter Waddington Shirley, M.A., sometime Fellow of Wadham ; D.D. ; Canon of Ch. Ch.
 1867 Henry Longueville Mansel, B.D. ; Canon of Ch. Ch., D.D., sometime Fellow of St. John's and Waynflete Professor of Moral Philosophy ; afterwards Dean of St. Paul's 1868 WILLIAM BRIGHT, M.A., Fellow of University ; D.D., Canon of Ch. Ch.

PROFESSORSHIP OF THE EXEGESIS OF HOLY SCRIPTURE.

This Professorship was founded by John Ireland, D.D., of Oriel College, Dean of Westminster, the Founder of the Scholarships which bear his name, who bequeathed to the University the sum of £10,000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for its endowment. He died in 1842, and his bequest took effect in 1847. The Professor is appointed by the Heads of Colleges and Halls.

Professors.

- 1847 Edward Hawkins, D.D., Provost of Oriel
 1861 Robert Scott, D.D., Master of Balliol ; afterwards Dean of Rochester
 1870 HENRY PARRY LIDDON, M.A., Student of Ch. Ch., Hon. D.C.L., D.D., Canon of St. Paul's.

PROFESSORSHIP OF MODERN EUROPEAN LANGUAGES.

Founded in fulfilment of the intention of Sir Robert Taylor, (for which see the article on the "Taylor Institution,") and endowed with a stipend of £500 a-year from the Taylor fund, but suppressed in 1869. The Professor was elected by the Curators of the Institution, subject to the approval of Convocation, for five years at a time, after which he might be elected again. He was obliged to be matriculated before his admission to the office.

Professors.

- 1848 Frederick Henry Trithen (Dr. Ph.), M.A., University
 1854 MAX MÜLLER, M.A., Ch. Ch. ; Fellow of All Souls.

CORPUS PROFESSORSHIP OF LATIN LITERATURE.

Founded in 1854 by the President and Fellows of Corpus Christi College in accordance with the intention of their Founder, Bishop Fox, and endowed with a stipend of £600 a-year from the revenues of the College, the Professor occupying the position of an Honorary Fellow in that Society. The Professor must be a Master of Arts or a Doctor in one of the three superior faculties. He is elected by the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the President and one Fellow of Corpus, the Regius Professor of Greek, the Professors of Ancient History and of Poetry, the Public Orator, and the Senior Examiner and Senior Moderator in the Classical Honour Schools.

Professors.

- 1854 John Conington, M.A., Fellow of University
1870 EDWIN PALMER, M.A., sometime Fellow of Balliol.

CHICHELE'S PROFESSORSHIPS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW AND DIPLOMACY, AND OF MODERN HISTORY.

Founded by the Ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854 relating to All Souls College, and each endowed with the emoluments of five suppressed Fellowships in the College or with a stipend of £750 a-year from its revenues. The Professors are elected by the Visitor and the Warden of the College, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, the Judge of the High Court of Admiralty, and the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. The first Professor of Law was elected in 1859, the first Professor of History in 1862.

Professor of International Law and Diplomacy.

- 1859 MOUNTAGUE BERNARD, B.C.L., sometime Scholar of Trinity; afterwards of All Souls, and a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council; D.C.L.

Professor of Modern History.

- 1862 MONTAGU BURROWS, M.A., Magdalen Hall, afterwards Fellow of All Souls.

WAYNFLETE PROFESSORSHIPS OF MORAL AND METAPHYSICAL
PHILOSOPHY, AND OF CHEMISTRY.

These are two of four Professorships directed by the Ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854 relating to Magdalen College to be founded within that College, in lieu of three Prælectorships mentioned in its ancient Statutes, and to be maintained by a stipend of £600 a-year for each. The Professor of Moral and Metaphysical Philosophy is elected by the Chancellor of the University, the Visitor and the President of the College, and the Regius Professors of Divinity and of Civil Law; the Professor of Chemistry by the Chancellor of the University, the Visitor and the President of the College, and the Presidents of the Royal Society and of the College of Physicians.

Professors of Moral and Metaphysical Philosophy.

- 1859 Henry Longueville Mansel, B.D., sometime Fellow of St. John's, D.D., afterwards Regius Professor of Ecclesiastical History, and Dean of St. Paul's 1867 HENRY WILLIAM CHANDLER, M.A., Fellow of Pembroke.

Professor of Chemistry.

- 1865 SIR BENJAMIN COLLINS BRODIE, Bart., M.A., Balliol.

LINACRE PROFESSORSHIP OF PHYSIOLOGY.

Founded by Ordinances of the University Commissioners of 1854 relating to Merton College, and endowed with the emoluments of Four Fellowships in that College to an amount not exceeding £800 a-year. The Professor is elected by the Visitor and the Warden of Merton, and the Presidents of the College of Physicians in London, the College of Surgeons of England, and the Royal Society.

By a Statute of the University, approved by the Queen in Council in 1858, the Tomlins Prælectorship of Anatomy and the Aldrichian Professorship of Anatomy, which were originally annexed to the Regius Professorship of Medicine, are now annexed to this Chair; but their united stipends, which amount to about £200 a-year, are charged with the salary of a Demonstrator of Anatomy, who is also Keeper of the Physiological Collection in the University Museum.

Professor.

- 1860 GEORGE ROLLESTON, D.M., Fellow of Pembroke.

Demonstrator.

CHARLES ROBERTSON.

HOPE PROFESSORSHIP OF ZOOLOGY.

Founded in 1861 by the Rev. Frederick William Hope, M.A. and Hon. D.C.L., formerly of Ch. Ch., to whose munificence the University is also indebted for a large Entomological Collection, a Library of Natural History, and a vast Collection of Engraved Portraits, and endowed by him with a capital sum of £10,000 New £3 per cent. Annuities. Mr. Hope died in the early part of 1862; and shortly afterwards his widow, in fulfilment of his intentions, transferred to the University a second sum of £10,000 in the same stock, and assigned one-third of the dividends to the Professor in augmentation of his stipend*. The Founder himself nominated the first Professor; but the election is now vested in the Curators of the Hope Collections and the Linacre Professor of Physiology. At the time of his admission he must be at least a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law or Medicine. He is required to superintend and arrange the Hope Collection of Annulose Animals, and to take charge of the Natural History portion of the Hope Library.

The Hope Curators are the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Regius Professor of Medicine, the Keeper of the Ashmolean Museum, Richard Greswell, B.D., late Fellow of Worcester, and John O. Westwood, M.A., Magdalen.

Professor.

1861 JOHN O. WESTWOOD, M.A., Magdalen.

PROFESSORSHIP OF COMPARATIVE PHILOLOGY.

Founded by the University in 1868, and endowed with a stipend of £600 a-year. The Statute of foundation named the first Professor: hereafter the election is vested in the Vice-Chancellor, and the Professors of Hebrew, Sanskrit, Greek, Latin, and Anglo-Saxon, the Vice-Chancellor having a casting vote.

Professor.

1868 MAX MÜLLER, M.A., Fellow of All Souls, sometime Taylorian Professor of Modern European Languages.

* Mrs. Hope assigned another third part of the dividends as a stipend for the Keeper of the Hope Collection of Engravings mentioned at the end of the article on the Bodleian Library, and directed the remainder to be applied in equal portions to keeping up and increasing the two Hope Collections. In December, 1864, Mrs. Hope gave a further sum of £1,666 18s. 4d. in the same Stock, to augment the stipend of the Keeper of the Engravings, for the purpose of enabling him to employ an assistant and to meet expenses incidental to his duties.

CORPUS PROFESSORSHIP OF JURISPRUDENCE.

Founded in 1869 by the President and Fellows of Corpus Christi College, and endowed with a stipend of £600 a-year from the revenues of the College. The election of the Professor is vested in a board of five persons, namely, the Regius Professor of Civil Law, the Chichele Professor of International Law, two eminent lawyers selected by Corpus Christi College with the approval of Convocation, and some one deputed member of that Society.

Professor.

1869 HENRY JAMES SUMNER MAINE, (L.L.D., Trinity Hall, Cambridge), Hon. D.C.L., M.A., Corpus.

SLADE PROFESSORSHIP OF FINE ART.

Founded in 1869 in pursuance of the Will of Felix Slade, Esq., and endowed by his executors with a capital sum of £12,000 Reduced £3 per cent. Annuities. The Professor is elected for three years only, but may be re-elected. The election is made by a board of seven persons, namely, three Curators of the University Galleries, Bodley's Librarian, the President of the Royal Academy of London, the President of University College, London, and one other appointed for the present by Mr. Slade's executors.

Professor.

1869 JOHN RUSKIN, M.A., Hon. Student of Ch. Ch.

READERSHIP OF ANCIENT HISTORY.

By a Statute passed in 1868 a Readership of Ancient History was instituted for ten years from the beginning of Easter Term 1868, and endowed with a stipend of £200 a-year, payable from the revenues of Brasenose College under an Ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854. The Reader must be a Member of Convocation. He is elected by a board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Principal and one of the Fellows of Brasenose, the Camden Professor of Ancient History, Whyte's Professor of Moral Philosophy, the Chichele Professor of International Law, and the Senior Examiner in the Classical School.

Readers.

1868 William Lambert Newman, M.A., Fellow of Balliol

1870 WILLIAM WOLFE CAPES, M.A., sometime Fellow of Queen's.

FORD'S PROFESSORSHIP OF ENGLISH HISTORY.

In 1870 the University accepted a bequest of £2,000 in £3 per cent. Reduced Annuities, which was contained in the Will of the Rev. James Ford, B.D., Vicar of Navestock in the County of Essex. The amount of the bequest is to be allowed to accumulate until it produces the clear annual sum of £100, which annual sum is to be applied for the founding and endowing of a Professor, to be called Ford's Professor of English History.

But as some years must elapse before the annual interest of the bequest is raised by accumulation to £100, no Statute has yet been framed to regulate the mode of appointment to, or the duties of, the Chair.

GRINFIELD LECTURE

ON THE LXX VERSION OF THE HEBREW SCRIPTURES.

Founded in 1859 by the Rev. Edward Grinfield, M.A., formerly of Lincoln College, who gave £1,000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for the endowment. Shortly before Mr. Grinfield's death, which occurred in July, 1864, the endowment was augmented by a further gift of £500. The Lecturer, who must be in Holy Orders and at least a Master of Arts, is elected by the Hebdomadal Council for two years. He is not to be considered as a Public University Professor or Reader.

Lecturers.

- 1859 Robert Gandell, M.A., Magdalen Hall
- 1861 Edward H. Hansell, B.D., sometime Fellow of Magdalen
- 1863 John Day Collis, D.D., sometime Fellow of Worcester
- 1865 James A. Hessey, D.C.L., sometime Fellow of St. John's
- 1867 James A. Hessey, again
- 1869 WILLIAM KAY, D.D., sometime Fellow of Lincoln.

TEACHERS OF MODERN EUROPEAN LANGUAGES.

In fulfilment of the intention of Sir Robert Taylor, and in connection with the Taylor Institution, there are Teachers of the German, French, Italian, and Spanish Languages, who are appointed by the Curators of the Institution, subject to the approval of Convocation. Each receives an annual stipend of £150 from the Taylor Fund, which may be augmented, at the discretion of the Curators, by small fees from those who attend the lectures and by some additional payment from the Fund.

Teachers.

German—ROBERT BERTRAM.

French—JULES T. T. BUÉ, M.A.

Italian—VITAL DE TIVOLI.

Spanish—Rev. LORENZO LUCENA.

TEACHERS OF HINDUSTANI AND OF INDIAN LAW.

In order to provide necessary instruction for Undergraduates who have been selected, after competitive examination in London, for the Civil Service of the Crown in India, the University in 1869 appointed a Teacher of the Hindustani Language, assigning him an annual stipend of £150 from the University Chest, and allowing him to receive certain Fees from Students. And in October, 1861, Convocation agreed to appoint a Teacher of "the General Principles of Jurisprudence and the Elements of Hindu and Mohammedan Law," with a stipend of £300 from the University Chest. Both appointments were made by way of experiment, the former for five years, the latter for one; and both have since been continued by statute, the Teacher of Indian Law being required to teach Indian History also. The Teacher of Hindustani is elected by Convocation for a period of five years: the Teacher of Indian Law and History is appointed by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors for a period of three years. The former receives £225, the latter £250, as an annual stipend. Each is allowed to receive certain fees from Students.

Teacher of Hindustani.

INSTITUTIONS.

BODLEIAN LIBRARY.

IN the year 1480 the room over the Divinity School, which is now the central limb of the public portion of the Bodleian Library, and which was then just finished, became the repository of the books which the University had acquired by gift from various benefactors, especially from Humphrey "the good Duke of Gloucester," who also contributed liberally to the building. But before the end of the reign of Edward VI., partly through careless management, and partly through extravagant zeal, it had been so entirely rifled of its contents that not one volume remained ; and in 1556 the University, hopeless of its restoration, sold the benches and fittings, and left the walls bare. In this state it remained above forty years, till in 1598 Thomas Bodley, Esq., sometime Fellow of Merton College, resolved to restore the room to the purpose for which it was built, and to secure it by an endowment in land ; and he not only contributed largely in money and books himself, but procured also similar contributions from so many of his friends and other persons, that in November, 1602, the Library was again opened for use with upwards of 2,000 volumes.

Books were given during the next few years beyond what the room could hold, and in 1610 the Founder, who had now been knighted by King James I., proceeded to build an addition to it towards the East with a Proscholium to the Divinity School below, but he died in January, 1613, before this enlargement was quite finished. By his will he made provision for adding a third floor round the intended Quadrangle of the Schools, which at first was to have had two floors only, and for connecting this (now the Picture Gallery) with his Library, and shewed that he contemplated that other extension towards the West, the want of which was felt in less than twenty years after his death, and which, with the Convocation House below, was begun in 1634 and finished in about four years.

The collection has been continually increasing, by donations, some of which have been of great extent and value, by the right to a copy of every work printed in this country, a right to which Sir Thomas Bodley himself gave the origin in a grant which he obtained in 1610 from the Stationers' Company, and by purchases made with moneys arising partly from the estates given by the Founder, partly from other benefactions, and partly from dues paid annually by Members of the University; so that now the Library comprises more than 300,000 volumes, and not only fills the great room which students use and extends into the Picture Gallery, but also occupies every room on the middle floor of the Quadrangle of the Schools.

The Library is under the control of a Board of Curators, consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the five Regius Professors of Divinity, Civil Law, Medicine, Hebrew, and Greek, and five Members of the Congregation of the University elected for ten years by that House.

The administration of the Library is committed to the care of a Librarian, elected by Convocation, with an annual stipend of £700. He is assisted by two Under-Librarians, whom he nominates himself, subject to the approval of the Curators and of Convocation, and who receive a yearly stipend of £300 each. There are also several Assistants, whom the Librarian appoints, subject to the approval of the Curators.

The Library is open between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. from Lady-Day to Michaelmas, between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. from Michaelmas to Lady-Day. But it is closed entirely for a period at Christmas beginning with Christmas Eve and ending with the Feast of Circumcision, on the Feast of the Epiphany, on Good Friday, Easter Eve, and the whole of Easter Week, on Ascension Day, on Monday and Tuesday in Whitsun Week, on the Commemoration Day, on the first seven days in October, on the day preceding the Visitation of the Library, and on the Visitation day itself, which is the 8th of November, or the 7th when the 8th falls on a Sunday. And on other Festivals, when there is a Sermon before the University, it is not opened until the Sermon is over.

All Graduate Members of the University, and all Students of Civil Law or Medicine, have the right to use the Library. Other persons are admitted to study in it on presenting a satisfactory recommendation.

The Picture Gallery, which has been already mentioned as appurtenant to the Library, contains portraits of many eminent persons, who have been Benefactors or Members of the University, models of many edifices both ancient and modern, and many other objects of interest. Each portrait has its name attached.

The building known till lately as "the Radcliffe Library" is now used as a Reading Room in connection with the Bodleian Library, under the name of "Camera Bodleiana," and is open from 10 a.m. till 10 p.m. on every day on which the Library itself is open. It contains on its own shelves and tables all the newest works, and is available for the use of other books, whether printed or manuscript, on a suitable demand being made for them. In the Gallery is deposited the Hope Collection of Engravings, of which the Rev. Joseph S. Treacher, M.A., of Merton College, has been appointed the Keeper: see p. 130.

CLARENDON PRESS.

In January, 1586, Delegates "de impressione librorum" were appointed by Convocation; and about that time Joseph Barnes, having set up a press in Oxford under the authority and patronage of the Earl of Leicester, then Chancellor, and with the help of a loan of £100 from the University Chest^f, is styled "Printer to the University" on the title-

^f See Wood's Annals, an. 1584, vol. ii. pp. 222, 223, ed. Gutch. The assertion made by Ames, that this press was set up at the charge of the Earl of Leicester, seems to be not trustworthy. Certainly the two Dedications prefixed to the first work which issued from the press, Speculum Moraliū Quæstionum in Universam Ethicam Aristotelis, by John Case, sometime pages of his books. Others after him were styled so likewise; but nothing seems to have been done for establishing a University Press on a firm footing, until Archbishop Laud in 1633 procured Letters Patent from King Charles I., granting a very large licence of printing to the University, his chief object being the publication of manuscripts from the Bodleian Library, to which he himself gave more than thirteen hundred.

The work was carried on at first in hired premises; then from 1669 in the Sheldonian Theatre, the Founder of that noble building having appointed it for this use as well as for great assemblies of the University, and having directed that the surplus of the fund which he gave for the maintenance of the fabric should be "employed for the best advantage and encouragement of the Learned Press there designed and already set at work;" next from 1713 in the Clarendon edifice, which was built expressly for this purpose; until in 1830, when the business had quite outgrown such narrow limits, it was moved to the present spacious Printing Office, which was begun in 1825 from a design made by Mr. Daniel Robertson, and was finished under the superintendence of Mr. Blore.

The management of the Printing Office is committed to a Delegacy consisting of the Vice-Chancellor and ten other Members of Convocation, who are nominated, as vacancies occur, by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors. Five of the ten are Perpetual Delegates: each new nomination is made for the term of seven years.

The South side of the building is appropriated, as was the East side of the Clarendon, to the printing of Bibles and Prayer Books, in which department the University from the year 1780 has received into partnership two or more skilled persons, who have then superintended the concern.

The North or "Learned" (called also the "Classical") side is now under the charge of the gentlemen who are partners on the other side. Besides University documents, and books undertaken by the Delegates, printing is done here for private authors or publishers, on the understanding * Francis, second and last Lord Godolphin of Helston, who died in 1785, bequeathed to the University £5,000, and directed "the interest thereof to be applied for the benefit of printing and encouragement of learning." The money was invested in about £7,100 Three per cent. Government Annuities.

that no work is to be begun until the greatest part, if not the whole, is delivered ready for the press, and that nothing is to interrupt the progress of works printed for the Delegates.

Books printed for the Delegates, and those only, have the words E Typographeo Clarendoniano, or At the Clarendon Press, in the imprint^a. An Author or Editor, who has taken the degree of M.A. or B.C.L., printing a work here with his name in the title-page, may use the form, Excudebant Y. Z., Academicæ Typographi, impensis Auctoris or Editoris, or, for English works, Printed by Y. Z., Printers to the University, for the Author or Editor; and a publisher, printing at his own charge a work of such an Author or Editor, may use the same forms with his own name in the room of Auctoris or the Author. In other cases the imprint is simply, Oxonii Excudebant Y. Z., or Oxford, Printed by Y. Z., with the date of the year.

THEATRE.

The Theatre was erected by Gilbert Sheldon, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Chancellor of the University, to provide a room for large and solemn assemblies of the University, and a place for the operations of the University Press, which were carried on in it until their removal to the Clarendon edifice in 1713. The Architect was Sir Christopher Wren. The first stone was laid July 26, 1664, and the building was opened with a solemn ceremony on July 9, 1669. The cost, it is said, was £15,000; and the munificent Founder gave £2,000 more for the purchase of land, the rent of which might maintain the fabric in repair and give a surplus for the advantage "of the Learned Press." John Wills, D.D., Warden of Wadham College, who died in 1806, left £1,000 to keep it in repair. The care of the Theatre and of its funds is committed to two Curators, who are appointed by Convocation from such Doctors as are Delegates of Accounts.

^a During a period of about thirty-four years from March 1829 the words employed were E Typographeo Academico and At the University Press: but in June 1863 the previous name Clarendon, which was still in common use, was formally resumed.

ASHMOLEAN MUSEUM.

The building known by this name was erected at the charge of the University, partly for the reception of the collection of natural and artificial curiosities, which Elias Ashmole, Esq., gave on that condition, and to which additions have since been made by many donors, and partly for the promotion of the study of Chemistry and all Natural Science. Over the north door (now closed) is an inscription, now almost illegible, Museum Ashmoleanum, Scholia Naturalis Historiæ, Officina Chymica. It was begun in 1679, and finished in 1683, and was built by Mr. Wood, a "stone-cutter" or mason, of Oxford¹. Dr. Plot, the first Keeper, was immediately appointed Professor of Chemistry by the Vice-Chancellor.

The Keeper of the Museum used to be nominated by the Visitors appointed by Ashmole's will, namely, the Vice-Chancellor, the Dean of Christ Church, the Principal of Brasenose, the Regius Professor of Medicine, and the two Proctors; and Dr. Rawlinson endowed the office with a stipend of about £75 a-year on certain stringent conditions. These original regulations were superseded by others made in 1858: and these again were abrogated by a Statute which received the sanction of the Queen in Council, 1870. By this Statute the Vice-Chancellor, the Camden Professor of Ancient History, the Regius Professor of Modern History, and two other Members of Convocation to be elected for five years by the Congregation of the University, were constituted Visitors of the Museum. By the same Statute Mr. John Henry Parker, Hon. M.A., who had made a munificent benefaction in augmentation of the Keeper's salary, was nominated to succeed to the Keepership on the first vacancy: afterwards, the Keeper is to be nominated by the Visitors, subject to the approval of Convocation.

The second object for which the building was provided is now attained by the University Museum, and the zoological part of the collection has been removed to that Institution. The MSS. of Anthony Wood and others, which were deposited here, have been transferred to the Bodleian Library. The upper floor of the building has been prepared for an Examination room; the first floor has been made a Museum of Antiquities; and the basement story is the repository of the Arundel Marbles and of other similar remains. The Museum is open daily from 2 till 4.

THE CLARENDON.

It has been stated already that the Clarendon Building was erected for a Printing House, and was so used from 1713 until the removal of the University Press to the present Office in 1830. It was begun February 22, 1712. The architect and builder was Mr. Nicholas Hawksmoor¹, who built also the south quadrangle of Queen's College and the north quadrangle of All Souls College. The name of the building is derived from the Lord Chancellor Clarendon, and the cost of it was defrayed partly from the profits of the sale of his History of the Rebellion, the copyright of which was given to the University.

It is now used for various public purposes of the University, containing the "Delegates' Room," in which the meetings of the Hebdomadal Council and of Delegacies take place, the Vice-Chancellor's Justice Room, the Registrar's Office, Lecture Rooms, and, on the basement story, a Police Room with other apartments connected with it.

RADCLIFFE'S LIBRARY.

The munificent founder of this Library was the celebrated physician John Radcliffe, M.D., first of University College, afterwards Fellow of Lincoln, who died in 1714. He bequeathed the bulk of his large property to Trustees to be applied at their discretion to charitable purposes; but he directed them in the first instance to accumulate £40,000, and to lay out that sum on the purchase of the site for his Library and on the building, and he appropriated £100 a-year for the maintenance of the fabric, £100 a-year for the purchase of books, and £150 a-year as a stipend for the Librarian. James Gibbs, Esq., a native of Aberdeen, was the architect. The foundation-stone was laid June 16, 1737, and the building was completed in 1747. The Library was opened April 13, 1749, in a public ceremony, by the Trustees.

Many years ago the Trustees resolved to confine their purchases to works on Medicine and Natural History; and upon the completion of the University Museum they permitted the books concerning Natural Science to be removed to the Library of that Institution, which may now be regarded as "Radcliffe's Library," and they allowed the remaining volumes and the building itself to be used in connection with the Bodleian Library. It has been opened as a Reading Room.

The present Trustees are, the Duke of Marlborough, William S. Dugdale, Esq., the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, and the Right Hon. T. H. Sotherton-Estcourt.

Radcliffe's Librarian, who must be at least a Master of Arts, is elected by the following personages: the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, the Chancellor of the University, the Bishops of London and Winchester, the two principal Secretaries of State, the two Chief Justices, and the Master of the Rolls. He has charge of the Library at the Museum.

RADCLIFFE OBSERVATORY.

This building was erected out of the funds of Dr. Radcliffe by the Trustees to his will. It comprises a dwelling-house for the Observer, and apartments for observation, for lectures, for a Library, and for an assistant Observer: and it is amply supplied with astronomical instruments. The foundation-stone was laid June 27, 1772. The original architect was Mr. A. Keene. The building was altered and completed by Mr. James Wyatt. The Observer is appointed by the Radcliffe Trustees: he appoints his own Assistant.

Astronomical Observations are made daily when the weather permits, and are regularly recorded. A fair copy of these Registers used to be deposited in the Library of the Royal Society in London, in the Radcliffe Library, and in the Observatory itself; but from the year 1840 they have been printed, by order of the Trustees, under the superintendence of the Observer, in a handsome octavo volume, which is continued annually.

TAYLOR INSTITUTION.

Sir Robert Taylor, an Architect of eminence in the last century, bequeathed the residue of his property, a very considerable sum, to "the Chancellor and Scholars of the University of Oxford and their successors, for the purpose of "applying the interest and produce thereof in purchase of freehold land within, or if possible to be made within, the jurisdiction of the said University, for the erecting a proper edifice therein, and for establishing a foundation, for the teaching and improving the European languages in such manner as should from time to time be approved by the said Chancellor and Scholars in Convocation assembled." He died in 1788, but his bequest, being subject to certain contingencies, did not take effect till 1835, and it was not until 1848 that the "proper edifice" which was to be erected could be made fully ready for use. This handsome building, of which C. R. Cockerell, Esq., D.C.L., was the architect, comprises a spacious Library, several Lecture Rooms, and apartments for the residence of a Librarian.

The Institution is under the direction of nine Curators, of whom the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor of Modern History, and the Professor of Comparative Philology, are ex officio three; of the other six, who must all be Members of Convocation, four are appointed for a period of five years, and two for ten, after which they may be nominated again.

There are four Teacherships of Modern European Languages, a Scholarship, and an Exhibition, which are described in separate articles. The Curators are also charged with the application of the proceeds of a fund arising from the bequest of William Thomas Horner, Earl of Ilchester, for the encouragement of the study of the Polish and other Slavonic Languages, Literature, and History. By a Statute passed in 1870, they are authorized to apply the interest of the fund to one or both of the following purposes, at their discretion and in such manner and at such times as they may judge most expedient: (1.) The delivery of Lectures on subjects connected with the Slavonic Languages or Literature, or the History of the Slavonic Nations: (2.) The bestowal of Prizes or Exhibitions for encouraging the study of those subjects. Before proceeding to any application of the interest of the Fund, the Curators may, if they shall judge it advisable, accumulate such interest for a period not exceeding two years from the end of Trinity Term, 1870; and such accumulation, together with any interest accrued at the time of the passing of this Statute and uninvested, shall be at the disposal of the Curators for the purposes before mentioned. Under the provisions of this Statute, Lectures were delivered during Michaelmas Term, 1870, by Mr. William Robert Morfill, M.A., Oriel College, on the Ethnology, Early History, and Popular Traditions of the Slavonic Nations.

The Library is open between the hours of eleven and five, except during one month from Aug. 16 to Sept. 14; and from Christmas-Eve to Jan. 2, when it is closed entirely. All Members of the University have free admission to it, and resident Members are allowed to take books out of the Library, subject to its regulations. Literary persons not members of the University are also admissible by special permission. The leading Newspapers and Periodicals of France, Germany, Italy, and Spain are taken in, and lie upon the table. The Librarian is appointed by the Curators, with a statutable stipend of £150 a-year. The present Librarian is MR. JOHN MACRAY^{*}.

UNIVERSITY GALLERIES.

The University Galleries form the Central and Western portions of the building of which the Taylor Institution is the Eastern, and were designed by the same Architect. Francis Randolph, D.D., Principal of St. Alban Hall, who died in 1796, bequeathed £1,000 towards the erection of a suitable building for the reception of the Pomfret Statues and other works of art; and that sum together with accumulated interest was laid out upon the building, the remainder of the cost being defrayed from moneys belonging to the University. The Galleries were opened in 1845. They contain specimens of ancient and modern Sculpture, including the original models for the principal works of the late eminent English artist, Sir Francis Chantrey, presented by his widow: a large number of original drawings of M. Angelo and Raffaele, purchased by a subscription, towards which the second Earl of Eldon contributed the munificent sum of £4,000; and there is one large and lofty Gallery for Paintings. Many works of art of various kinds have been given to the University since the Galleries were erected.

The Galleries are under the superintendence of four Curators, who must be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law or Medicine, and who are nominated by the Vice-Chancellor, the four Pro-Vice-Chancellors, and the two Proctors, subject to the approval of Convocation; and they are in the charge of a resident Keeper, appointed by the Curators, with a stipend of £100 a-year. They are open some hours daily, except during a few weeks in the Long Vacation for cleaning. They are open without fee. One room has been assigned for the use of the Oxford School of Art. The present Keeper is MR. JOSEPH FISHER.

UNIVERSITY MUSEUM.

This edifice, intended for the promotion of the study of Natural Science, was erected at the charge of the University from the designs and under the direction of Messrs. Deane and Woodward of Dublin. The first stone was solemnly laid June 20, 1855, by the Earl of Derby, Chancellor of the University, and the building was so nearly finished when the British Association for the Advancement of Science met in Oxford at the end of June, 1860, that every part of it was then used. The iron-work was supplied by Mr. Skidmore of Coventry. The decorative Sculpture both without and within is due to the liberality of individual donors: in particular Her Majesty the Queen was pleased to present five of the statues of eminent philosophers which adorn the Area; and Woolner's statue of the late Prince Consort, which faces the entrance, was placed here by gentlemen of the City of Oxford, who subscribed to have it erected in memorial of the Prince.

The Museum contains Lecture-rooms, with Work-rooms and Laboratories where these are required, for the Regius Professor of Medicine, and the Professors of Geometry, Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Physiology, and Zoology, a Dissecting room at the North-eastern angle, a large Laboratory for Students in Chemistry at the South-western, and along the front upstairs a spacious Library and Reading Room; and at the back is a small Observatory for the instruction of Students. Various Collections illustrative of subjects studied in the Museum have been brought together within its walls, and a large part of them is open to the view of Students in the Area and Corridors; a Pathological Series in the Medical department; Models and Instruments for Experimental Physics; Minerals, including some of singular rarity given by the late Richard Simmonds, M.D., of Christ Church; Fossils, comprising the large collection given by the late Professor Buckland, and Mr. Pengelly's Devonian Series presented in 1860 by Miss Burdett-Coutts; the Physiological Series moved from the Anatomy School at Christ Church by permission of the Dean and Chapter, who, however, as Trustees under the will of the Founder, Matthew Lee, M.D., physician to King George II., reserve the right to recall the loan; Zoological specimens transferred from the Ashmolean Museum; a large collection of Shells presented by Lady and Miss Harvey; two large collections of British Shells, one given by Sir Walter C. Trevelyan, Bart., M.A. of University College, the other bequeathed by George Barlee, Esq., of Exmouth, who died in 1861; and a large collection of Invertebrate Animals given by the Rev. F. W. Hope, the Founder of the Professorship of Zoology. And, to make these Collections more useful to Students, the Trustees under Dr. Radcliffe's will have allowed the large Scientific portion of his Library to be brought here, and intend to maintain it themselves in the Museum under the charge of Radcliffe's Librarian, reserving however the right to reclaim it if they think fit.

By the liberality of the Clarendon Trustees an additional Wing has recently been added to the Museum, containing the lecture-rooms and laboratories of the department of Experimental Philosophy. This new wing contains a large lecture-theatre, a large room for the Physical Cabinet, laboratories for each of the branches of weighing and measuring heat, light, electricity, magnetism, and acoustics, together with smaller rooms for the preparation of special experiments.

The Museum is under the superintendence of a Delegacy consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, and six other persons chosen by the Congregation of the University. None of the Professors who teach in the Museum can be Delegates, but all of them are summoned to the meetings of the Delegacy and consulted on the questions that arise. It is in the charge of a Keeper, who is appointed by the Delegates, subject to the approval of Convocation, and who has an official residence adjoining on the South-east, and receives a stipend of £80 a-year.

The Museum is open to Members of the University from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Visitors are admitted after 2 p.m. It is open without fee. The Library is open from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. daily, and on Mondays and Thursdays during Term from 7 p.m. till 9 p.m.

UNIVERSITY SERMONS AND PREACHERS.

Sermons are preached before the University throughout the year, except the Long Vacation and part of the Christmas Vacation, two on each Sunday (except the morning of Easter Day, when there is a Sermon in each of the College Chapels), and one on each Holy-Day. There is also a Sermon at the several Assizes, and one in Latin with the Litany and Holy Communion before the beginning of each Term.

With certain exceptions specified below, the order of preaching is as follows.

1. The morning Sermons on Sundays in Term fall to the Heads of Colleges, the Dean and Canons of Christ Church, the five Divinity Professors, and the Professor of Hebrew, in the following order, which however the preachers are at liberty to vary by exchanging turns among themselves:—

Christ Church	Trinity	University
Magdalen	Christ Church	Exeter
New College	Brasenose	Christ Church
Christ Church	Oriel	Balliol
All Souls	Regius Prof. Div.	Jesus
Merton	Margaret Prof. Div.	Christ Church
Christ Church	Regius Prof. Hebr.	Pembroke
Corpus	Christ Church	Worcester
Queen's	Wadham	Reg. Prof. Past. Th.
Christ Church	Lincoln	Reg. Prof. Ecol. Hist.
St. John's	Christ Church	Prof. Exeg. Div.

2. The other Sermons fall to Graduates in the order in which they were admitted to Regency as Masters of Arts or to the degree of Bachelor of Civil Law.

To these two rules the exceptions are as follow.

1. The morning Sermons on Sundays in Lent belong to the second order above stated, not to the first; the Bampton Lecture Sermons, mentioned below, are delivered in the morning; the preachers on the mornings of Quinquagesima Sunday and the last Sunday in June, (on each of which days by a special benefaction a Sermon is preached from a limited number of texts upon Humility or upon Pride,) of Whit-Sunday, and of Act Sunday (the next before the first Tuesday in July), are appointed by the Vice-Chancellor; the morning Sermon on Trinity Sunday is preached by a Fellow of New College; and, if any of the festivals mentioned in the next sentence or an Assize Sermon falls on a Sunday, the exception in that case applies to the morning Sermon.

2. The Vice-Chancellor appoints the preacher for the afternoon of every Sunday in Lent¹, of Easter Day, of Whit-Sunday, of Trinity Sunday (when by a special benefaction a Sermon is preached "upon Church Extension over the Colonies and Dependencies of the British Empire"), and of Act Sunday, for the Queen's Accession, and for the Assizes; the Sermons on Christmas Day, Good Friday, and Ascension Day fall to the Dean of Christ Church; the Sermon on Lady Day is preached by a Fellow of New College, the Sermons on the festivals of St. Mark and of St. John Baptist by Fellows of Magdalen, and the Sermon on the festival of St. Philip and St. James by a Fellow of Merton^m.

Each person receives notice of his turn two months before. If the turn happens during Vacation or on any day except Sunday during Term, any other person statutorily qualified may supply his place; on a Sunday in Term no one but a Select Preacher (see next page) can be his substitute. No Master of Arts is qualified to preach before the University until two years, no Bachelor of Civil Law until three years, have passed since his admission to his degree; and no person at all is at liberty to preach without the approbation of the Vice-Chancellor.

All University Sermons are preached at St. Mary's Church, except those of the Dean of Christ Church, and of Fellows of New College, Magdalen, and Merton, mentioned above, which are delivered or may be in the Cathedral, and in the Chapels of those Colleges respectively.

In the form of Bidding Prayer before the Latin Sermon at the beginning of each Term, and before the Sermons on Act Sunday, on the Queen's Accession, and at Assizes, are introduced the names of the SELECT PREACHERS.

By a Statute passed in 1803, it was provided that ten persons, to be called "Select Preachers," should be appointed to supply the place of those who decline to preach in their own turns on Sundays in Term. Five are nominated yearly in November by the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius and the Margaret Professors of Divinity, and the two Proctors. Three members of this Board, of whom the Vice-Chancellor is to be one, must concur in each nomination; and the names are then submitted to Convocation for approval. No one can be appointed until after the expiration of two years from his admission to Regency as a Master of Arts, or of three years from his admission to the degree of Bachelor of Civil Law. The office is tenable for two years, which run from Michaelmas Term; and no one can be appointed again until after the interval of a year. The Statute took effect in 1804.

BAMPTON LECTURES.

In pursuance of the will of the Rev. John Bampton, M.A., sometime of Trinity College, Canon of Salisbury, "Eight Divinity Lecture Sermons" are preached on as many Sunday mornings in Term, "between the commencement of the last month in Lent Term and the end of the third week in Act Term, upon either of the following subjects: to confirm and establish the Christian Faith, and to confute all heretics and schismatics—upon the divine authority of the Holy Scriptures—upon the authority of the writings of the primitive Fathers, as to the Faith and Practice of the primitive Church—upon the Divinity of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ—upon the Divinity of the Holy Ghost—upon the Articles of the Christian Faith, as comprehended in the Apostles' and Nicene Creeds."

The Lecturer, who must be at least a Master of Arts of Oxford or Cambridge, is chosen yearly by the Heads of Colleges on the fourth Tuesday in Easter Term. No one can be chosen a second time.

Thirty copies of the Sermons are to be always printed within two months after they are preached, and one copy is to be given to the Chancellor of the University, one to the Head of every College, and one to the Mayor of Oxford, and one is to be put into the Bodleian Library; and the Preacher is not entitled to the revenue of the endowment, before they are printed.

The Founder died in 1751, but his bequest did not take effect until 1779, in which year the first Lecturer was chosen.

The estate provided for the endowment now produces £200 to each Lecturer.

The advowsons of South Petherwyn, Holme Cultram, and Syston were given to the University by Queen Mary in 1554. The patronage of Kirkdale came by the benefaction of Henry, Earl of Danby, the Founder of the Botanic Garden and of the Professorship of Botany. The right of appointing a Lecturer to preach in St. Giles's Church every Sunday afternoon was given by a decree of the Court of Chancery in 1662 in pursuance of the will of Richard Brathwaite made in 1643.

The Act of Parliament, 3 James I., c. 5, by which Roman Catholics are disabled from presenting to any ecclesiastical benefice and from nominating to any free school, hospital, or donative, makes over to the University of Oxford their rights of presentation and nomination within the following counties, Berkshire, Buckinghamshire, Cornwall, Devonshire, Dorsetshire, Gloucestershire, Hampshire, Herefordshire, Kent, Middlesex, Monmouthshire, Northamptonshire, Oxfordshire, Somersetshire, Staffordshire, Surrey, Sussex, Warwickshire, Wiltshire, Worcestershire, Brecknockshire, Carmarthenshire, Cardiganshire, Montgomeryshire, Pembroke-shire, allotting the other twenty-seven counties of England and Wales to the University of Cambridge.

Besides this patronage, which really is its own, the University also presents to the Rectory of South Moreton, in Berkshire, as in trust for Magdalen Hall, and to the Rectory of Great Gatcombe in the Isle of Wight, as in trust for the Principal of St. Edmund Hall.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS.

CRAVEN SCHOLARSHIPS.

John Lord Craven of Ryton, by his will dated May 28, 1647, directed that "out of the yearly rents and profits" of an estate purchased by him in Sussex £100 per annum should "be raised towards the maintenance of four poor "Scholars," two at Oxford, and two at Cambridge, and that the surplus revenue of the estate should "be employed and "bestowed for and towards the redemption of English "Christian captives, prisoners in Algiers or in any other "places under the dominion of the Turk." He died a few months afterwards, his Executor declined to act, and in December, 1648, his elder brother William Lord Craven of Hampsted-Marshall, (afterwards created Earl of Craven,) having been appointed Administrator, drew up certain regulations for the election of the Scholars, which were approved by Convocation in October, 1649. Those regulations, agreeably to the Founder's desire, allowed a preference in all cases to persons of his "kindred or name," but otherwise the Scholarships were awarded after an examination in classical learning, in which no Graduate could be a Candidate, nor any Fellow or Scholar of a College. Each Scholarship was tenable for fourteen years from matriculation, or until the Scholar attained to some "preferment of a double value." The electors were the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professors, and the Public Orator.

In 1664, William Lord Craven, with the consent of both Universities, transferred the estate, subject to the trusts created by his brother's will, to a body of Trustees, whose successors now hold it.

In March, 1819, it was determined by the Court of Chancery that the second part of the trust had come to an end from want of objects, and a Decree was made increasing the number of Scholars from four to ten, five for each University, and assigning to each Scholar an annual stipend of £50 for seven years from his election. Subsequently, the rents of the estate having improved, the stipends were increased to £75. And by a Decree of the Court of Chancery, together with a Statute of the University approved by the Queen in Council in 1858, the Foundation for Oxford, and the regulations concerning it, are now as follow.

The Scholarships are six in number, tenable for three years, with stipends of £80 a-year each. Two Scholars are elected every year in Act Term. Candidates must have passed the Second Public Examination in one School at least, and must not have exceeded the twenty-fourth Term from their matriculation. The election is made, after an examination in Greek and Latin scholarship, by three Examiners, whom the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professors, the Professors of Ancient History and of Latin, and the Public Orator are to appoint, either from among themselves, or from others who are at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law or Medicine.

RADCLIFFE'S TRAVELLING FELLOWSHIPS.

Dr. Radcliffe, the Founder of the Library which bears his name, bequeathed to University College an estate in Yorkshire charged with the payment of £600 per annum to "two persons, to be chosen out of the University of Oxford, when they are Masters of Arts and entered on the Physic line, for the maintenance of the said two persons for the space of ten years, and no longer, the half of which time at least

"they are to travel in parts beyond sea for their better improvement;" and he provided them with chambers in that College. The first two Fellows were elected in July, 1715, less than nine months after the death of the Founder.

By an Ordinance of the University Commissioners under the Act of 1854, instead of two Fellowships with stipends of £300 a-year each for ten years, there are now three Fellowships, each of the annual value of £200, and tenable for three years only. Candidates need not be Masters of Arts or entered on the Physic line, but they must have passed all the Examinations required for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and must either have been placed in the First Class in one at least of the Public Examinations of the University, or have obtained some University Prize or Scholarship open to general competition. Each Candidate must declare that he intends to graduate in Medicine in the University of Oxford with the view of engaging in the practice of Medicine, and to travel abroad with a view to his improvement in that study; and no one is to be elected who is legally authorized to practise as a Physician. But in case no person willing to make such a declaration shall offer himself as a Candidate, or no person of sufficient merit for election, the Fellowship then vacant is to be thrown open to all persons who have been placed in the First Class in the School of Natural Science, whether authorized to practise or not, and the person then elected is not to be required to make such declaration.

Candidates are to be examined in such subjects connected with Medical Science, and by such official persons in Oxford, as the Electors shall appoint.

The Electors are the same as for Radcliffe's Librarian.

A Fellow forfeits his Fellowship by spending more than eighteen months within the United Kingdom.

Fellows elected under the Ordinance.

- 1860 Reginald Southey, Ch. Ch.
- 1862 Francis Valentine Paxton, Ch. Ch.

VINERIAN SCHOLARSHIPS.

These have their endowment from the same Founder as the Professorship of Common Law. Their number, and the amount of the stipends assigned to them, have been changed from time to time by Convocation according to the state of the Vinerian fund, which now amounts by accumulations to £18,500 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities. For many years before 1854 there were two Fellows and five Scholars, each elected for ten years, and receiving stipends, the former of £50, the latter of £30, a-year. By a Statute made in 1853 it was enacted that in future there shall be only one Fellow, elected at first for five years, but capable of being continued for five more, with an annual stipend of £100, and five Scholars, each elected for five years, with an annual stipend of £35.

A new Statute, approved by the Queen in Council in 1867, suppressed the Fellowship, and ordained that henceforth there shall be three Scholars, each elected for three years, with an annual stipend of £80. One Scholar, and one only, is to be elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates must be Members of the University who have completed two years and have not exceeded six years from their matriculation.

The election is vested in a board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, all the Professors of Law, and the Public Examiners in the School of Law and Modern History; who are to appoint for each election three examiners, including one at least of themselves. The subjects of examination are the Civil Law, International Law, General Jurisprudence, and especially the Law of England both public and private.

Each Scholar is to satisfy the Vice-Chancellor every year that he belongs to one of the Inns of Court, or at least that he is bonâ fide studying English Law.

DEAN IRELAND'S SCHOLARSHIPS.

Four Scholarships "for the promotion of Classical learning "and taste" were founded in the year 1825 by John Ireland, D.D., of Oriel College, Dean of Westminster, the same munificent person who became afterwards by his Will the Founder of the Professorship of Exegesis. He gave £4,000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for their endowment.

One Scholar, and one only, is elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates must be Undergraduate Members of the University who have not exceeded the sixteenth Term from their matriculation.

Each Scholarship is tenable for four years, provided the Scholar keeps by residence two Terms in each year.

The Examiners, three in number, who must be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law, are appointed for each election by the Trustees of the Foundation, namely, the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Provost of Oriel, and the Dean of Christ Church.

ELDON LAW SCHOLARSHIP.

In the year 1830 the Subscribers to a Testimonial in honour of John, first Earl of Eldon, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain for twenty-five years (1801—1806 and 1807—1827), resolved to establish a Law Scholarship with the moneys contributed, for the purpose of "recording Lord Eldon's connection with the Profession of the Law, and

"with the University of which he was so distinguished an ornament, and, at the same time, of conferring a real benefit, as well as a distinction, upon meritorious individuals, who may have to struggle with difficulties in the early part of their professional career."

The management of the fund, including the election of the Scholar, is vested in fifteen Trustees, who must be Subscribers, or descendants of Subscribers, and Protestants.

Candidates must be "Protestants of the Church of England, and Members of the University of Oxford, who, having passed their Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, have been rated in the First Class in one branch at least of examination*, or have gained one of the Chancellor's Prizes, and who intend to follow the Profession of the Law." In Bye-Laws passed in 1830, it is ordered that all applications be addressed to the Secretary, and that no application made by or on behalf of a Candidate to any individual Trustee be entertained.

The Scholarship is tenable for three years, running from June 4, Lord Eldon's birthday, provided the Scholar keep his Terms regularly at one of the Inns of Court. By a Bye-Law passed in 1854, it is provided that if the Scholar be called to the Bar, or commence practice under the Bar, he shall thereby vacate his Scholarship.

Should the fund increase sufficiently by accumulations or otherwise, a second Scholarship is to be established on similar conditions.

BODEN SCHOLARSHIPS.

Four Scholarships "for proficiency in the Sanskrit Language and Literature" were established by Decrees of the Court of Chancery in 1830 and 1860, in order to carry into effect the purpose of the late Colonel Boden, stated in the article on the Boden Professorship of Sanskrit.

One Scholar is elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates must be Members of some College or Hall, who have not exceeded the twenty-fifth year of their age.

Each Scholarship is tenable for four years with an annual stipend of £50 payable half-yearly, provided the Scholar retains his name on the books of some College or Hall, keeps by statutable residence three Terms in each year, attends Lectures of the Professor, and makes sufficient proficiency in Sanskrit. Default in these conditions entails forfeiture of the Scholarship, or at the least of some portion of the stipend.

The Electors are the Boden Professor of Sanskrit, the Regius Professors of Divinity, Hebrew, and Greek, the Laudian and Lord Almoner's Professors of Arabic, and the Professor of Latin, or any three of them; but they may appoint a deputy or deputies to act in their stead.

At first, until the expiration of an annuity of £100 given by the Founder's will, there were but two Scholars.

MATHEMATICAL SCHOLARSHIPS.

Scholarships "for the promotion of Mathematical studies" were founded in the year 1831, a fund for their endowment having been raised by contributions from many of the Colleges and many individual Members of the University.

At first there were three, each tenable for three years with an annual stipend of £50, and the Candidates were Members of the University who had passed the Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and had not exceeded the twenty-sixth Term from their matriculation inclusively, one such Scholar being elected every year.

In 1844 a change was made, and a further change in 1864; and there are now four Scholarships, two Senior, and two Junior, with stipends of £30 a-year each.

One Scholar, and one only, in each of the two classes is elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates for the Senior Scholarships must be such persons as were required at first: Candidates for the Junior Scholarships must be Members of the University who have not exceeded eight Terms from their matriculation inclusively.

Each Scholarship is tenable for two years, provided the Scholar has his name on the books of some College or Hall, and, in the case of a Junior Scholar, that he continues to attend to Mathematical studies. The Senior Scholar elected each year is to receive, for one year only, over and above his proper stipend, the dividends of that moiety of Dr. Johnson's fund which has hitherto been assigned to his Mathematical Scholar, and is to be called the "Johnson University Scholar." These dividends amount to about £20 a-year.

The Examiners, three in number, who must be at least

Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Medicine or Civil Law, are appointed by the Trustees of the Foundation, namely, the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, and the Professors of Geometry, Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, and Experimental Philosophy.

Scholars.

- 1831 George Henry Sacheverell Johnson, Taberdar of Queen's
- 1832 Eaton Davies Denton, Queen's
- 1833 Henry Anthony Jeffreys, Student of Ch. Ch.
- 1834 John Philip Hugo, Wadham; Fellow of Exeter
- 1835 Robert Richard Anstice, Student of Ch. Ch.
- 1836 Nicholas Pocock, Michel Scholar of Queen's
- 1837 William Fishburn Donkin, Fellow of University; afterwards Savilian Professor of Astronomy
- 1838 William Goodenough Penny, Student of Ch. Ch.
- 1839 John Andrews Dale, Balliol
- 1840 John Gordon, Brasenose
- 1841 Edward Warner, Wadham
- 1842 Bartholomew Price, Scholar of Pembroke; afterwards Sedleian Professor of Natural Philosophy
- 1843 Paul Augustine Kingdon, Fellow of Exeter

In Lent Term, 1844, the change above described took place, and four Scholarships, two Senior and two Junior, were established.

Senior Scholars.

- 1844 John Early Cook, Brasenose
- 1845 Hugo Daniel Harper, Scholar of Jesus
- 1846 William Spottiswoode, Balliol
- 1847 Theodore Walrond, Scholar of Balliol
- 1848 Humphrey F. Mildmay, Ch. Ch.
- 1849 Francis John Ottley, Oriel
- 1850 Francis Ashpitel, Brasenose
- 1851 Henry John Stephen Smith, Fellow of Balliol; afterwards Savilian Professor of Geometry
- 1852 Francis Harrison, Queen's; Fellow of Oriel
- 1853 Frederick Kneller H. Cook, Scholar of University
- 1854 Joshua Jones, Lincoln
- 1855 Samuel Courthope Bosanquet, Student of Ch. Ch.
- 1856 Charles Joseph Faulkner, Scholar of Pembroke; Fellow of University
- 1857 George Charles Bell, Scholar of Worcester
- 1858 Horace Davey, Fellow of University
- 1859 David Thomas, Scholar of Jesus; Fellow of Trinity
- 1860 William Esson, St. John's; Fellow of Merton
- 1861 David Pitcairn, Fellow of Magdalen
- 1862 John Griffiths, Jesus; Fellow of Jesus
- 1863 John Davies Davenport, Balliol; Fellow of Brasenose
- 1864 George Herbert Durham, Scholar of Queen's

- 1865 Hector M^cNeile, Junior Student of Ch. Ch.; Fellow of St. John's
 1866 Edward Liddell Balmer, Magdalen Hall
 1867 Henry Daman, Magdalen; afterwards Fellow of Magdalen
 1868 Christopher H. E. Heath, Scholar of Pembroke
 1869 ARNOLD W. REINOLD, Fellow of Merton
 1870 WALLIS HAY LAVERTY, Fellow of Queen's.

Junior Scholars.

- 1844 John Langford Capper, Postmaster of Merton; Scholar of Wadham
 1845 Robinson Thornton, Scholar of St. John's
 1846 Thomas Barker, Queen's
 1847 Henry Stuart Fagan, Scholar of Pembroke
 1848 Thomas Hewitt Campbell, Scholar of St. John's
 1849 Edgar Hyde, Scholar of Corpus
 1850 Martin Howy Irving, Scholar of Balliol
 1851 John Bernard Behrends, Scholar of St. John's
 1852 Montague Hughes Cookson, Scholar of St. John's
 1853 Charles Joseph Faulkner, Pembroke; Fellow of University
 1854 Seaborne M. B. Moens, Postmaster of Merton
 1855 John Percival, Taberdar of Queen's 1856 David Thomas, Jesus; Fellow of Trinity

 1867 William Chadwick, Merton
 1868 T. Alexander A. Chirol, Scholar of Exeter
 1869 ARTHUR W. RÜCKER, Scholar of Brasenose
 1870 EDWARD FERDINANDO SUTTON TYLECOTE, Scholar of St. John's

KENNICOTT SCHOLARSHIPS.

Two Scholarships for the promotion of the study of Hebrew were founded by the will of Anne Kennicott, widow of the celebrated Hebraist, Benjamin Kennicott, D.D., Canon of Christ Church. The Foundress died in 1830, and the property which she bequeathed for the endowment produced in 1831 the sum of £4,800 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities. Regulations were made by Convocation in 1831, according to which only one Scholar was to be elected in a year; candidates were to be Bachelors of Arts of some College or Hall in the University, who, at the time when a vacancy occurred, had not exceeded one year from the taking of that degree; and each Scholarship was tenable for four years under certain conditions of residence and exercises.

But, by a Statute which the University was specially empowered to make in 1863, there is now but one Scholarship; and this is tenable for one year only, during which the Scholar is to reside for seven weeks in Michaelmas Term, seven in Lent Term, and seven in Easter and Act Terms jointly. The election takes place in Act Term. Candidates must have passed the Examinations for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and must not, on the day of election, have exceeded twenty-eight terms from their matriculation.

The Scholar is elected by the Regius Professor of Hebrew and two other Members of the University not under the degree of Master of Arts, who are nominated by the Vice-Chancellor, subject to the approval of Convocation.

Scholars.

- 1831 Benjamin Harrison, Student of Ch. Ch.
- 1832 James Robert Burgess, Oriel
- 1835 Edward James Edwards, Balliol
- 1836 Charles Seager, Scholar of Worcester
- 1839 John Day Collis, Scholar, afterwards Fellow, of Worcester
- 1840 William George Sinclair Addison, Magdalen Hall
- 1843 Charles Frederick Secretan, Wadham
- 1844 Robert Gandell, Michel Scholar of Queen's; afterwards Laudian Professor of Arabic
- 1847 Richard Samuel Oldham, Wadham
- 1848 Richard Meux Benson, Student of Ch. Ch.
- 1851 William Wright, St. John's
- 1852 James Davenport Kelly, Scholar of Wadham
- 1855 Charles Matheson, Fellow of St. John's
- 1856 John William Nutt, Scholar of Corpus; afterwards Fellow of All Souls
- 1859 William Wynne Willson, Fellow of St. John's
- 1860 James Mew, Wadham
- 1863 Thomas Kelly Cheyne, Scholar of Worcester; afterwards Fellow of Balliol
- 1864 Arthur George Warner, Ch. Ch.
- 1865 John Purves, Balliol; afterwards Fellow of Balliol
- 1866 Archibald Edward Gough, Scholar of Lincoln
- 1867 Edward Conduitt Dermer, Fellow of St. John's
- 1868 No candidate
- 1867 Oswald Henry Hogarth, Queen's
- 1870 SAMUEL ROLLES DRIVER, Fellow of New College.

PUSEY AND ELLERTON SCHOLARSHIPS.

Three Scholarships for "the promotion of sound Theology through a solid and critical knowledge of Hebrew" were founded in the year 1832 by Philip Pusey, Esq., of Pusey in Berkshire, Edward Bouverie Pusey, D.D., Regius Professor of Hebrew, and Edward Ellerton, D.D., Fellow of Magdalen College. The endowment now produces a stipend of £50 a-year for each Scholar.

One Scholar, and one only, is elected every year in Act Term. Candidates must be Members of the University under the degree of Master of Arts or Bachelor of Civil Law, or, if of either of those degrees, not above twenty-five years of age.

Each Scholarship is tenable for three years, provided that in the first two years the Scholar resides seven weeks in each Michaelmas and Lent Term, and seven weeks in the Easter and Act Terms of one of the two years, and that during such residence he pursues his studies under direction of the Professor of Hebrew. In certain cases the Trustees of the Foundation may dispense with part of this residence.

The Electors are the Regius Professors of Divinity and Hebrew and the Lord Almoner's Professor of Arabic; or, in default of these, the Trustees appoint Electors.

The Trustees are the Vice-Chancellor, the President of Magdalen College, the Dean of Christ Church, the Warden of Wadham College, the Regius Professors of Divinity and Hebrew, and the Lord Almoner's Professor of Arabic.

- 1870 HENRY JOHN MATHEWS, Exeter.

JOHNSON'S SCHOLARSHIPS.

Two Scholarships, "one for the greatest attainment in Theology, and the other in Mathematics," were founded by John Johnson, D.D., sometime Fellow of Magdalen College, who bequeathed to the University the sum of £1,200 for their endowment, directing that the money should be invested in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities, and that the dividends thereof should be applied "in the purchase of books on Theology and Classical Literature," and no part given in money. The bequest was accepted by Convocation in February 1833. Each Scholarship was made tenable for two years. Candidates were required to have passed the Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and not to have completed the fifth year from their matriculation. But, by Statutes which the University was specially empowered to make in 1863, one moiety of the endowment was united with Mrs. Denyer's fund to maintain the three Theological Scholarships described in the next article, and the proceeds of the other moiety are to be given annually in money to the Senior Mathematical Scholar of the year, who is to be called the "Johnson University Scholar."

DENYER AND JOHNSON SCHOLARSHIPS. 177

The Examination took place in Easter Term. The Examiners, three in number, who were obliged to be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law, were appointed by the Presidents of Magdalen and Trinity Colleges, the Dean of Christ Church, the Warden of New College, and the Provost of Queen's College.

- 1857 Robert Henniker, Scholar of Trinity
- 1859 Joseph Mason Austen, Brasenose
- 1861 John Richard Magrath, Fellow of Queen's
- 1863 THOMAS KELLY CHEYNE, Scholar of Worcester ; afterwards Fellow of Balliol.

Mathematical Scholars.

- 1835 Nicholas Pocock, Michel Scholar of Queen's
- 1837 William Fishburn Donkin, Fellow of University ; afterwards Savilian Professor of Astronomy
- 1839 John Andrews Dale, Balliol
- 1841 Edward Warner, Wadham
- 1843 Henry Master White, Fellow of New College
- 1845 Hugo Daniel Harper, Scholar of Jesus
- 1847 William Spottiswoode, Balliol
- 1849 Thomas Henry Rodie Shand, Brasenose ; afterwards Fellow
- 1851 Henry Mitchell Hull, Scholar of University
- 1853 Joshua Jones, Lincoln
- 1855 Samuel Courthope Bosanquet, Student of Ch. Ch.
- 1857 Horace Davey, Scholar, afterwards Fellow, of University
- 1859 David Thomas, Scholar of Jesus ; Fellow of Trinity
- 1861 Charles James C. Price, Balliol ; afterwards Fellow of Exeter
- 1863 JOHN DAVIES DAVENPORT, Balliol ; afterwards Fellow of Brasenose.

DENYER AND JOHNSON SCHOLARSHIPS.

In the year 1863, by a Statute which the University was specially empowered to make, three Scholarships for the promotion of the study of Theology were established in lieu of Dr. Johnson's Theological Scholarship described in the last article and of Mrs. Denyer's Prizes for two Theological Essays described at page 202, and the joint revenue of those two foundations, amounting now to about £120, was appointed for their endowment. The Scholars are elected in the following way.

Any Bachelor of Arts, who has not exceeded twenty-seven terms from his matriculation, may present himself for an Examination in Divinity, which is holden every year in Lent Term. The Examiners, three in number, must be Members of Convocation in Priest's Orders, one appointed by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors, one by the five Professors of Divinity and the Regius Professor of Hebrew, and one by the Presidents of Magdalen and Trinity Colleges, the Dean of Christ Church, the Warden of New College, and the Provost of Queen's College.

The subjects of the Examination are the Holy Scriptures, Dogmatic and Symbolic Theology, Ecclesiastical History, the Evidences of Religion, and Pastoral Theology, comprising the history of Liturgies, or at least the history of the Book of Common Prayer. Creditable knowledge of the Hebrew Text, of the Septuagint Version, of the writings of the Fathers, or of Ecclesiastical History, will have great weight.

The names of all who pass the Examination are published in alphabetical order; and the Scholarships are awarded to the three best of the Candidates.

The Scholarships are tenable for one year only.

HERTFORD SCHOLARSHIP.

On the dissolution of Hertford College, consequent upon the death of its last Principal in 1805, part of its property fell to the Crown ; and in 1818 Letters Patent passed the Great Seal, granting some of this to the use of Magdalen Hall, but giving one portion, about £1,100 in £3 per cent. Government Annuities, to the University upon trust to pay the dividends, after the death of the Rev. Richard Hewitt, M.A., the only remaining Fellow of the College, to an Undergraduate chosen "by free competition and public examination" according to such Statutes as should be made by Convocation. Accordingly a Scholarship for the promotion of the Study of Latin was established by Statute in 1834.

The Scholarship is tenable for one year only. The election takes place in Lent Term. Candidates must not have completed two years from their matriculation.

The Examiners, three in number, who must be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law, are nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors, subject to the approval of Convocation.

Scholars.

- 1835 John Ernest Bode, Student of Ch. Ch.

 1862 Thomas Leslie Papillon, Scholar of Balliol; then Fellow of Merton; afterwards Fellow of New College
 1863 Edward Russell Bernard, Scholar of Exeter; afterwards Fellow of Magdalen 1864 Francis De Paravicini, Scholar of Balliol; afterwards Senior Student of Ch. Ch.
 1865 John Gent, Scholar, afterwards Fellow, of Trinity 1866 Richard Lewis Nettleship, Scholar, afterwards Fellow, of Balliol
 1867 Walter Lock, Scholar of Corpus; afterwards Fellow of Magd.
 1868 John Arthur Godley, Exhibitioner, Balliol
 1869 Alfred Goodwyn, Scholar of Balliol
 1870 MARTIN HOLDICH GREEN, Scholar of Corpus.

TAYLOR SCHOLARSHIPS.

In furtherance of the object of Sir Robert Taylor, as stated in the Article on the "Taylor Institution," four Scholarships for proficiency in Modern Languages were established in the year 1857. They were tenable for two years. Two Scholars were elected every year, one for proficiency in German and in some other language taught in the Institution, the other for proficiency in French and in some other language taught there. Each received £25 a-year from the Taylor Fund. Candidates were not to have exceeded the age of twenty-four years at the time of the election. A new Statute, made in 1869, directs that one Scholarship worth £50 and one Exhibition worth £25, each tenable for one year, shall be awarded annually for proficiency in one or more of the languages taught in the Institution (a year's notice thereof having been given), in Comparative Philology as applied to the same, and in the literature of the selected language or languages.

Candidates must not have exceeded the twenty-third term from their Matriculation.

BURDETT-COUTTS SCHOLARSHIPS.

In the year 1860 Miss Burdett-Coutts, daughter and heiress of the late Sir Francis Burdett, Baronet, having presented to the University "the Pengelly Collection" of Devonshire Fossils, proceeded to found two Scholarships for the promotion of "the study of Geology and of Natural "Science as bearing on Geology," and gave £5,000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for their endowment.

Each Scholarship is tenable for two years. One Scholar, and one only, is elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates must have passed all necessary Examinations for the degree of B.A., and not have exceeded the twenty-seventh term from their matriculation.

The Examiners are the Professor of Geology and two other Members of the University, of whom one must be a Professor; the two latter being nominated, subject to the approval of Convocation, by the Trustees of the Foundation, who are the Vice-Chancellor, the President of Magdalen College, and the Regius Professor of Medicine.

Scholars.

- 1861 William Boyd Dawkins, Scholar of Jesus
1862 [No Candidate appeared.]
1863 Joseph Frank Payne, Demy, afterwards Fellow, of Magdalen
1864 Edward Langdon, New College
1865 [No Election.]
1866 William Henry Corfield, Fellow of Pembroke
1867 Thomas Heathcote Gerald Wyndham, Oriel; Fellow of Merton
1868 George Herbert West, Junior Student of Ch. Ch.
1869 EDWIN RAY LANKESTER, Junior Student of Ch. Ch.

PRIZES.

THE Subjects for all Prize Compositions are given out by the Vice-Chancellor, generally about Midsummer in each year ; and at the same time the several days are stated by which the respective Compositions are to be sent in to the Registrar. Each writer is required to send in his Composition under a sealed cover, and to conceal his name, distinguishing his Composition by what motto he pleases, and sending at the same time his name under another sealed cover with the same motto written on the outside.

Such portions of the successful Compositions for the Chancellor's, the Newdigate, the Arnold, the Stanhope, and the two Gaisford Prizes, as the Public Orator and the Professor of Poetry appoint, are read each year in the Theatre at the Commemoration of Founders and Benefactors.

All unsuccessful Compositions are left with the Registrar, and may be received from him at his Office within the space of one year.

THE CHANCELLOR'S PRIZES.

LATIN VERSE. ENGLISH ESSAY. LATIN ESSAY.

The Earl of Lichfield, who was Chancellor of the University during 1762—1772, began the practice, since followed by his successors, of giving two annual Prizes of £20 each for Composition in Latin Verse and in English Prose ; and Lord Grenville, after his election to the same office in 1809, added a third Prize of the same value for Composition in Latin Prose, which has likewise been continued by the munificence of the succeeding Chancellors.

The Prize for Latin Verse is confined to those Members of the University who have not exceeded four years from their Matriculation ; the other two Prizes to those who have exceeded four years but have not completed seven.

The Judges by whom all these Prizes were awarded were originally the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Public Orator, and the Professor of Poetry. The Judges of Latin Verse and Latin Essays are now the Public Orator, the Professor of Latin, and three Members of Convocation nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and the Proctors. The Judges of English Essays are the Public Orator, the Professor of Poetry, and three Members of Convocation appointed by the Vice-Chancellor and the Proctors.

ENGLISH VERSE.

SIR ROGER NEWDIGATE'S PRIZE.

Prizes for Compositions in English Verse were occasionally given many years ago by benefactors whose names were not proclaimed at the time and are not known now. Among others, Sir Roger Newdigate, Bart., of Arbury in Warwickshire, D.C.L., of University College, sometime Burgess for the University, who died at a very advanced age in 1806, gave in the last year of his life a Prize for "a copy of English Verse of fifty lines and no more in recommendation of the study of the Ancient Greek and Roman remains of Architecture, Sculpture, and Painting;" and by his will he bequeathed the sum of £1,000, (by which, when invested with accumulations, the sum of about £1,550 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities was purchased,) directing that £21 out of the dividends should be paid annually as a Prize for a similar poem, and that the surplus should help to form a fund for the improvement of the Master's Lodgings at University College. After the very inconvenient restrictions imposed by the Founder had been endured for seventeen years, 1810—1826, they were removed with the consent of his heir and representative; and from that time there has been no precise limitation either of the length of the Poems or of the range of the Subjects.

The Prize, like the Chancellor's Prize for Latin Verse, is confined to those Members of the University who have not exceeded four years from their Matriculation.

The judges are the Public Orator, the Professor of Poetry, and three Members of Convocation appointed by the Vice-Chancellor and the Proctors.

ELLERTON THEOLOGICAL ESSAY.

In the year 1825 Edward Ellerton, D.D., Fellow of Magdalen College, in order to encourage theological learning, founded an annual Prize of £21, (which he secured upon an estate at Horspath in Oxfordshire,) for an English Essay "on some doctrine or duty of the Christian Religion," or "on some of the points on which we differ from the Romish Church," or "on any other subject of Theology which shall be deemed meet and useful."

The Prize is open to all members of the University who have passed the Examination for the degree of B.A., and who have commenced the sixteenth Term from their Matriculation for the space of eight weeks previously to the day appointed for sending in the Essays, and have not exceeded the twenty-eighth Term from their Matriculation on the day on which the Subject of the Essay is proposed. The Subject is to be given out in Act Term before the Commemoration, and the Essays are to be sent in on or before the first day of Easter Term.

The successful Essay is read in the Divinity School on some day appointed by the Vice-Chancellor in the week before the Commemoration.

The Judges, who both appoint the Subject and award the Prize, are the President of Magdalen College and the Regius and Margaret Professors of Divinity. In case the President should be a layman the Master of University is to act in his stead.

DENYER THEOLOGICAL ESSAYS.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dennis Denyer, of Chelsea, widow, who died in 1824, bequeathed to the University the sum of £2,000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities in order to found two annual Prizes of £30 each for Sermons to be preached upon certain subjects, which were stated in her Will and arranged for a cycle of five years. But, as some of the conditions were inconsistent with the Statutes, the University declined to accept the legacy; which then escheated to the Crown. Upon this a memorial was presented on the part of the University; and on February 5, 1835, King William IV. by Royal Warrant under his Sign Manual granted the bequeathed stock together with accumulations of interest to the University, directing that the dividends should be annually paid in equal moieties as Prizes for two Theological Essays on subjects named in Mrs. Denyer's Will.

The Prizes were confined to Members of the University, in Deacon's Orders at least, who on the day appointed for sending in the Essays had entered on the eighth and not exceeded the tenth year from their Matriculation. But, by a Statute which the University was specially empowered to make in 1863, the Essays were discontinued, and the endowment, then amounting to £3,000 stock, was assigned for the maintenance of the three "Denyer and Johnson Scholarships" described at page 177. The successful Essays were read in the Divinity School on some day in full Term appointed by the Vice-Chancellor.

The Judges, who both selected the Subjects and awarded the Prizes, were the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, and the Regius and Margaret Professors of Divinity.

THE GAISFORD PRIZES.

GREEK VERSE. GREEK PROSE.

In 1856 the University accepted the sum of about £1,200, which had been raised by voluntary subscription, as a foundation for two annual Prizes in memory of the late Thomas Gaisford, D.D., Dean of Christ Church, and Regius Professor of Greek, to be awarded for Composition in Greek Verse and Prose. The Verse Prize is to be given for a translation into any of the metres commonly used in dialogue by the Tragic or Comic Poets, or for a copy of verses, either original or translated, in heroic or elegiac metre; the Prose Prize either for an original composition or a translation. The money was invested in the purchase of £1,237 16s. 10d. New £3 per cent. Annuities, and the dividends are paid in equal moieties to the two successful Candidates.

The Prizes are open to all Undergraduates who, on the first Saturday of Easter Term, by which day the Compositions must be sent in, have commenced residence and not completed the seventeenth Term from their Matriculation.

The Judges are the Dean of Christ Church, the Regius Professor of Greek, and one other Member of Convocation nominated annually by the Vice-Chancellor. After adjudging the Prizes of one year, they are to announce the Subjects and Metre for the next.

JOHNSON MEMORIAL PRIZE ESSAY.

In 1862 the University accepted the sum of £310, which had been raised by voluntary subscription, as a foundation for a Prize in memory of the late Manuel John Johnson, M.A., of Magdalen Hall, and Radcliffe Observer, and in encouragement of the study of Astronomy and Meteorology. The money was invested in the purchase of £338 8s. 0d. Reduced £3 per cent. Annuities.

The Prize is to be offered once in every four years for an Essay on some Astronomical or Meteorological subject; not less than two years' notice being given of the subject proposed. It is open to all Members of the University; and consists of a Gold Medal of the value of Ten Guineas, together with the surplus dividends on the stock. The Compositions are to be sent in by the 31st day of March in the year appointed.

The Judges, (not fewer than three in number, and not below the degree of B.M., B.C.L., or M.A.,) are appointed by the Trustees of the Foundation, namely, the Vice-Chancellor, the Savilian Professors of Geometry and Astronomy, the Sedleian Professor of Natural Philosophy, the Professor of Experimental Philosophy, and the Radcliffe Observer.

Prize-Man.

1867 A Discussion of Recent Investigations relating to Solar Parallax. Howell Gwyn-Jeffreys, Balliol.

HALL AND HOUGHTON PRIZES.

In November, 1868, the University accepted the sum of £3,000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities from the Rev. John Hall, B.D., of St. Edmund Hall, Honorary Canon of Bristol Cathedral, and Rector of St. Werburgh in that city, and the Rev. Henry Houghton, M.A., of Pembroke College, as a fund for three Prizes to be offered annually in encouragement of the study of the Greek Testament and of the Septuagint Version of the Hebrew Scriptures. In 1870 the University accepted the further sum of £1,500 from the same persons for the founding of an additional Prize, and for cognate purposes.

The regulations now stand as follows:—

Two of the Prizes, one of £20 and one of £30, are called the "Canon Hall Greek Testament Prizes;" and two, one of £25 and one of £15, are called the "Hall-Houghton Septuagint Prizes."

The examination for the £20 Prize is in the Gospels and the Acts of the Apostles, in respect of translation, criticism, and interpretation. The Examination for the £30 Prize is in the Scriptures of the New Testament, in respect of translation, criticism, interpretation, inspiration, and authority. The examination for the £25 Prize is in the Septuagint version, in respect of its relation both to the Hebrew Scriptures and to the Greek of the New Testament; and that for the £15 Prize in such book or books of the Septuagint as the Trustees shall appoint.

Candidates for the £15 and £20 Prizes must be of not more than eighteen Terms standing. Candidates for the other two Prizes must have completed their eighteenth Term, and have passed the Examinations for the degree of B.A., but must not be of more than twenty-eight Terms standing.

In addition to the Prizes, the proceeds of £500 stock are to be given annually in presents of money or books to deserving candidates.

The Examiners, three in number, who must be Masters of Arts or Graduates in Divinity, are appointed annually in Michaelmas Term by the Trustees of the fund, namely, the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius and the Margaret Professors of Divinity, the Regius Professors of Hebrew, Pastoral Theology, and Ecclesiastical History, and Dean Ireland's Professor of the Exegesis of Holy Scripture, and the Grinfield Lecturer in the Septuagint.

In 1869, before any income had accrued from the fund, the munificent Founders gave the money requisite for the Prizes.

Prizemen (Junior) for the New Testament.

1869 Robert Ewing, Balliol.

1870 George Shattock, Scholar of St. John's.

Prizemen (Senior) for the New Testament.

1869 George Francis Lovell, Balliol.

1870 Francis John Jayne, Fellow of Jesus.

Prizemen for the Septuagint.

1869 No candidate.

1870 Robert Fayrer, Trinity.

MARQUIS OF LOTHIAN'S HISTORICAL PRIZE ESSAY.

In 1870 the University accepted from the Marquis of Lothian an annuity or perpetual yearly rent-charge upon trust to apply the same in the foundation of an annual prize of £40 for the best Essay on any point of Foreign History, whether secular or ecclesiastical, in the period between the dethronement of Romulus Augustulus and the death of Frederick the Great.

The Prize is to be open to all Members of the University who, at the time of sending in their composition, shall not have exceeded the twenty-seventh Term from their Matriculation.

The Judges are to be the Vice-Chancellor, the Dean of Christ Church, and the Regius Professor of Modern History, each of whom, however, has power to appoint a substitute.

In the event of the Dean of Christ Church being Vice-Chancellor, a third judge is to be nominated by him and the Regius Professor of Modern History.

The subject for each year is to be decided by the judges, who also have power to give the Prize either in money or in books, at their discretion.

PRIZE ESSAY ON INTERNATIONAL LAW.

A Prize has been offered to the University for the best Essay on a subject connected with International Law.

Essays are to be sent to the Chichele Professor of International Law and Diplomacy. The competition is open to all Members of the University who have not, on the day appointed for sending in the Essay, exceeded six years from their Matriculation.

Prize-Man.

1870 The Law of Blockade, its History, present Condition, and probable Future. Henry Bargrave Deane, Balliol.

UNIVERSITY TERMS.

There are four Terms for academical exercises in each year, but for many Professors' Lectures and some other purposes the third and fourth together count as only one.

1. MICHAELMAS TERM begins on the 10th of October, and ends on the 17th of December.

2. HILARY (or LENT) TERM begins on the 14th of January, and ends on the day before Palm-Sunday.

3. EASTER TERM begins on the Wednesday after Easter Day, and ends on the Friday before Whit-Sunday.

4. TRINITY (or ACT) TERM begins on the day before Whit-Sunday, and usually ends on the Saturday after the first Tuesday in July, but may be continued beyond that day by Congregation.

If the day fixed for the beginning or end of any Term happen to be a festival, the beginning or end of such Term is deferred till the day after, except only that Easter Term in such case ends the day before.

Full Term begins on the Sunday after the first Congregation, that is, on the Sunday after the first day of Term.

Michaelmas and Hilary Terms are kept by six weeks' residence in each, Easter and Trinity Terms either by three weeks' in each, or by forty-eight days' residence in the two Terms jointly.

FEES AND DUES¹.

STUDENTS are required to pay Fees to the University on various occasions.

* Every Student not attached to any College or Hall is charged with the sum of £4 10s. yearly till he takes his first degree.

DEGREES.

The DEGREES conferred by the University upon Students are those of BACHELOR and MASTER in ARTS, and of BACHELOR and DOCTOR in MUSIC, and in the three superior faculties of CIVIL LAW, MEDICINE, and DIVINITY.

Sometimes, but very rarely, degrees are granted out of the ordinary course, by DECREE OF CONVOCATION, or by DIPLOMA, to persons who have not, as well as to persons who have, been previously Members of the University; and less rarely they are given honoris causa without the full rights which ordinarily belong to them.

The conditions required for degrees in the ordinary course, yet not for all alike, are RESIDENCE, TIME or STANDING (as it is commonly called), EXAMINATION or EXERCISES, and, at the time of taking a degree, certain Declarations and payment of FEES, besides the Grace or consent of the Candidate's College or Hall and of Congregation, which depend upon his conduct and character. Of these conditions, the Fees have been stated in the preceding article, and the following articles will explain the rest.

RESIDENCE FOR DEGREES.

Twelve Terms of Residence are required for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and for the position of Student of Civil Law or of Medicine. No further residence is necessary for any degree.

A Student matriculated early in any Term may keep that Term by residence; and, when he has completed the residence necessary for keeping his twelfth Term, he may be admitted B.A., S.C.L., or S.M. in that twelfth Term, provided he has passed all his Examinations. So that a Student matriculated, for example, in October, 1869, in which case he can pass his final Examinations in his eleventh and twelfth Terms, may become a Bachelor of Arts in June or July, 1872.

TIME REQUIRED FOR DEGREES.

In Arts.

1. For the degree of Bachelor of Arts twelve Terms are required, which must be Terms of residence.

2. A Bachelor of Arts can proceed to the degree of Master in the twenty-seventh Term from his Matriculation, provided he has had his name on the Books of some College or Hall for a period of twenty-six Terms.

In Music.

1. No residence or Academical standing is required for the degree of Bachelor of Music.

2. A Bachelor of Music wishing to proceed to the degree of Doctor must produce a certificate, signed by two or more trustworthy persons, that he has been studying or practising Music, whether at Oxford or elsewhere, for five years from his admission to his present degree.

In Civil Law.

For the position of Student of Civil Law twelve Terms are required, which must be Terms of residence.

1. A Student of Civil Law, or a Bachelor or Master of Arts, may be admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Civil Law in the twenty-seventh Term, (or, if the Statutes of his College require it, in the twenty-third,) from his Matriculation.

A Bachelor of Civil Law may be admitted to the degree of Master of Arts in the twenty-seventh Term from his Matriculation, and yet retain his former degree.

2. A Bachelor of Civil Law may proceed to the degree of Doctor at the end of five years from his admission to the degree of Bachelor.

In Medicine.

For the position of Student of Medicine twelve Terms are required, which must be Terms of residence.

1. A Student of Medicine, or a Bachelor or Master of Arts, or a Bachelor of Civil Law, may be admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Medicine in the twenty-eighth Term from his Matriculation.

A Bachelor of Medicine may be admitted to the degree of Master of Arts, and yet retain his former degree.

2. A Bachelor of Medicine may proceed to the degree of Doctor at the end of three years from his admission to the degree of Bachelor.

In Divinity.

1. A Master of Arts may be admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity at the end of three years from his admission to Regency.

2. A Bachelor of Divinity may proceed to the degree of Doctor at the end of four years from his admission to the degree of Bachelor.

EXAMINATIONS AND EXERCISES FOR DEGREES.

This article attempts to give a faithful representation of the requirements actually made by the Statutes of the University. In the Oxford Calendar further information concerning the particular books and subjects commonly taken up by Students in the several Schools is supplied in notes; but, as those statements are based upon usage only, and are liable to change, it has been thought better to omit them in this volume.

In Arts.

Candidates for the degree of B.A. are required to pass three distinct examinations, 1. RESPONSIONS before the MASTERS OF THE SCHOOLS, 2. the FIRST PUBLIC EXAMINATION before the MODERATORS, 3. the SECOND PUBLIC EXAMINATION before the PUBLIC EXAMINERS. For this last there are five Schools, called the Schools of Literæ Humaniores, Scientiæ Mathematicæ et Physicæ, Scientia Naturalis, Jurisprudentia et Historia Moderna, and S. Theologia.

1. RESPONSIONS. There are four MASTERS OF THE SCHOOLS, who are nominated yearly in Convocation, two on the first day of Act Term by the two Proctors severally, and two on the first day of Michaelmas Term by the Vice-Chancellor. They must be Masters of Arts who have been admitted to Regency. No Pro-Proctor can hold the office. No one who has held it for two years together can be nominated again till after a year's interval, and no Master of the Schools can be either a Moderator or a Public Examiner at the same time. The stipend for each is £60 a-year.

Responsions are held three times every year, and begin in Michaelmas Term on the 5th of December, in Lent Term on the Monday following the third or fourth Sunday in Lent (according to the time of Commemoration), and in Act Term on the second Friday before Commemoration day, or on the day following any one of these days which falls upon a Holiday. Each Candidate, in person or by his Tutor, must put down his name with the Junior Proctor six days before they are to begin, and must at the same time give in a list of the subjects and books in which he proposes to be examined. Every Candidate must be examined in Latin and Greek Grammar, Latin Prose Composition, one Latin and one Greek author, Arithmetic, and either Euclid or Algebra.

The examination is conducted partly in writing, partly viva voce. In the written part of the examination, questions are given in Grammar, in Arithmetic, and in Euclid or Algebra; a passage is set for translation from English prose into Latin; and each Candidate has to construe and answer questions from the books which he brings in. The viva voce examination goes on in two places at once within the precinct of the Schools, two Masters of the Schools conducting it in each. Every Candidate who passes it to the satisfaction of his Examiners receives from them a Certificate to that effect, commonly called a Testamur.

2. FIRST PUBLIC EXAMINATION. There are ten MODERATORS, divided between two SCHOOLS, seven in CLASSICS, (namely, four to examine Candidates for Honours, three to examine other Candidates,) and three in MATHEMATICS, who are nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and the two Proctors severally in succession, subject to the approval of Congregation and of Convocation. They must be at least Masters of Arts who have been admitted to Regency or Bachelors of Civil Law or Medicine. There must not be two from the same College or Hall in the same School (or section of School) at the same time, and no one who has held the office for two years together can be nominated again for the same School (or section) until after a year's interval. The yearly stipend for each Classical Moderator examining for Honours is £80, not for Honours £60; for each Mathematical £50.

This Examination is held twice every year, and begins in Michaelmas Term on the 23rd of November, in Easter Term on the Friday in the third week before Commemoration day, or the day following either of these days which falls upon a Holiday. Each Candidate, in person or by his Tutor, must put down his name with the Junior Proctor, and give in a list of his subjects and books, eight days before the Examination is to begin, and must at the same time exhibit his Testamur for Responsions¹. Every Candidate must be examined in Latin and Greek Grammar, either in Logic or in Algebra together with three books of Euclid, in the four Gospels in Greek², and in one Latin and one Greek author at the least, of which one must be a poet and the other an orator, and neither of which may be the same with either of the two which he brought in for Responsions, unless he now brings in as many as four authors.

The Examination is conducted partly in writing, partly viva voce. Questions are given in Grammar and Philology, and in Logic or Mathematics; passages are set for translation from English prose into Latin, and from the authors brought in by the Candidate into English; and each Candidate may also be required to construe and answer questions from those authors. No Moderator may examine any Candidate from his own College or Hall, or one who has read with him as a Private Pupil within the preceding two years.

Candidates for Honours in Classics have to answer deeper questions in Philology and Criticism, and to translate from English into Greek as well as Latin. Their translations from Greek and Latin into English are to combine elegance with accuracy. They may be required to write Verses both in Greek and Latin. The authors chosen by them must be chiefly poets and orators, especially Homer and Virgil, Demosthenes and Cicero. For the highest Honours Logic is indispensable.

In the Mathematical School the Examination begins on the 16th of December in Michaelmas Term, on the day following the Commemoration in Act Term, or on the day after either of these days which falls upon a Holiday; it is confined to Pure Mathematics. Candidates may undergo it in a different Term from that in which they are examined in Classics.

No one under any circumstances can obtain Honours after the end of his tenth Term. Honours are given in three divisions in each School, the names of the Candidates being placed alphabetically in each division ; and the names of all the rest who pass the Examination are printed likewise.

¹ A Candidate who has been incorporated from Cambridge may instead exhibit his Testamur for the "Previous Examination" there.

² A Student who is "extra Ecclesiam Anglicanam," on presenting to the Proctor a certificate to that effect from the Head of his College or Hall, is at liberty to substitute for the four Gospels a work of some Greek author, which however is not to affect the award of Honours.

3. SECOND PUBLIC EXAMINATION. There are nineteen PUBLIC EXAMINERS, divided among five SCHOOLS, seven in CLASSICS, (namely, four to examine Candidates for Honours, three to examine other Candidates,) three in MATHEMATICS, three in NATURAL SCIENCE, three in LAW AND MODERN HISTORY, and three in THEOLOGY. For each of the first four Schools they are nominated in the same way, from among persons of the same standing, and under the same conditions as the Moderators, with the exception that a person who has held the office for two years together in the School of Mathematics, or of Natural Science, or of Law and Modern History, may be nominated again for the same School after an interval of only half a year. The Examiners in Theology must be Members of Convocation in Priest's Orders. They are nominated (subject to the approval of Congregation and of Convocation) by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Proctors, and three of the following Professors, the Regius and Margaret Professors of Divinity, the Regius Professors of Hebrew, Pastoral Theology, and Ecclesiastical History, and the Professor of the Exegesis of Holy Scripture. The annual stipend for each Classical Examiner in Honours is £80, not for Honours £60 ; for each in Mathematics or in Law and History £70, in Natural Science or in Theology £50.

The Examination is held twice every year, and begins in Michaelmas Term on the 18th of November, in Easter Term on the Friday in the third week before Commemoration day, or on the day following either of these days which falls upon a Holiday. Each Candidate, in person or by his Tutor, must put down his name with the Senior Proctor, give in a list of his books and subjects, and exhibit his Testamur for the First Public Examination, eight days before the Examination is to begin.

In every School the Examination is conducted partly in writing, partly viva voce. No Examiner may examine any Candidate from his own College or Hall, or one who has read with him as a Private Pupil within the preceding two years.

As a general rule, every one is required to pass the Examination both in the Classical School, and also in some one of the other four Schools. If, however, a Candidate obtains a place in any Class in any one of the five Schools, nothing further is required of him ; provided he previously passed in three books at least before the Moderators, and has also passed in Divinity (or, if "extra Ecclesiam Anglicanam," in the substitute for Divinity) before the Public Examiners. The ordinary Examination in Divinity is not, however, required from those who obtain a Class in the School of Theology.

In the CLASSICAL SCHOOL every Candidate must be examined in Divinity* (except those who are Candidates for Honours in the School of Theology) and in one Latin and one Greek author at the least. The term "Divinity" comprises the four Gospels and the Acts of the Apostles in Greek, the History contained in the Books of the Old and New Testaments and the subjects of the Books, the Thirty-nine Articles, and the Evidences of Religion. Of the two authors one must be a philosopher, the other an historian, and neither may be the same with either of the two which the Candidate brought in for Responsions, unless he now brings in as many as four authors. The Examination consists of passages set for translation into English and for construing, and of questions to be answered both on paper and orally.

Such Candidates for Honours may bring in one or more of the Apostolical Epistles with or without some part of Ecclesiastical History, and any Classical writers on History, Rhetoric, the Art of Poetry, and Ethical or Political Science, which subjects may be illustrated by Modern Authors ; in connection with Ancient History they are examined in Chronology, Geography, and Antiquities ; and they may be called upon to compose in Latin and Greek as well as in English. With Candidates for the first two Classes Logic is indispensable.

In the MATHEMATICAL SCHOOL every Candidate must be examined either in the first six books of Euclid or in the first part of Algebra. The subjects of examination for Honours range over Mixed as well as Pure Mathematics.

In the SCHOOL OF NATURAL SCIENCE every Candidate must be examined in the principles of two out of these three branches of Natural Science, Mechanical Philosophy,

* A Student who is "extra Ecclesiam Anglicanam," on presenting to the Proctor a certificate to that effect from the Head of his College or Hall, is at liberty to substitute for "Divinity" the text and matter of the half of one Greek and one Latin book in the Classical School, taken from the list prescribed to Candidates who do not offer themselves for Honours, or some equivalent amount of work in one of the other Schools ; but such compensatory books or work are not to affect the award of Honours.

Chemistry, Physiology, and further in some one of the particular Sciences dependent on Mechanical Philosophy^{*}. Candidates for Honours must be examined in the principles of all the three branches of Natural Science named above, and are required to be well acquainted also with some one of the particular Sciences which fall under one or other of them^z.

In the SCHOOL OF LAW AND MODERN HISTORY every Candidate must offer himself for examination either in English History from the Conquest to the Accession of Henry VIII. together with that part of English Law which treats of Things Real, or in English History from the Accession of Henry VIII. to the death of William III. together with that part of English Law which treats of Persons and Things Personal; being at liberty however to substitute Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations" or some other approved work on Political Economy, together with the History of British India for either portion of English History, and Roman Law for either portion of English Law. For Honours the subjects of examination are Modern History as far as the year 1789, and Jurisprudence: Candidates must bring in one of the two portions of English Law mentioned above, or Roman Law, and they may bring both; those who do not bring both English and Roman Law must bring in either International Law or some approved work on Political Economy.

In the SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY the subjects of examination are Holy Scripture, Dogmatic and Symbolic Theology, Ecclesiastical History and Patristic Theology, Evidences, Liturgies, and the Criticism and Archæology of both Testaments. On these several subjects certain books accuratissima diligentia tractandi are appointed a year beforehand by a Board. For the highest Honours a good knowledge of Holy Scripture and of Dogmatic Theology is required, and also of some two other of the specified subjects. Even the lowest Honours cannot be gained without a careful study of St. Paul's Epistles and either Dogmatic Theology, or Ecclesiastical History, or Evidences, or Liturgies, or Hebrew.

No Student may offer himself for examination in the Classical School before his twelfth Term, unless his eleventh ^{*} "Mechanical Philosophy" includes the Sciences of Mechanics, Hydrostatics, Pneumatics, Sound, Light, Heat, Electricity, and Magnetism.

^z In each of the three branches of Natural Science named in the text, part of the examination of Candidates for Honours is practical.

The Sciences of Geology, Physical Geography, Botany, Zoology, Mineralogy, besides those which are enumerated in the preceding note, are regarded as falling under one or other of the three great branches named above.

Term happens to be Easter Term, in which case he may present himself in his eleventh. Any Student who does not aim at Honours may be examined in the School of Mathematics, or of Natural Science, or of Law and Modern History, as soon as he has satisfied the Moderators. No one under any circumstances can obtain Honours in any School after his eighteenth Term. Honours are given in four Classes in each School, the names of the Candidates being placed alphabetically in each Class; the names of all the rest who pass the examination are printed likewise.

For the degree of Master of Arts there is no further Examination or Exercise.

In Music.

1. Candidates for the degree of B.Mus. are required to pass two Examinations and to compose a piece of Music. The first Examination is held once a-year in Michaelmas Term, by the Professor of Music, the Choragus, and some other Graduate nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors and approved by Convocation, and is conducted partly in writing, partly viva voce, in four-part harmony. The second examination is also held once a-year in Easter or Act Term by the same Examiners, and is conducted partly in writing, partly viva voce, in five-part harmony, in the History of Music, in the use of musical instruments, and in the form and structure of the works of such distinguished composers as shall be designated by the Professor of Music. Before any Candidate can present himself for this second examination, he must not only produce the Testamur of having passed the first examination, but must also have submitted for the approval of the Examiners a piece of Music in five-part harmony, with an accompaniment for at least five stringed instruments; together with a written assurance that the whole of this piece of Music is of his own composition.

2. A Bachelor of Music wishing to proceed to the degree of Doctor is required to pass an Examination conducted wholly in writing by the Examiners above mentioned, and to compose a piece of Vocal Music of eight parts with an accompaniment for a full orchestra, which, when approved, is to be performed in public, and a copy of it is to be deposited in the Music School.

In Civil Law.

No one may be admitted a Student in Civil Law until he has passed all the Examinations required for the degree of B.A.

1. Candidates for the degree of B.C.L. must pass an Examination which is held every year in full Act Term by the Regius Professor of Civil Law, the Vinerian Professor of Common Law, and some other person, who must be a Doctor of Civil Law or a Bachelor of four years' standing in that faculty, nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and approved by Convocation. It is conducted partly in writing, partly viva voce, in the four books of the Institutes of Justinian or some part of them, and in some work illustrative either of the Institutes or of the Science of Civil Law, as, Jo. Gottl. Heineccii Recitationes in Elementa Juris Civilis secundum ordinem Institutionum, or, Arnoldi Vinnii in quatuor libros Institutionum Imperialium Commentarius, or some other work of this sort, of which the Regius Professor is to give public notice six months before. No one is to be admitted to this Examination before his twentieth Term. Each Candidate must give the Regius Professor notice of his intention to present himself three days before the Examination is to begin, and must at the same time shew that he has passed the Second Public Examination for the degree of B.A.

2. A Bachelor of Civil Law wishing to proceed to the degree of Doctor is required to read publicly within the precinct of the Schools in the presence of the Regius Professor a Dissertation composed by himself on some subject pertaining to Civil Law approved by the Professor; and to deliver to him a copy of it.

In Medicine.

No one may be admitted a Student in Medicine until he has passed all the Examinations required for the degree of B.A.

1. Candidates for the degree of B.M. are required to pass two Examinations, each of which is held yearly in full Michaelmas Term, usually in November, the first by the Regius Professor of Medicine and three persons who have been admitted to Regency either as Masters of Arts or as Doctors, and who are nominated yearly by the Vice-Chancellor subject to the approval of Convocation; the second by the Regius Professor and two Doctors of Medicine nominated in like manner. Each Examination is conducted partly in writing, partly viva voce, and part of each is practical. The subjects of the first Examination are Human Anatomy and Physiology, Comparative Anatomy and Physiology to a certain extent, and those parts of Mechanical Philosophy, Botany, and Chemistry which illustrate Medicine. The subjects of the second Examination are the Theory and Practice of Medicine (including diseases of women and children), the Materia Medica, Therapeutics, Pathology, the principles of Surgery and Midwifery, Medical Jurisprudence, and General Hygiene. Every Candidate at this second Examination is to be examined in two of the ancient authors, Hippocrates, Aretæus, Galen, and Celsus, or in one of those four and in some modern author approved by the Regius Professor.

Before a Candidate is admitted to the first of these two Examinations, he must have completed eight Terms from the date of his Testamur in one of the Schools at the Second Public Examination for the degree of B.A., unless he was placed in the First or Second Class in the School of Natural Science, in which case, if he received from the Public Examiners a special Certificate of his attainments in Mechanical Philosophy, Chemistry, or Botany, he may be admitted to this Examination at once, and need not then be examined again in any Science specified in such Certificate. Before a Candidate is admitted to the second Examination, he must have completed sixteen Terms from the date of the same Testamur and two years from the date of his Testamur in the first Medical Examination, and must deliver to the Regius Professor satisfactory Certificates of his attendance at some Hospital of good repute. Every one intending to be a Candidate at either Examination is required to give the Professor notice of his intention a fortnight at least before the week in which the Examination is to be held.

No one from another University can be incorporated as a Graduate in Medicine without passing these two Examinations.

2. A Bachelor of Medicine wishing to proceed to the degree of Doctor is required to read publicly within the precinct of the Schools in the presence of the Regius Professor a Dissertation composed by himself on some Medical subject approved by the Professor, and to deliver to him a copy of it.

† Such modern authors are Morgagni, Sydenham, Boerhaave.

In Divinity.

EXERCISES. 1. A Candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity is required to read two Dissertations before the Regius Professor in the Divinity School upon subjects which have been previously submitted to the Professor for his approval.

No one can be admitted to the degree without exhibiting his Letters of Priest's Orders, or a Certificate from the Registrar of the diocese where he was ordained stating that he had obtained them.

2. A Bachelor of Divinity wishing to proceed to the degree of Doctor is to read in the Divinity School three exegetical Lectures upon portions of Holy Scripture.

A Master of Arts who has completed fifteen years from his admission to Regency may, with the consent of Convocation, take the two degrees in Divinity by accumulation, that is, both at the same time, doing the Exercises for one of the two only, whichever he may choose.

SUBSCRIPTIONS AND OATHS ON TAKING DEGREES.

No Subscription or Declaration or Oath of any kind is required from any person upon being admitted to the position of S.C.L. or S.M., or to any of the degrees of B.A., M.A., B.C.L., B.M., or of B.Mus. or D.Mus.

Before admission to the degree of Bachelor or Doctor in Divinity, every person is required to subscribe the Thirty-Nine Articles and the three Articles in the 36th Canon, and to take the following Oaths, 1. to observe the Statutes, Privileges, Customs, and Liberties of the University, 2. to act faithfully, creditably, and honestly in the two Houses of Congregation and Convocation, especially in all that concerns Graces for degrees and in Elections.

DEGREES GRANTED TO ABSENT PERSONS.

A Bachelor of Arts, or of Civil Law, or of Medicine, resident in any British colony, may have the degree of Master of Arts, or of Doctor of any of the three superior faculties, conferred upon him in his absence. For this purpose, he must of course attain the Standing requisite for each degree, and obtain the Grace of his College or Hall; he must transmit letters testimonial of his good conduct and character, signed, if he be in Holy Orders, either by the Bishop or the Archdeacon of the colony, or, if he be a layman, by either the Bishop, the Archdeacon, or the Governor of the colony, or by a Judge in the Supreme Court of it ; he must also transmit to the Vice-Chancellor satisfactory proof that he has subscribed to the Declaration of Assent before mentioned ; and, if he desires the degree of Doctor of Civil Law or of Medicine, he must compose the requisite Dissertation and send it to the Regius Professor of the faculty ; or, if he desires the degree of Doctor of Divinity, he must compose two Disputations on some theological subject proposed to him by the Regius Professor of Divinity, and his Disputations must be approved by the Professor.

INCORPORATION.

Members of the Universities of Cambridge or Dublin may be incorporated, that is, received as Members of this University at their own standing or degree, provided they have kept as much residence in their own University as would have been required of them here. An Undergraduate can count no Term but what he has kept by a residence of six weeks. A Graduate must have kept nine Terms by a residence of at least the greater part of each of them before he was admitted to his first degree. Bachelors and Doctors in Divinity are required to subscribe the Declaration of Assent and to promise to observe the Statutes, &c., of the University. But no Doctor of any of the three faculties can be incorporated without the express consent of the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor and three other Doctors of the faculty, and the two Proctors, or of the greater part of them.

CLASS LISTS.

Down to the end of the last century the Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts was little better than a mockery, and, if a Candidate shewed any superior attainments, there was no mark of honourable distinction that could be given to him. The first remedy for this state of things was applied by a Statute made in the year 1800, and the system then introduced has since received various amendments and improvements, of which those that relate to Honours may be stated here.

1. By the Statute of 1800, which came into operation in Michaelmas Term 1801, it was left to the option of each Candidate, whether he would offer himself for the ordinary Examination which was held in every Term, or for a more strict Examination in Easter Term, at which Honours were awarded according to the merits of the Candidates. At this Examination, those who most eminently distinguished themselves were to be classed as Candidates "qui se Examinatoribus Publicis MAXIME commendaverunt." Of these there could be no more than twelve; and, if more than that number appeared to the Examiners worthy of distinction, they were to be described as Candidates "qui se Examinatoribus Publicis EGREGIE commendaverunt." The names in each division were arranged in order of merit, and were published. The Candidates were examined in Mathematics as well as in Classics, and the Honours were awarded for attainments in both conjointly.

2. In 1807 two stated times for the Examination were appointed, one in Michaelmas, the other in Easter Term; and it was enacted, that all Candidates, whether for Honours or not, should be examined in one course in one or other of those Terms; that all who passed the Examination in either Term should be arranged in three Classes, in the first two of which should be placed, alphabetically in each, the names of those who passed with more or less distinction, the third Class comprising all the rest; that this Class List should be twofold, having one side for Literæ Humaniores or Classics, the other for Disciplinæ Mathematicæ et Physicæ or Mathematics; and that the names in the first two Classes should be published. It must be remarked, that, although the number of names in the Third Class is given in the following pages, it was not printed in the actual Class Lists issued at the time.

3. In 1809 the Second Class was divided into two by a line, the names above and below that line being placed in alphabetical order severally ; so that, though nominally but two, there were really three Classes of honorary distinction.

4. In 1825 the name of "Third Class" was given to that which had been the lower half of the Second Class, that which had been the Third was entitled the "Fourth Class," and the number of the names in it was printed at the foot of the Class List.

5. In 1830* the number of Classes was increased to five, that which had been the Fourth being made the Fifth, and the first four being designed for honorary distinction. It was also provided that those who were not Candidates for Honours in the Classical School should be examined separately from those who were, the former being taken first, and Mathematical Candidates being examined first of all in either series. At the same time permission was given to the Examiners to place in the Fourth Class in Classics any Candidate whom they might think worthy of it, even though he had not offered himself as a Candidate for Honours ; and, as a choice between Logic and four Books of Euclid was now allowed to those who were not Candidates for Honours, whereas Logic was before required from every one, that permission was understood as applying to the Fourth Class in Mathematics likewise. This enactment took effect in 1831.

6. The Statutes which established the present course of examination were accepted by Convocation in 1849, 1850, and 1869, but did not come into operation, so far as regards the final Examination for the degree, until Easter Term, 1853, and Trinity Term, 1870, respectively. From the latter time the Class List of the Public Examiners has been fivefold, according to the number of their Schools ; but the term "Class" has been used in reference to honourable distinction only. There are four such Classes for each School, corresponding in all respects to the first four Classes of the Statute of 1830. The names of all the other Candidates, who pass without distinction, and who would have made the "Fifth Class" of 1830, are published like the rest, and not merely their number given. And marks denoting the Honours previously awarded by the Moderators to any Candidate are affixed to his name in the List.

* In 1826 it was provided that Candidates for Honours in Mathematics should be the first examined in the Classical School, but no change was made in the arrangement of the Class List.

The following pages exhibit the Lists of Honours and Classes which have been published by Public Examiners and Moderators from the first establishment of their several Examinations. After the year 1806 the names of those who issued each List are printed with it: the names of the Public Examiners for the previous years have been already given at page 43.

In the Lists issued by Moderators there were at first but two divisions of Honour for each of the two Schools of Classics and Mathematics; but from Michaelmas Term, 1854, there have been three. In each division the Candidates' names are placed in alphabetical order.

The notes at the foot of the pages are intended for the purpose of identification only, and are therefore limited to changes of College or of name and matters of that kind. Other notes, which have been added in the Oxford Calendar, are superseded in this volume by the Index of Names.

CLASS LISTS ISSUED BY PUBLIC EXAMINERS.

Although the word "Class" was not used in connection with the Public Examinations before the year 1807, the names of those who gained Honours in the preceding years are included under this heading; but their Honours are expressed in the terms which the Examiners employed in awarding them.

INDEX OF NAMES.

In this Index the following particulars require to be noticed.

Cl. is never used for Class, but always for Classics or Classical.

1 Cl., 2 Cl., &c., signify First Class, Second Class, &c., in Classics at the final Examinations. Cl. Exam. signifies an Examiner in the Classical School.

Math. is used for Mathematics or Mathematical.

Phys. is used in reference to the School of Physi's or Scientia Naturalis; Hist. in reference to the School of Law and Modern History; and Theol. in reference to the School of Theology.

1 Cl. Mod., 1 Math. Mod., &c., signify the Honours awarded by Moderators in their respective Schools.

The lower portion of the Second Class within the period 1809—1824 is indicated by the figure 3, as being really equivalent to a Third Class.

The surnames in the Class List, and consequently in this Index, are those which were given in to the Proctors before the several Examinations.
